EYES OF EUROPE TURN TO ROME; PEACE AT STAKE

MacDonald, Duce in Parley Today.

Britain-Russia at Odds

Another clash between European powers developed yesterday when Russia flatly refused to release four British subjects — engineering employes — who face trial by the soviets for sabotage. Great Britain gave an ultimatum that they must be released or it will break trade relations with Russia and withdraw its ambassador. Page 8.

ROME, March 17.—Rome expects to take the center of the stage for three days in the European disarmament drama with the arrival here tomorrow noon of Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, his daughter, Ishbel, and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon aboard a trimotor seaplane from Genoa. A spectacular touch has been given the visit by Premier Mussolini's assignment of Air Minister Balbo to pilot the British party here.

Officialdom of Rome is jubilant over the British visit, which is heralded on the front pages of all newspapers as an outstanding triumph of Mussolinian diplomacy.

Will Have Air Escort.

Gen. Balbo left Rome in a plane for Genoa today. He will meet the Britons in Christopher Columbus' town to morrow when they arrive from Geneva in two special railway coaches sent for them by the Italian government.

They will take off about 9:30 a. m. and will be escorted by a squadron of Italian civilian planes and one big bombing plane on the three hours' flight to Rome.

From Ostia, Rome's seaplane port, they will come to the capital by auto. The Britons probably will reside at the British embassy here. In addition to formal dinners and conferences with Il Duce the British ministers will be received by King Victor Emmanuel and will pay a visit to the tomb of the unknown soldier and probably to the Fascist exposition.

Eyes of Europe on Rome.

Italians tonight say that MacDonald's visit is one of the most important of all post-war conferences and will be fraught with consequences to future European peace.

Chancellor Hitler of Germany, according to the Rome press, is watching the conference with the deepest concern, while Paris is pictured as gnashing its teeth at the idea of the Italians and British getting together at a party of two.

At the same time the Fascist press is preserving complete silence about the Italian attitude toward the latest disarmament proposals enunciated at Geneva by MacDonald, and nothing is known from official sources about how Italy is disposed toward them.

BRITAIN IS PLEASED

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—The British foreign office is pleased by reports from Geneva concerning the reception given Prime Minister MacDonald's disarmament plan, and is nursing high hopes of his success after his week-end visit with Premier Mussolini, who is relied on to throw his weight in favor of European peace.

Whatever happens eventually, MacDonald, by his bold action of throwing a definite plan into the disarmament conference, has gained time and prevented an immediate breakdown. He has given the conference something to talk about and think over for some time to come, for the plan is so detailed and serious it cannot be turned down without consideration even by France or Germany.

Reports from Geneva indicate that the reception of the plan by the French delegates was much better than was indicated by the Paris press. The reception given it by all the other nations on the whole was favorable, the United States being described as wholeheartedly in favor of it.

Daladier Will Visit London.

Edouard Daladier, French premier, will come to London next Wednesday to meet MacDonald, who is expected home on that day from his jaunt to Rome.

In this connection a conference is going on here today between Georges Bonnet, French finance minister, and Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer. Ostensibly it is concerned only with the agenda of the world economic conference, but it is learned that war debts, the gold

SKETCHES OF THE NEWS

Actress-Wife, Fairbanks Jr. Are Separated

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—[Special.] The marriage idyl of two of moviedom's foremost young stars, Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., was shattered tonight. Miss Crawford announced that they were separating.

Miss Crawford's announcement came in the wake of sensational suits filed yesterday against Fairbanks by Jorgen Dietz, young chemical engineer. Dietz formerly lived in Hollywood, where his former wife, Solveig Dietz, described as a striking beauty, was employed in a movie studio scenario department.

"I want it definitely understood," said Miss Crawford, "that these damage actions have nothing to do with the decision to separate. I have known about the Dietz case all along. The charges are utterly ridiculous. If I can aid Douglas by appearing in court I will go there without hesitation.

"It is merely a case of two persons being unable to get along together. When two people cannot get along the right thing to do is to part. We shall be able to learn whether it is best to continue to live apart or to kiss and make up."

Hopes for Reconciliation.

"There is no other woman in the world for me," he said. "I feel sure this is only a temporary measure. I am going to send her flowers every day, send her telegrams, and I'll call her up every day. I love Joan."

Both said that no divorce steps were contemplated. They disclosed jointly that in reality they had been separated under the roof of their home in Brentwood for a year, but had appeared in public at times to allay reports of an estrangement. It was only a coincidence, they said, that their separation came so close upon the heels of the Dietz suits.

Suits Demand $70,000.

Mrs. Dietz's path crossed that of young Fairbanks, according to the engineer's suits demanding an aggregate of $70,000 damages. Dietz accused young Fairbanks of alienation of affections, for which he demanded $25,000. He also accused him of "disgracing and dishonoring him" by participating in an asserted relationship with Mrs. Dietz from Feb. 1, 1931, to Feb. 15, 1932, for which he demanded another $25,000.

Dietz further charged that Fairbanks caused him to be taken in custody by operatives of the Los Angeles district attorney's office twice last December when Dietz alleges he was "browbeaten" in an effort to induce him to sign an agreement not to bring any action against Fairbanks. In this case Dietz asked $20,000 from Fairbanks and the actor's business manager, Michael Levee.

Woman Now in Denmark.

The former Mrs. Dietz, who obtained a divorce from her engineer-husband, is now in Copenhagen, Denmark, her home before she came to Hollywood.

Dietz himself was married yesterday in Phoenix, Ariz. His new wife is Lucy Doraine, film beauty, and the former wife of Michael Curtiz, movie director. She was married to Dietz under the name of Helen Kovacs.

Miss Doraine's name also is involved in the Dietz-Fairbanks case. Dietz is reported to have offered to sell a necklace of Miss Doraine's to young Fairbanks for $6,000. The actor branded the "offer" as an attempt at "outright extortion."

District Attorney Buron Fitts in discussing this episode today said that an examination disclosed that the necklace was not worth more than $300. He explained that Dietz and Miss Doraine had been "questioned" at his office, but had not been "arrested."

Hays' Name Enters Case.

The name of Will Hays, long identified with motion pictures in the rôle of "dictator," entered the case when Mr. Fitts said that he first became interested in the matter because he "understood Will Hays was in favor of having it investigated."

The necklace matter was dropped, the district attorney said, after young Fairbanks declined to sign a complaint charging extortion.

Miss Crawford and Fairbanks Jr. were married in New York June 3, 1929. Hollywood had pointed to them as an ideally happy couple until the rift came today. Young Fairbanks is the son of Douglas Fairbanks, who is the husband of Mary Pickford.

Boy Debtor in Jail; Nothing to Do But Study

William Weber, 15 years old, 1521 North Mason avenue, a sophomore at the Fenwick High school, may be in jail but he hopes that the bars will not prevent him from keeping up his school studies during the next six months. The boy, who will have to serve at least six months because neither he nor his father can pay a $2,500 judgment resulting from an automobile accident, says that he will have an advantage over his classmates inasmuch as he has nothing to distract him from his studies. He has nothing to do but study.

"It is not so bad," said young Weber yesterday as he was completing his third day in jail. "Of course, it is not like home, but I guess I will have to make the best of it.

Time for Study and Talk.

"I will have it on my classmates because I will have to go to summer school whether I like it or not. And then again, I have nothing to do in this place but study or talk with the five or six others, who, I am told, are always imprisoned in this debtors' department of the jail.

Warden David Moneypenny is taking precautions to prevent Weber from mingling with youths who have criminal tendencies. For this reason a plan was worked out whereby William's school lesson assignments are prepared for him at the high school and brought to the jail by his father. He will not be allowed to attend the regular jail school, but the instructors are available to him to assist him in studying his lessons. The jail school has as its pupils the younger prisoners who are waiting trial for various crimes.

The debtors' department is segregated from the rest of the jail. It is a large dormitory on the fifth floor. The prisoners do not sleep in cells.

Six Debtors as Companions.

It was learned that one of the six other inmates of the debtors' departments was Frank Carney, 49, of 2724 Burr Oak avenue, Blue Island, one time lieutenant of Raymond Hackett, Blue Island gambler. The other inmates are J. Cunningham, 49, of 4435 Malden street; Leo Staruska, 38, of 4631 South Honore street; Ray Urbanczyk, 18, 8800 Escanaba avenue; Charles Williams, 6336 Kimbark avenue, and Adam Sampson, a janitor at 229 Lake Shore drive.

The prisoners in the debtors' department are all in jail for the same reason as young Weber. They were involved in automobile accidents and were unable to pay the judgments obtained by the injured parties. As long as the injured parties pay $3.50 per week board, a debtor can be kept in jail for a six months' period. Then they can apply for release under the pauper's act.

HOUSE INSISTS SENATORS VOTE FOR 3.2 BEER

Agreement on Bill Expected Monday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Final legislative approval of the beer bill was delayed until Monday today when the house summarily rejected the senate amendments to the measure and called for a conference to adjust differences between the two houses.

The senate action cutting down the alcoholic content of the newly legalized brew from 3.2 per cent by weight to 3.05 furnished the main obstacle to quick approval of the measure as passed by the senate. The house also objected to two other amendments, one forbidding sales of beer to persons under 16 years of age and the other adding wine to 3.2 per cent beverages legalized.

Plan Informal Discussions.

As the senate has adjourned over until Monday no legal action can be taken by the two houses to set up a conference committee to consider the differences between the senate and house bills until Monday. Leaders said that in the interests of expediting the measure arrangements would be made for informal discussions of the conflicting amendments by senate and house representatives tomorrow. The opinion was expressed that a bill satisfactory to both houses will be ready for quick action Monday noon. Arrival of the beer bill at the White House Monday night was predicted.

It seemed certain tonight that the senate will give in to the house on the question of alcoholic content and agree to a 3.2 per cent beer as called for in the original beer bill as it passed the house. There were indications the Borah amendment prohibiting sales to minors also would be dropped. Wine may be retained in the bill.

Chairman Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.] of the senate finance committee said he believed the beer bill would be before President Roosevelt not later than Monday night. House leaders asserted they would hold out beyond that date unless the senate gave in on the alcoholic content amendment. Southern senators led the fight to reduce the alcohol to 3.05, the figure fixed by a British liquor commission as nonintoxicating.

Trouble in Sight for Bill.

That trouble was in sight for the senate amendment was evident the moment the revised bill was placed before the house today. Opponents of the 3.05 amendment moved at once that the bill be sent to conference and rewritten to provide for 3.2 beer. Representative Malcolm Tarver [Dem., Ga.], a dry, objected to a unanimous agreement to take up the beer bill. House leaders then brought in a special rule under which the bill was brought up for revision.

Wets utilized the hour of debate allowed on the measure to attack the senate for weakening the bill and to take another crack at the few drys in the house. Representative Fred A Britten [Rep., Ill.] led the fight against the 3.05 amendment, asserting it had been inserted by southern dry senators and representatives of cereal beverage interests.

Representative John J. O'Connor [Dem., N. Y.] opened the debate with an explanation of the senate amendments, the most important of which he said, was the one lowering the alcoholic content of the proposed legal beer to 3.05 per cent.

Calls on House to Stand Fast.

Twice within a few months, he recalled, the house has passed beer bills legalizing 3.2 per cent beer, and he expressed the hope that the house would stick by its guns and force the senate to agree that such alcoholic content is not intoxicating.

The New Yorker pointed out that about 23 state legislatures already have legalized the manufacture of 3.2 per cent beer, and explained that the national legalization of 3.05 per cent beer would force them to reenact their state legislation.

The New Yorker attacked the senate amendment sponsored by dry Senator William E. Borah [Radical, Idaho] under which it would be illegal to "sell or give" beer to persons under 16 years of age. He declared it preposterous to state that 3.2 beer is nonintoxicating and then to forbid the sale of "this harmless" beverage to children. In any event, he added, the regulation of the sale of the beverage was a matter for the states.

Warns of Snooping in Homes.

This amendment of the senate, said Mr. O'Connor, "will revive fed

Seize Writer of Threats to Patten Widow

Axel Peterson, a landscape gardener, who wrote five threatening letters to Mrs. James A. Patten, widow of the wheat king, demanding $50,000 as a loan, was arrested by Evanston police last night. A policewoman, dressed in clothes belonging to Mrs. Patten, lured him into a trap.

The prisoner is 52 years old, married and father of three daughters, and lives at 1212 Elmwood avenue, Evanston. He confessed authorship of the notes. According to Police Chief William O. Freeman, who directed investigation of the case, he may be turned over to federal authorities for prosecution.

Letters Sent from Chicago.

All five letters were mailed from Chicago, the first on March 3 and the fifth last Thursday. The first message read in part:

"Will you loan $50,000 for two years? I must die or have $50,000 by the 10th. If you refuse, you will die too."

Peterson's second letter, sent March 6, cautioned Mrs. Patten that "the gang are on guard," and the third, dated March 10, warned her that if she reported to police it would be "too bad for you." The fourth note, mailed March 13, mentioned that a "pineapple (bomb) is ready." The final message, which led to Peterson's arrest, stated:

"You must have money by Friday at 7:30. Walk south on Ridge avenue till you meet party. Have packet in your hand. It's life or death. Leave house at 7:30. All will be O. K. Don't tell."

Policewoman in Disguise.

At 7:30 last night, as specified in the instructions, a woman left the Patten home at 1426 Ridge avenue, Evanston, and began walking south. From a distance she appeared to be the millionaire widow. In reality she was Mrs. Vera Everett, a policewoman, attired in Mrs. Patten's clothes. Under one arm she carried a dummy packet. She held a revolver in her hand.

The policewoman walked south slowly. Detectives hid along the street. Following was an old automobile containing Lieut. Carl Ekman and a squad. After a while they noticed a man keeping pace with the policewoman on the other side of the street. It was Peterson.

Arrested by Police.

Mrs. Everett walked south in Ridge avenue for seven blocks, with Peterson opposite. Several times he started across the street, but turned back. Finally he faced about, without crossing the street, and started for his home. Lieut. Ekman arrested him there.

At the station Peterson confessed to Chief Freeman that he had written the letters. He needed $8,000, he said, to save his home from foreclosure. He selected Mrs. Patten for "the loan," he added, because he knew her late husband.

With Peterson's arrest the special guard at the Patten home, placed there on March 6, was lifted. Mrs. Patten's son, Jack, went to the station and congratulated the police. His mother was reported to be ill.

AN IRISHMAN 100 YEARS OLD ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Kendall, Wis., March 17.—(AP)—James Sheeran—100 years old this St. Patrick's day—walked abroad today, sniffed the air and observed that it is nigh onto corn planting time.

"A century ago, just fancy that," he said. "There were great doings on the banks of the River Shannon a hundred years ago this morning, for that's where I first saw the light o' day."

In some respects the venerable Mr. Sheeran is a different Irishman. No clay pipes are in evidence, for he never smokes. And he knows nothing of Irish whisky, for he never drank.

'COMPLETE MY PROGRAM NOW!' F. D. PROPOSAL

Abandon Plan for Legislative Recess.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The Roosevelt push toward better days will proceed unabated until the job is done, it was made known today, as the highlights of the President's full program for recovery were revealed.

The President and his cabinet and leaders of congress came to a decision today to hold congress in continuous session, instead of having it recess for several weeks, as had been planned previously.

So, in the same rapid fire order as Mr. Roosevelt has shown to the country in the last fortnight, in which he has met problems of the banking emergency, government economy, farm relief and beer, the President will put forth the remaining features of his program.

Mr. Roosevelt hopes to have congress whip through the entire program by late April or early in May.

Program as Revealed.

The program, as revealed today, will include the following projects:

Legislation to revive the American railroad system, permitting consolidations, adjusting rates and providing for refinancings.

Laws to curb speculation, to end Wall street gambling and prevent a recurrence of the profligate days of '28 and '29.

Permanent measures for unemployment relief, including public works construction, power developments and other self-supporting projects.

Changes in existing banking laws, strengthening weak points in the structure, aimed to prevent a recurrence of the injurious practices of the past. It was made plain that no radical or sweeping revision of banking laws is contemplated.

Several other major points remain in the Roosevelt program, but, pending a more extensive study of what should be done, are being withheld.

Increases Presidential Burden.

The President is aware that he must toil "twice as hard" during the next few weeks as he had anticipated in his earlier schedule, which contemplated a long recess while his detailed planning was going along.

But he and his advisers, eager not to impede the wave of confidence which has swept the country during the presentation of his first proposals, and desirous of pushing the rest of the program through congress while the members are giving him overwhelming support, have decided that they would keep on burning midnight oils.

If the President is not able to keep pace with congress he will then be able to direct a short recess, it was pointed out.

Ready for Economy Reorganization.

While congress is acting upon the stages of the President's program, and he is devising new work, he will also be carrying on his reorganization of the government and the first step in this phase will be taken early next week.

The President has ready at his hand executive orders which will cut hundreds of thousands of dollars from the federal budget as soon as he signs the economy bill, passed by both houses and to be presented for his signature on Monday.

As soon as he signs the bill, it was made known today, Mr. Roosevelt plans to issue orders which will cut off payments of compensation and pensions to thousands of war veterans who have been receiving federal money for disabilities having no relation to their military service. The Roosevelt budget director, Lewis Douglas, has prepared the orders, which the President intends to put into effect immediately.

Then, with as much rapidity as is possible, the budget director will present orders for abolishing many bureaus, consolidating many others, all this in line with the administration pledge to cut from 700 million dollars to a full billion from the present federal expenditures.

Hopeful of No Tax Raises.

The President was represented today as entertaining high hopes that with the swinging of the economy ax and with additional revenues from the tax on beer, the federal budget will be balanced without any levying of new taxes, and without increasing the old ones.

At present he is unable to guess the amount of taxes and other receipts which will be poured into the federal till this year, but when some of his measures begin to take effect he will be able to determine, it was said, just what condition the budget will be in.

He is known to be hopeful that an immediate spurt to business, which he and all his advisers are anxiously awaiting, will yield larger returns under present tax rates.

DELAY FARM BILL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The Roosevelt farm bill, fourth of the major measures to come from the President since the 4th of March, is headed for hard sledding.

Its fate, it was agreed on Capitol Hill today, will depend on whether the President is wholeheartedly behind it and willing to use the whip of his influence to drive it through.

If the present schedule is carried out, the farm bill is to start through the house next Monday. But it is not to travel on the lightning fast track which the banking, economy, and beer bills have enjoyed.

Fear Arbitrary Power.

The Topeka campaign pledge to come to the aid of agriculture has turned into a piece of legislation designed to give a single man, the secretary of agriculture, the authority of a dictator to fix the prices of basic farm commodities and therefore of essential foods, to curtail and regulate production of those commodities, to permit processors and handlers of them to form combinations to increase prices regardless of the anti-trust laws, and to regulate the marketing of those commodities in any way he sees fit.

More than one senator and representative as the agricultural committees of both houses met for an all day session, acknowledged himself staggered by the demand made upon him for support of such a measure.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Assistant Secretary Rexford Tugwell, and Mordecai Ezekial, economic adviser, appeared before the two committees to explain the product of their draftsmanship.

The comment of one senator as he left the committee room was that the hearing had proved that several senators present had more knowledge of farm relief and a better understanding of the bill than did the secretary.

More Cost to Consumer.

One point, however, Mr. Wallace was able to make clear, and that is that the measure if put into effect, will mean placing an added food cost of 800 million dollars a year on the consumer.

The entire senate committee was present at the hearing, held behind closed doors. Nearly 20 other senators dropped in to listen to the discussion.

One of the points raised, and one which the sponsors of the bill had difficulty in answering, was as to the provision permitting the secretary to lease lands and take them out of production. The objection was made that if the intention of the bill were realized and farm prices raised farmers would exact more and more rental for their lands or be unwilling to take them out of production at all.

Millers, Packers Study It.

Throughout the day, representatives of the millers and packers met in conference, studying the bill in detail and preparing to take a stand toward it.

The millers are definitely opposed to the measure as they were to the original allotment plan, asserting that the processing tax to be placed upon them will raise prices and drive consumers to competitive foods.

The packers, through W. W. Woods, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers were not ready to announce their final position. Though opposed to the original allotment plan, some of the packers have been attracted to the new bill because of its permission to form trade combinations.

'BEER MAKES FAT,' IS W. C. T. U. WARNING TO THE 'GIRLISH FIGURES'

Women who would retain the girlish figure must eschew beer, the W. C. T. U. warned yesterday in a statement issued from the Evanston headquarters. "If women take to the beer habit," the statement warned, "they have only to look at some of the beer drinkers in the London slums to see what is ahead of them. Beer makes fat."

KEWANEE POLICE VET DIES.

Kewanee, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—John M. Davis, formerly of Joliet and Chicago, and 23 years a member of the Kewanee police department, and for 12 years an alderman, died today at the age of 68.

STATE TO LOAD NEW BEER WITH SEVERAL TAXES

Gov. Horner at Springfield let it be known yesterday that the state would probably levy a tax of 1 cent a gallon on the beverage. On top of that will be the sales tax, which will probably amount to 1 cent a glass, making the price of beer over the bar 11 cents a glass.

The United States government will collect $1,000 a year from each brewery and $5 per barrel on all beer produced. A city license may also be required for the brewery—certainly one for the dispensary, which in Chicago under present rates is $300 a year, but which may be $500 or more after June 30.

In 1917 Illinois breweries produced 6,225,000 barrels of beer, 31 gallons per barrel. On the basis of a state tax of 1 cent a gallon this would bring in $1,929,750 to the state treasury. If the retailers collect a sales tax of 1 cent a glass, at 400 glasses in a barrel the state's take will be $24,900,000, provided as much beer is consumed as in 1917, and the government, with its $5 a barrel, will get $31,125,000 from Illinois.

HOUSE DEMANDS SENATORS O. K. 3.2% BEER BILL

Agreement on Measure Is Expected Monday.

eral snooping into private homes—the very thing which spelled the end of the national prohibition laws. If a mother or father saw fit to give their child a teaspoonful of beer they would be liable to federal prosecution under this amendment which forbids not only the sale, but the giving of beer to minors under sixteen."

Representative Britten took the floor to ask that the house insist that 3.2 per cent beer was the logical content. The content of 3.05 per cent was the English recipe, he declared, while the testimony of American scientists was to the effect that 3.2 per cent beer was nonintoxicating and health giving.

"If we just have to go abroad for our recipe," said the Chicagoan, "let's go to Germany where they make the best beer in the world—outside of the United States."

SENATOR LEWIS CONFINED TO HIS HOME WITH COLD

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was confined to his home today as the result of a severe cold contracted at the funeral of Mayor Anton J. Cermak in Chicago.

Pressed into constant action on the senate floor by his duties as Democratic whip, the senator's condition became worse yesterday. Running a fever, he visited the senate physician who cautioned him against the approach of pneumonia and ordered him to bed.

Up and about his apartment, the senator said tonight that he spent a bad night last night, but expected to be completely recovered by tomorrow.

Vermont Works Toward Dry Law Repeal Session

Montpelier, Vt., March 17.—(AP)—The Vermont house of representatives, with hardly a dissenting voice, today advanced to third reading a bill to provide for a convention on the proposed amendment to the constitution that would repeal the prohibition amendment. A bill to make the Vermont definition of beer and wine conform to the federal definition was referred to the temperance committee.

BREWING COMPANY WITHOUT A BREWERY BEGINS SELLING BEER

A brewing company without a brewery, but which has an option on an old bottling plant at 1123 East 74th street, has salesmen out soliciting orders for 3.2 beer, or any other beer that "may be legally in force on May 15 by act of congress." The customers are asked to pay $1 a case in advance, of which the salesman gets 50 cents.

The Chicago Better Business bureau has investigated the enterprise, incorporated last Nov. 29 as the Chicago Brewing company, "executive offices, suite 711, Transportation building," two floors up from the prohibition headquarters. The bureau terms the proposition "highly speculative." Its officials point out that under the terms of the printed contracts the company is not obligated to deliver beer of a higher alcoholic content than ½ of 1 per cent unless other beer is legal by May 15.

The main objection to the proposition, however, as the Better Business bureau sees it, is that the ultimate price the purchaser will have to pay is not stated in the contracts. The incorporators of the company, which is capitalized at $10,000, are Walter R. Greenlee, Glen Ellyn; Daniel Lubliner, 2660 Winnemac avenue, and F. Stanley Frisch of the Commonwealth hotel.

ROBBED OF TRUCK AND CIGARS.

MASSACHUSETTS LIQUOR PLAN UP TO LEGISLATURE

Boston, Mass., March 17.—(AP)—Proposed legislation for liquor control in Massachusetts provides that all persons wishing to buy intoxicating liquors must purchase a permit, and, having bought a permit, even though they live in towns optionally dry, they may have malt beverages and wine delivered to them. The proposal, with a number of other regulations, is contained in a report by the special commission of liquor control, submitted with a special message by Gov. Ely to the legislature today.

The plan in brief, Gov. Ely said, calls for the creation of an unpaid commission with state-wide control of the liquor traffic and for the handling of alcoholic beverages through a corporation, under state regulation, privately financed.

Malt beverages and wines could be sold for consumption on the premises in carefully regulated hotels, cafés, and clubs. No persons could purchase intoxicating liquors except through the purchase of a permit.

Profits of the "Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages corporation" beyond limited dividends would go to the state. The fee for the purchasers' permit would be $1 a year.

The permits would not be required for the purchase of malt beverages or wines except for deliveries in no license towns.

KRENN AND DATO OUT AS TRUSTEES OF HUGE ESTATE

Lose Control of Edith R. McCormick Trust.

Edwin D. Krenn and Edward S. Dato, who once did a flourishing real estate business under the firm name of Krenn & Dato, with Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick as a partner, have resigned as trustees of the Edith Rockefeller McCormick trust. This was disclosed yesterday.

The double resignation removes Krenn and Dato as managing officers of any part of the involved estate of Mrs. McCormick. They can, however, assert their rights as creditors of the estate. It was said last night that they would do this and would share equally in anything they obtain in the windup of the affairs of the one-time "richest woman in the world."

Krenn Retains Heirship.

Krenn was named heir to five-twelfths of the net estate, under the will of Mrs. McCormick. This heirship, it was asserted, would be held, and the former real estate partners will also move to collect what they can as creditors of the Edith Rockefeller McCormick trust, in which a large part of the fortune of the daughter of John D. Rockefeller was invested—and to a large extent lost, unless real estate values rise rapidly in the near future.

Attorney Robert J. Hilliard, representing Dato, confirmed the fact that Krenn and Dato have a new agreement to share equally in what they can collect. Previous agreements have been abrogated.

One of these agreements provided that Krenn, the Austrian architect who became Mrs. McCormick's closest friend, should give up to Dato all claim to his five-twelfths of the estate, taking in lieu of this a pension of $24,000 annually, which Dato agreed to pay him.

Plan Is Dropped.

At the time the agreement was reached, it appeared that Dato had an excellent bargain. But a close examination of the estate by the Chicago Title and Trust company disclosed there was not enough left to cover this pension and the arrangement was done away with on Jan. 27 of this year.

The Edith Rockefeller McCormick trust was formed to finance the real estate dealings of Krenn and Dato and Mrs. McCormick pledged millions of dollars of stock with it. At the time of her death last August the stocks were sold or pledged to banks and the real estate holdings were heavily mortgaged. However, the Villa Turicum, a $4,000,000 (prosperity value) property in Lake county, is unencumbered. It is, however, unsalable at present.

The heirs, who are the two daughters and son of Mrs. McCormick, and Krenn, are said to be resigned to the fact that there will be nothing to inherit unless times change. With the resignation of Krenn & Dato as managing officials of the trust the Chicago Title and Trust company obtains full control of the estate. Benjamin W. Lawless of the Title and Trust company is sole trustee of the Edith Rockefeller McCormick Trust.

MAKING MONEY, UNCLE SAM'S JOB, GOES INTO HIGH

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—With more money set in circulation by the country's tussle with the banking situation, the bureau of engraving has been forced to step up production to meet the demands upon it for currency.

In a normal year the bureau makes enough paper money to girdle the equator four times.

It makes 2,200 acres of postage stamps yearly, using enough tapioca starch in them to supply all of Greater New York with dessert.

The 240 printing presses supply twelve bank notes every five seconds.

The bureau was set up in 1862 when production of the first paper currency—demand notes—began in this country.

At the start the chief had one room in the attic of the treasury. He had five helpers. Now there are 5,000 employes and the plant covers ten acres.

The vault where the dies and plates are stored is so surrounded by mirrors that a guard standing near the door can see, not only all around the vault, but through a passage underneath it.

In another vault is stored tons of uncut sheets of money and bonds. There a person can pick up a 32 pound package containing $126,000,000.

3 HELD IN N. Y. FOR $500,000 CHICAGO POSTAL ROBBERY

Three men were arrested in New York yesterday in connection with the robbery of registered mail valued at nearly $500,000 in a daring street holdup in Chicago last Dec. 6. Postal inspectors said they recovered $18,000 of the loot in bonds in the home of E. Richard Bazarow, an attorney, who is one of those held.

The others under arrest are Robert Roberto, 35 years old, and Dominick Gentile, 43 years old, both of New York. Details of the capture were not disclosed. Postal inspectors said such revelations would interfere with the subsequent capture of other members of the gang.

Five men took part in the robbery, which occurred in the heart of the loop. Fred Voelsch, a mail carrier, and Frank Stastny, a guard, were accosted in Clark street, near Adams street, shortly after they left the federal building with a regular morning bag of registered mail for the First National bank. The robbers snatched the mail from Voelsch.

The victims and several witnesses gave chase in taxicabs, but the robbers escaped in the traffic, aided by a heavy fog.

METEORITES FALL IN STORM; 2 WOMEN HURT

Spartanburg, S. C., March 17.—(AP)—At least two persons were injured, one seriously, by a storm here tonight which was accompanied by what weather bureau officials described as a shower of meteorites.

During the storm, accompanied by heavy wind, rain, and hail, residents of widely separated points throughout this section telephoned newspapers asking the explanation of a blinding light which was followed by a shower of small objects resembling pebbles.

Window ledges and streets were covered by the matter, which fell in pieces said to weigh about half as much as a one-cent piece.

Weather observers said they never before had seen such a shower, but that a comparatively nearby explosion of a meteor probably was responsible.

Mrs. Eva Heffner, 78, was seriously injured when the wind demolished her home. Her daughter received less serious injuries.

Others in the house were buried in debris, but all were able to extricate themselves without serious injury.

KREUGER'S $100,000 ART COLLECTION IS DISCOVERED IN VAULT

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—Paintings, silverware and rare books valued at $100,000, collected by the late Ivor Kreuger in the prosperous days when he was striving to establish a world match monopoly, were discovered today in a vault of the Goodman warehouse in Jersey City by attorneys who made a visit of inspection under a court order.

One painting, described as a small Rubens, was valued by the searchers at $17,000. Ten other paintings by less well known artists were valued at from $1,000 to $15,000 each. The books and the silver have not yet been listed in detail.

It was observed that 300 small etchings which Kreuger is believed to have collected were not in the vault. Further search will be made for these, which have been valued tentatively at $60,000.

The order permitting inspection was obtained by Emanuel Weitz, Jersey City attorney, representing the Irving Trust company, trustee in bankruptcy for the International Match corporation, from Vice Chancellor James F. Fielder. A previous court order had forbidden removal of the contents of the vault, which had come from the apartment that Kreuger maintained.

5 Boys and 2 Girls Held in West Side Burglaries

Five boys were held as confessed burglars at the Fillmore street station last night and the two sisters of one of them also were held because of the finding of stolen property in their rooms. The boys are Harry Sarris, 14 years old, 3411 Monroe street; Arthur Halpin, 17, of 3524 Harrison street; Orville Hoagland, 17, of 3165 North Clark street; Stanley Ronnan, 16, of 3325 Monroe street, and Roy Judd, 16, of 3114 Madison street. The young women are Mrs. Lillian Howard, 27 years old, and Violet Sarris, 18, sisters of Harry Sarris. The group admitted more than 75 burglaries on the west side.

HOUSE MEMBER OF PENNSYLVANIA ENDS OWN LIFE

Philadelphia, Pa., March 17.—[Special.]—Jacob Matha, an attorney, who was chairman of the ways and means committee of the state house of representatives, was shot and killed today in the bathroom of his home. His death was listed as "accidental" on police records, but friends said he had ended his life as the result of temporary derangement induced by an automobile accident two years ago.

"I have learned from his wife that he was so agitated by his fancied ideas and worries that he was unable to sleep all night long, and he was highly nervous when he arose this morning," said G. Harry Mathay, with whom he long has been associated in the practice of law.

Mr. Mathay, who was 48 years old, had been a member of the legislature since 1922. Associates said he had been working day and night on financial problems of the state.

SCIENCE SCORES AS TWINS ESSAY STUNTING TESTS

Johnnie Bests Jimmie, but Loser Smiles.

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—Jimmy and Johnnie, twin sons of a taxicab driver, having reached the venerable age of 11 months, today were put through their paces for the edification of a group of scientists.

Johnnie was the first to arrive on this mundane sphere. He weighed 6 pounds and 5 ounces when he checked in. Jimmie, arriving a short spell afterward, weighed 7 pounds and 8 ounces.

Hardly had their first amazed squalls ceased than science took them in hand. Johnnie was started on a stunt career; Jimmie was permitted to live the life of Riley in his crib with no scientist to experiment and teach him tricks. He does more laughing than his twin, and when he fails at a stunt he seems to enjoy the joke immensely. At least he has been known to bend over in laughter until he fell on his face.

Observed by Psychologist.

Since birth the twins have been under the care of Dr. Myrtle B. McGraw, psychologist and director of the child clinic of the Neurological institute.

As Johnnie and Jimmie exhibited their abilities at stair climbing, standing, grasping, and other feats of strength and skill, it became increasingly evident that Johnnie's strenuous training has helped him outstrip his brother in many of the motor reactions.

Jimmie Wants Toy.

For example, Jimmie wanted the toy which Dr. McGraw held out for him on the first step of a stairway. But he had not the slightest idea of how to obtain it and stood, chuckling gleefully with his observers, at his own dilemma.

Johnnie, the trained, crawled seriously up the stairway in his birthday clothes and even could be persuaded to clamber to the top of four steps to reach his prize. He also could scale a slide set at an 80 degree angle to reach an alluring cold cream jar, while Jimmie, after contemplating the goal, gave up. But he laughed again.

Tied to a small board and placed in water Johnnie swam, holding up his head; Jimmie would let his head bob under, but he came up laughing. An interesting observation brought out in the study is that an infant swims more easily at the age of 3 days than at the age of 3 months.

But Jimmie Smiles.

Taking it all in all, science seems to have shown that stunts can be taught to a small infant, but Jimmie enjoys the carefree spirit of the unenlightened, while the responsibilities of accomplishment appear to rest heavily upon the tiny pink shoulders of his more tutored brother.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN FAILS IN FIGHT FOR BURIED POT OF GOLD

Booneville, Ind., March 17.—[Special.]—The mysterious pot of gold which Thomas White, 86, a civil war veteran, has tried to obtain from some of his relatives, was declared today to have been real, but he is just as far away from it as ever.

A jury in the Circuit court of Warwick county cleared Quill White, a nephew, as well as Owen Fitzgerald, Leo and Frank Raney, more distant relatives, of charges of having found the gold and failing to share it with Thomas White. The defense agreed that Sarah White, mother of Thomas, had been in the habit of hoarding gold in various places around a farmhouse eight miles south of Washington, Ind. When that house was razed two years ago they said some unknown person probably had found the gold, after discovering instructions.

Thomas White had believed the gold, amounting to about $20,000, was buried in an iron crock.

LIST PATRONAGE JOBS IN PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Joseph P. Savage Sponsor for 70 Appointees.

A list brought to light yesterday revealed the allotment of patronage in the business department of Chicago's public school system. Members of the school board, aldermen, ward committeemen, union agents, and others in the political picture are included as sponsors for 376 jobs.

Trustee Joseph P. Savage, appointed to the board by a former administration, heads the list with 70 jobs charged up to his sponsorship. Second in the list is Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, appointee of the late Mayor Cermak, with 17 employés. William D. McJunkin, appointee of a former mayor, is third with 16 persons on the pay roll.

Robert Crowe Among Sponsors.

One of the politicians controling jobs at the school board, it was disclosed, is Robert Crowe, former state's attorney and law partner of Trustee Savage.

The list showed that Savage's jobs included 23 temporary janitors, 15 substitute firemen, 6 substitute engineers, 3 temporary janitresses, 2 bookkeepers, and six miscellaneous jobs.

Charged up to Mrs. Hefferan are three temporary janitors, three temporary janitresses, three temporary bath attendants, two substitute firemen, two watchmen, and four miscellaneous.

President Orville J. Taylor of the school board, it was revealed, has sponsored only one jobholder, a substitute engineer.

Other members of the board and the jobs they control are as follows: John A. English, 8; Lewis E. Myers, 9; Carter Blatchford, 7; H. Wallace Caldwell, James A. Hemingway and Robert Carr, 5 each, and Ernst Buehler, 2.

Lawyer Sponsors Six.

There are also six jobholders sponsored by Thomas V. Sullivan, attorney for the board, and four by Supt. William J. Bogan.

Myers and Blatchford, both holdover appointees, have resigned as trustees but are members of the board until their successors have been duly appointed and qualified, according to a legal opinion by Attorney Sullivan. School trustees are named by the mayor.

Asked about the list, Howard P. Savage, business manager of the school system, who is not related to the trustee, said that it is constantly changing and that with the end of the winter season many of the temporary firemen and engineers will be dismissed. The season ends on March 21.

4 OAK PARK HIGH STUDENTS HURT FLEEING POLICE

Four students of the Oak Park High school were injured late last night when their car crashed into another automobile while they were being pursued by a police squad. A girl in the second car also was hurt. At the time of the accident, which occurred at Washington boulevard and Gale avenue, Rivert Forest, the students were speeding 65 miles an hour.

The students are Louis Hammel, 17 years old, 551 Clinton place, River Forest; Mary Lou Russell, 17, of 1018 Austin boulevard, Oak Park; William Troxel, 17, 611 Jackson avenue, River Forest, and Peggy Wood, 16, of 300 North Oak Park avenue. Marjorie Townsfield, 18, 1429 North Massasoit avenue, Chicago, was the other person hurt. All were taken to the Oak Park hospital. Hammel and Miss Russell suffered skull fractures. The others were less seriously injured.

The four students were out on a "treasure hunt" at the time. With twenty other students they had attended a party and had separated into groups to find various items concealed in the suburbs. In Oak Park the four injured students sped past Sergt. Inglin and his squad. The police began chasing them, the chasing ending when Hammel, driving, veered his car into one containing Miss Townsfield and three friends.

3 SCHOOL HEADS AVOID PAY CUTS; PROMISE REFUND

The three major heads of the Chicago public school system, whose salaries remain at the basic rate although teachers and other employés were given a 15 per cent cut in the 1933 school budget, are under a "gentleman's agreement" to refund the amount in question at the end of the year. This was revealed yesterday by the officials, Supt. William J. Bogan, Howard P. Savage, business manager, and Thomas V. Sullivan, attorney.

At one of the secret conferences during budget making time, it was revealed, the school trustees decided that if the salaries of the officials they had elected were reduced the result might be a breach of contract suit. The department heads agreed at the same time to refund the amount of the cut.

"Why, I wouldn't want to face the school teachers," said Mr. Bogan, "if they took a 15 per cent cut and I didn't refund this portion of my salary."

The basic salaries of the three are: Bogan, $15,000; Savage, $12,000, and Sullivan, $12,000.

Robbing Squires, Mo., Office Called Habit for This Man

Springfield, Mo., March 17.—[Special.]—Rolla Wilson, who has served two terms in the penitentiary for robbing the Squires, Mo., postoffice, is held in jail here on the same charge. This time he also is facing the possibility of kidnaping charges being added. Last night Postmaster Charles Spurlock was held up at his little postoffice, the robber obtaining little more than $5. Spurlock was forced to accompany the holdup man. He was knocked unconscious after being tied to a tree. Wilson was arrested here today with a revolver and $4.60 in small change.

PUSH PLANS TO RESUME SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

Plans for the resumption of the school building program, which was halted a year and a half ago because of lack of funds, were discussed yesterday at a meeting in the office of Ernest R. Graham, architect, one of the leading members of the citizens' committee on expenditures. The board of education wants to complete three of the ten building projects by the start of the next school year in September.

The three structures under consideration are the Lane and Steinmetz High schools and the new addition to Senn High school. The total construction would cost approximately $2,500,000. One of the plans, which was suggested by Howard P. Savage, business manager of the school system, was that the contractors and material service concerns accept 1931 tax anticipation warrants in lieu of cash for payments.

Orville J. Taylor, president of the school board, announced that a special committee would inspect the three buildings, upon which work was halted at various stages of construction, and make an appraisal of the damages and losses suffered by the contractors. When the report is received the board, contractors, and citizens' committee again will proceed with plans for resuming work.

LAST MEMBER OF FAMILY DEAD IN GUN TRAGEDY

Norman Heller, 14 years old, 723 Melrose street, died yesterday at the John B. Murphy hospital, the fourth victim of the shooting in which his father killed the three other members of the family and then committed suicide. The father, Victor E. Heller, secretary treasurer of a wholesale clothing concern at 239 South Market street, shot and killed his wife, Elsa, 40 years old, a son, Sylvan, 9 years old; fatally wounded Norman, and then shot himself. The shooting occurred early Thursday in the family apartment. A note left by Heller indicated that fear of separation from his family had caused him to kill them and himself.

Cardinal Bourne Suffers Sudden Relapse in Britain

SAINT LEONARDS, Sussex, England, March 18.—[Saturday.]—(AP)—Cardinal Francis Bourne, 72, who has been recuperating here from a recent illness, suffered a sudden relapse yesterday. When Cardinal Bourne returned after a serious attack of influenza in Rome in December, he assented to advice of physicians to rest for three months. His secretary said his condition was serious, but physicians said they believe he will recover and that the relapse seems to be a result of overexerting himself.

Indiana Assessor Dead from Street Car Injury

Lloyd Weldy, 45 years old, county assessor of Elkhart county, Ind., died at the county hospital yesterday from injuries received on March 14, when he was struck by a street car at Clinton street and Jackson boulevard. Weldy, a resident of Wakarusa, Ind., was visiting Chicago with his wife as a delegate to the Pure Milk association.

SEN. WALSH HITS BIG BUSINESS AS CAUSE OF CRISIS

Addresses Banquet of the Irish Fellowship Club.

Speaking last night at the annual St. Patrick's day banquet of the Irish Fellowship club in the Palmer house, Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts criticized "big business" and the "abandonment of the ethical and public motives which characterized the early settlers of the country" as causes of the nation's economic troubles.

"The trouble with big business," he said, "is that it embodies all the objections which we entertain toward bureaucratic government. Government bureaus infringe on our liberties.

Detriment to Individualism.

"This depression has demonstrated that big business is a detriment to 'rugged individualism' and freedom of opportunity to all. The sooner we dismantle the great regimented corporations and return to small personal adventures and enterprises, the better for the capitalistic system."

St. Patrick's day was observed in Chicago yesterday and last night in traditional fashion. Special services were held in St. Patrick's church, Des Plaines and Adams streets. Offices of the city hall and county building were closed. Nearly every one wore a bit of green in honor of the day.

Hold Special Programs.

Dances and entertainments were held last night by the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the Morrison hotel; the United Celtic American Societies at White City; the Shanno Rovers' club at Carmen's hall; and the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic in the 131st Regiment armory. Many other civic and social organizations observed the occasion with special programs.

FREE STATE MINISTER REVIEWS ARMY ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 17.—(AP)—A parade of national army units to the college green, where Minister of Defense Frank Aiken reviewed the marchers, featured Dublin's celebration of St. Patrick's day. Airplanes circled overhead while the national army members marched.

Public houses throughout all the Irish Free State were closed.

President de Valera, accompanied by his cabinet and a mounted escort, drove in state from the government buildings to the procathedral, where they attended high mass.

CRERAR HEIRESS FILES RENO SUIT FOR 3D DIVORCE

Suit for divorce against her third husband, John Reginald Dane, was filed in Reno, Nev., yesterday by Mrs. Catherine Crerar Otis Koehn Dane of Chicago. She is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Crerar, 209 Lake Shore drive, widow of John Crerar, coal and shipping magnate.

The Reno declaration charges simply that Dane failed to support her and was cruel. The Danes were married quietly in the east March 19, 1932. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Linwood Dane of Bedford Hills, N. Y., well known in New York society.

Mrs. Dane is about 25 years old. She was first married to Ralph C. Otis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Otis. Their wedding on Jan. 15, 1927, at St. Chrysostom's church was one of society's most fashionable events of the season. On July 6, 1929, she won a divorce in Chicago on the grounds of cruelty.

In April, 1930, the former Mrs. Otis was married secretly to Frederick Koehn of Wilmette. A few months later she went to Reno and obtained a divorce on the grounds of mental cruelty.

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN.

Mrs. Josephine De Lorimer, 50 years old, 6433 South Peoria street, died at her home yesterday as a result of injuries incurred on Feb. 19, when she fell on the ice.

PLAN EMERGENCY ACT TO GIVE CORR MAYOR'S POWER

Governor and City Officials to Confer.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

An emergency measure to clothe Acting Mayor Frank J. Corr with full powers to sign bonds, warrants and other documents is to be considered at a conference to be held in the next day or two between Gov. Henry Horner, the fiscal officers of the city, and the acting mayor.

Republican party leaders, meanwhile, inclined to the position that they could hardly oppose action to validate the signature of the de facto mayor on financial and other documents affecting the city pay rolls. Representative Elmer Schnackenberg, minority floor leader in the house, at the instance of William H. Weber, Republican county chairman, called a meeting of all Cook county Republican representatives for Monday afternoon. At this time a course of action is to be mapped out on all emergency measures proposed at Springfield relative to the Chicago mayoralty.

Plan Partial Support.

As affairs stood last night, the Republicans may oppose part of the Democratic legislative program and may support portions which may propose to endow the de facto mayor with full power in view of the financial situation of the city.

Acting Mayor Corr was to have held a meeting with William H. Sexton, corporation counsel; James A. Kearns, city treasurer; Henry Cutler, bond expert, and others yesterday on the question of what steps are necessary to validate his acts, particularly on warrants and bonds. The conference was deferred because of the closing of the city hall in celebration of St. Patrick's day.

A proposal to put in a separate bill at Springfield on Tuesday, dealing with the validation of the de facto mayor's acts, was regarded among the politicians yesterday as likely to meet with small opposition in the legislature.

Split on Primary Costs.

As to the rest of the program concerning the selection of a new mayor to fill the Cermak vacancy, which runs to April, 1935, there is still controversy.

One moot question is whether primaries should be abolished for the special election. The Democrats have inclined to the view that nominations should be made by the party city committees, as an economy measure which would save perhaps $400,000 the estimated cost of a primary. The Republicans have been dead set against elimination of the primary. One reason advanced is that the public would repose little confidence in a candidate picked by the present setup in the Republican city committee.

The Democrats have been urging a special election on June 5, at the time of the judicial elections. The Republicans have been opposed to this. They raise the point that it would add more partisan politics to the bench elections, which, hypothetically, are untrammeled by machine politics because they are held in June. The Democrats voice suspicions that the Republicans in reality are seeking to defer the election of mayor until next year, if possible, with the idea that they might have a better chance to elect a Republican.

Bill Up Next Tuesday.

The Adamowski bill, which comes up in the house next Tuesday on second reading, gives the Chicago city council the right to elect a mayor from inside or outside its membership who shall have full powers as mayor. It provides that the special election to fill the unexpired term shall be held at a time to be fixed by the council.

This bill embraces the program favored by the Democratic organization at its meeting a week ago. Whether it is to be modified will be considered over the week-end. The Adamowski bill is regarded as broad enough to enable the city council, if a good outsider were picked as mayor to fill the unexpired term, to retain him in office until 1935, by perhaps setting the date of the special election on the same day as the next regular election of mayor in April, 1935.

The Democrats have 80 members of the house. Emergency legislation would require 102 votes. If the Republicans should withhold aid from the emergency measures, the Democrats point out, the bills can be put through as ordinary measures requiring only a majority vote in the legislature, and they would take effect July 1. If a special election were held, it is argued, it would be called for some time in July, and amendments to the primary law might permit a primary, with a brief time intervening between primary and election.

SEEK TO EXTEND DELINQUENT TAX PAYMENTS TO '39

Plan Would Affect Bills of '28, '29, and '30.

A new plan for clearing up Cook county's tremendous load of delinquent taxes by installment payments running to the end of 1939 was announced yesterday at a conference called by County Judge Jarecki. The plan received the immediate approval of the Sargent committee on public expenditures, the Chicago Real Estate board, representatives of banks and large property owners, and all the interested county officials except State's Attorney Courtney, who withheld judgment until tomorrow.

One of the chief advantages of the plan is that it can be put into effect without seeking special legislation at Springfield. Another is that, as at present constituted, at least, it will apply only to delinquent taxes of the 1928, 1929, and 1930 levies, and property owners may enjoy its benefits only if they pay their 1931 and subsequent taxes in full as they become due. The real estate tax delinquencies for the three years covered by the plan now total $164,564,627, and penalties totaling $30,925,791 will have accrued by July 1.

Under Court's Jurisdiction.

During the period of nearly seven years which it will take to clear up tax arrears under the plan, Judge Jarecki would retain jurisdiction over all the delinquent properties in the county court. He would do this by retaining jurisdiction over all cases in which objections are now pending in his court and in the remaining cases, those of properties already forfeited and sold for taxes, would get jurisdiction through the filing of objections to the next sale of the properties by the county treasurer.

The first installment under the plan would be paid on July 1. At that time the taxpayer wishing to take advantage of the installment plan must do three things. He must show a receipt in full for the first installment of his 1931 taxes, for which the penalty date fell on Wednesday. He must pay 10 per cent of his back taxes and pay in full all penalties which have accrued on the back bills. And he must sign an agreement to make future payments according to the schedule set up in the plan.

These schedules of payment, after the first one of 10 per cent, is as follows: Fifteen per cent on July 1, 1934; 10 per cent on May 1, 1935; 15 per cent on March 1, 1936; 10 per cent on Feb. 1, 1937; 10 per cent on Dec. 1, 1937; 15 per cent on Oct. 1, 1938, and 15 per cent on Dec. 1, 1939.

Each time the taxpayer pays an installment he must pay in full the penalties which have accrued at the rate of 1 per cent a month on the unpaid balance of his bill since the last payment was made. If at any time he defaults on a payment, either of the back tax installment or of current taxes, he will lose the benefits of the plan, his objection will be dismissed in the county court, and the usual legal machinery for forfeiture and sale of his property will start to operate against him.

Would Set New Penalty Dates.

The plan also involves a new schedule of penalty dates for payment of future tax levies. This would have to be ratified by the legislature. After changing the penalty date on the second installment of 1931 taxes from July 1, at which time it is now set, to Dec. 1, the schedule would run as follows:

Tax Levy.	1st Install.	2d Install.
1932	March 1, 1934	July 1, 1934
1933	Jan. 1, 1935	May 1, 1935
1934	Nov. 1, 1935	Mar. 1, 1936
1935	Sept. 1, 1936	Feb. 1, 1937
1936	Aug. 1, 1937	Dec. 1, 1937
1937	June 1, 1938	Oct. 1, 1938
1938	April 1, 1939	Sept. 1, 1939
1939	March 1, 1940	Sept. 1, 1940

"The citizens committee on public expenditures," said Mr. Sargent, its chairman, "has discussed this plan at length, and discussed it with large property owners. In the committee's opinion we will get taxes in faster under this plan than if we continue to drift or attempt to force full payment of taxes for 1928 to 1930 at a time when owners must also make payment on the 1931 taxes.

"There are many properties which can pay part of their back taxes and the full installments for 1931, but they can't pay all their back taxes now. The owners tell us that if they are going to lose their property anyway they prefer to conserve their money and hang on as long as they can. We believe this is the best plan yet devised which will suit the public interest. We are prepared to indorse it highly and to take any public criticism of such an indorsement."

See Reopening of Hearings.

It seemed likely, after a hearing yesterday before the state tax commission, at which Mr. Sargent appeared, that favorable action would be taken upon the petition of the Chicago Real Estate board asking that hearings be reopened upon complaints against 1928, 1929, and 1930 real estate assessments which the old board of review refused to hear.

These complaints number about 60,000. Mr. Sargent suggested to the tax commission that the present board of tax appeals hear the complaints not strictly in its official capacity but as a commission acting for the County court, which still has jurisdiction over the tax cases.

U. S. DISMANTLES FORTIFICATIONS ON GUAM ISLAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 17.—United States naval and marine relief units, which arrived here today aboard the transport U. S. Grant, confirmed reports that the American naval authorities have dismantled the fortifications of Guam island, largest of the Marianne (or Ladrone) group. The United States obtained Guam from Spain on Dec. 10, 1898. The rest of the Mariannes are mandated to Japan.

The U. S. Grant was docked in Guam harbor for a considerable time while enroute from San Francisco to Manila. Officers of the transport said they interviewed Capt. Edmund S. Root, governor of Guam, who commands about 200 marines garrisoning the island.

Japs Inspect Fortifications.

Capt. Root is quoted as having said that the last defense unit had dismantled the guns and shipped them to Hawaii recently. Root also said that, upon instructions from the American authorities in Manila, he had recently invited the Japanese governor of Saipan island, a member of the Marianne mandated group, to visit Guam and that the Japanese official, accompanied by his staff of Japanese naval officials, made a complete tour of the Guam fortifications and were satisfied that the island now is of no importance strategically.

Capt. Root said the Japanese had been skeptical that the United States maintained only a force of 200 marines on Guam, but finally were convinced after the inspection tour.

The Japanese control Saipan island, which is north of Guam, as well as Pelew island, which is 300 miles southwest of Yap. Both these places were recently mentioned at the Geneva arms conference in connection with alleged Japanese fortifications.

In Midst of Japanese Zone.

Guam is some 3,600 miles east of Manila and is located almost in the exact center of the zone where the Japanese are planning their forthcoming extensive naval maneuvers. America agreed to discontinue the Guam fortifications at the Washington naval conference of 1922.

Yap, which is 1,200 miles east of Manila and 600 miles southwest of Guam, is a landing station for the American trans-Pacific cable, which also touches Guam. The Marianne and Caroline island groups, Japanese mandated islands located between the Philippines and American Samoa, where the Japanese maneuvers are scheduled, command the sea route between Hawaii, the Philippines, and the China coast. The Japanese also hold a mandate for the Marshall islands, east of the Carolines.

U. S. DISARMS PACIFIC OUTPOST

Arrow indicates the American island of Guam, the fortifications of which have been dismantled by the American naval authorities. Guam is practically surrounded by islands under Japanese mandate, including the other islands of the Marianne group, which Japan is reported to be fortifying, the Caroline islands, and the Marshall islands.

MILK PRICE CUT IN JOLIET; HALT ALL DELIVERIES

Officials of the eight dairies in the Joliet Coöperating Dairies' association announced yesterday that there would be no milk deliveries in Joliet today. The announcement followed the refusal of 60 drivers employed by Joliet dairies to accept a pay cut.

Officials of the dealers' association said that milk would be sold at dairies for 6 cents a quart as compared with the price of 11 cents delivered at the homes. The dealers said that they had agreed with producers to readjust and lower the price of milk. This reduction cannot be made, they said, under the present wage scale paid to drivers.

The drivers are paid $28 a week with commissions for collections. On March 1, 1932, the drivers accepted a cut of 13 per cent, and a 10 per cent reduction on collection commissions. The farmers are paid $1.98 per hundred pounds for milk as compared with $1.45 paid to producers in the Chicago area.

PLANTS CALLING MEN TO WORK NEAR CLEVELAND

Auto Industry Is Spur to Other Factories.

Cleveland, O., March 17.—(AP)—More than five thouhand families in industrial Ohio cocked an ear for the factory whistle today as their breadwinners prepared to go back to work.

The call went out in Cleveland, Steubenville, Toledo, Youngstown, and other cities.

Industry had responded in the short span of four days to the impetus of open banks, whose numbers, incidentally, had mounted well past the 500 mark in Ohio tonight.

Other Factories Resuming.

The response began late yesterday when Thompson Products company of Cleveland announced it would recall between 300 and 400 men Monday. There followed quickly a call by the Cleveland Graphite Bronze company for more men to join the 350 already working full time.

The Cleveland branch of Fisher Bodies company today notified some 3,000 former employes to get out their overalls and appear for duty Monday morning.

The Toledo branch of the Chevrolet Motor company then chimed in with an announcement that operations would be resumed Monday after a week's shutdown. The plant had been employing more than 1,500 men.

Few Called at Youngstown.

Although no renewed demand for scrap iron had appeared, scrap yards at Youngstown today put 50 men to work sorting and preparing scrap for use in open hearth furnaces. The advance of $1 a ton to $10 for heavy melting scrap at Pittsburgh was an influence.

The Follansbee Brothers company, at Steubenville, O., disclosed plans for increased operations by Monday at its Follansbee, W. Va., tin mill plant. Some 75 men will be added to the pay roll.

Other Concerns Busier.

It also was reported the Hoover Sweeper company at Canton, O., was preparing to pick up operations after a two weeks' shutdown, with a call for 400 employes to return to their tasks.

CUMMINGS EYES U. S. TAX FIGURES OF MITCHELL

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—The income tax figures submitted in 1929 by Charles E. Mitchell, resigned chairman of the board of the National City Bank of New York, tonight were under close scrutiny by Attorney General Cummings.

In addition to this study, the attorney general gave thought, also, to his instructions from President Roosevelt to prosecute any wrongdoing that might be shown by the senate stock market investigation.

George Z. Medalie, United States attorney for New York, laid before Cummings during the day the result of his two weeks' investigation of the bankers' stock transactions which Mitchell told the senate committee he charged against his tax payments.

In his testimony, Mitchell said he sold 18,000 shares of the bank stock to a relative, taking a loss of $2,800,000, and deducted this from his tax return. Later, he bought the stock back.

"We are going into the New York situation very thoroughly," was the attorney general's terse comment upon the discussion.

He declined to say whether a course of action had been decided upon.

FRENCH AVIATOR BEGINS AIR TOUR AROUND WORLD

NANCY, France, March 17.—(AP)—Christian Moench, French aviator, who has made round trip flights to Tokio and to Madagascar, tonight hopped off for Barcelona, the first stage of a projected six months tour of the world.

The flight, under the auspices of the French air ministry, is for the purpose of stimulating interest in air touring.

Moench plans to visit South America, Central America, the United States, and Japan before crossing Asia and Europe on his return to Paris.

The two long ocean stages will be made by steamer, between Dakar and Pernambuso across the South Atlantic, and between San Francisco and Yokohama across the Pacific.

What Grocery Store Items Best Fit These Jingles?

The Chicago Tribune will pay $150.00 in Groceries

National Tea Company | Kroger-Consumers
Hillman's | A & P Food Stores

What food and grocery store items best fit the accompanying jingles?

Today the Chicago Tribune presents another game of "Grocery Store A-B-C's." It's loads of fun. There's no hard work to do—and there's $150.00 in groceries to reward successful contestants.

All you have to do is write in the names of a few grocery store and food items and state whether or not they are advertised in today's Tribune. Read the simple rules and start now!

THE RULES:

1. In the accompanying jingles certain words have been left out. You are invited to fill in the words you think best fit each jingle and try for the $150.00 in grocery prizes which the Tribune will pay.

2. To the persons who send in the best entries in accordance with these rules the Tribune will pay $150.00 in grocery orders drawn on any one of the stores listed above named by the winners. First prize, $25.00 in groceries; second prize, $15.00 in groceries; third prize, $10.00 in groceries; next ten prizes, $5.00 each in groceries; next 20 prizes, $2.50 each in groceries.

3. This offer is open to all—except employes of the Tribune and their families. You pay nothing.

4. Awards will be made to the persons who send in the best entries. Each entry must consist of the ten jingles printed today. Simply fill in the words you think best fit the jingles. After you have written in your choice of missing words, check the food and grocery ads in today's Tribune and place a cross mark in the square if you find the item advertised in any of today's Tribune food and grocery ads. If the item is NOT advertised, make NO mark.

THESE PRIZES FOR TODAY'S WINNERS

1st Prize.....$25.00
2nd Prize.....15.00
3rd Prize.....10.00
Next 10 Prizes—$5.00 each. 50.00
Next 20 Prizes—$2.50 each. 50.00
TOTAL.....$150.00

5. All entries will be considered by a committee appointed by the Tribune. Contestants agree to accept the decisions of the committee as final. Judgment will be based upon suitability of words inserted, accuracy in checking, and neatness. No special consideration will be given to elaborate entries. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded to tying contestants. Only one entry may be submitted by any one contestant.

6. Address your entry to "GROCERY STORE A-B-C's No. 8," Chicago Tribune, Postoffice Box 1720, Chicago Ill. All entries to today's game must be received in the Tribune office before 6:00 p. m. on Wednesday, March 22, 1933. No entries will be returned.

7. You need not purchase the Tribune to compete. The Tribune may be examined at the Tribune offices or at public libraries free of charge. You may use the handy blank supplied here or you may submit your entry on a separate sheet of paper. Winners will be announced as soon as possible in the Tribune.

RECALL WEDDING OF ROOSEVELTS; ATTEND MOVIE

Old Friends Are Guests at White House.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Just like a million or more of their fellow Americans, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt saw a talking moving picture tonight; their 28th wedding anniversary.

True, the movie was shown in the hall on the second floor of the White House and the President's guests were in evening garb, but it was a rollicking comedy. Reports were that the President and his wife, enjoying almost their first relaxation since the fourth of March, laughed as heartily as the rest.

Spends Busy Day.

The President arose early today and remained at his desk until nearly 7 o'clock. His last conference was a long session with his director of the budget, with whom the President is struggling on a drastic economy program.

For dinner the President and Mrs. Roosevelt had invited some of their old friends, among them guests at the Roosevelt wedding 28 years ago.

The President's mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Delano and Mrs. David Gray, Mrs. Roosevelt's aunt, were among those at the dinner table who could look back the 28 years to that impressive ceremony when another President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, uncle of Mrs. Roosevelt, gave her in marriage to her distant cousin Franklin.

One of Ushers There.

Warren Delano Robbins, a cousin of the President, who was an usher at that ceremony on St. Patrick's day in 1905, was present tonight with Mrs. Robbins.

Only one of the Roosevelt's five children, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, was able to attend her parents' party, and she brought her husband, Curtis B. Dall. The four sons were kept away by various circumstances, but each of them telephoned to wish his father and mother happiness. James, the eldest, from Boston, where he had gone on business with Secretary of War Dern; Elliott, from the Greenway ranch in Arizona, where he is starting a western career; Franklin Jr., and John, the two youngest, from their Groton school.

For a brief time this afternoon the President and Mrs. Roosevelt greeted a few friends in the President's office during a lull in the affairs of state and some of the visitors who had been in that staid office during previous régimes were struck by a somewhat startling transition there.

Notice Change in Room.

The erstwhile bare, cream colored walls had been covered with pictures, most of them beautifully done Currier and Ives nautical prints, of which the President has a priceless collection.

He brought the prints, many of which also now decorate the oval room on the second floor, which is the President's study, from his home at Hyde Park.

The President was carefully observant of the significance of this day. He wore a green carnation in his lapel and a bright green silk handkerchief in his breast pocket. Tonight Mrs. Roosevelt tucked a green and white gardenia in his lapel.

Woman Dies in Plunge from Hospital Window

Mrs. Catherine Burke, 46 years old, 1525 East 84th street, was killed yesterday when she leaped or fell from a window of the Woodlawn hospital, where she was a patient. Relatives said Mrs. Burke, the mother of ten children, 5 to 25 years old, had been ill for more than a year.

Plant Cherry Tree Grove in Park

Gifts of Japanese

Yoshio Muto, Japanese cousul in Chicago, yesterday planted on the wooded island in the center of Jackson park near 60th street the first of 500 Japanese cherry trees presented to the South Park system by 300 Japanese residents in honor of Chicago's hundredth anniversary.

George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the South Park system, in accepting the trees said that the park officials would do their part toward making cherry blossom time a festive occasion in April of each year.

The trees, averaging 5 feet in height, will border the walks in the gardens surrounding the three Japanese buildings. Among the trees are three large ones that will bear blossoms this year. The rest will require from three to four years growth before blooming.

Motion to Quash Bain Indictments Up March 27

Judge James F. Fardy in the Criminal court yesterday set March 27 for hearing on a motion to quash the indictments against John Bain, his son, John H.; his son-in-law, W. Merle Fisher, and Edward C. Barry. They are charged with receiving deposits while the West Englewood Trust and Savings bank was insolvent. Defense Attorney Harry Olson argued that the charges should be dismissed because the grand jury that returned the indictments was illegally chosen.

Two Held to Grand Jury for Robbery Murder

A coroner's jury yesterday held two men to the grand jury on a charge of murder. They are Arthur Barty, 26 years old, 6203 Princeton avenue, and Edward Weiss, 28 years old, 2442 East 78th street. Both, according to the police, confessed taking part in the robbery of Theodore Zutaut, 55 years old, 11207 Lowe street, on Thursday. They denied, however, that they shot Zutaut, attributing his murder to a third member of their gang whom they refused to name.

U. S. Woman Bomb Victim in Duce's List of Martyrs

ROME, March 17.—(AP)—John M. Di Sylvestro of Philadelphia, whose wife was killed last January when their Philadelphia home was bombed, was received today by Premier Mussolini, who expressed indignation at the attack. Mrs. Di Sylvestro's name, said the premier, will be included in the list of Fascist martyrs. Di Sylvestro is president of the Sons of Italy in America.

CAREFUL BUYER MAY FIND FOOD BARGAINS TODAY

Some Prices Higher, Others Remain at Bottom.

BY PAUL POTTER.

With retail prices on some grocery items rising and others remaining at the bottom of the price ladder, weekend shoppers today will find that it pays to make careful selection in filling the market basket.

Sugar and flour and many of the fresh green vegetables have advanced in price over a week ago, while some brands of coffee, butter, some canned goods, and a few meat items have receded. Little change is noted in quotations on eggs, oranges, apples, potatoes, milk, breakfast cereals, and other basic items.

No Drastic Rise Expected.

Chicago grocers report few indications of a drastic rise in retail prices such as was expected by "food hoarders" during the bank moratorium. While prices are expected to hold within the present range for most of the staples in the next few weeks, variable factors in the economic situation may cause some items to increase in value, grocers point out.

Several new food articles have been introduced in the Chicago markets this week. From San José, Cal., has come the cardona, a vegetable which is prepared in a manner similar to that employed in preparing the artichoke. They are green, nearly 18 inches long and weigh 5 or 6 pounds. The leaves when boiled or fried are tender and of fine flavor. They are high in mineral content.

Lima beans in the pod have also arrived. Both these and the cardona are introduced at comparatively low prices. Brussels sprouts continue to be of fine quality and low in price, with but two weeks left for their normal season here.

Fresh tomatoes at 10 cents a pound and large heads of cauliflower at 15 cents are on the bargain counter. Smoked ham is one of several kinds of meat offered at lower prices this week than for some time.

Coffee on Bargain List.

The low priced brands of coffee are being featured in many stores today as low as 15 to 17 cents a pound. Other well known brands of blended coffees are offered at somewhat higher prices.

Bananas are establishing a new low price today. In many stores they are selling at about 4 cents a pound. Spinach prices have been cut in half in ten days and this delicacy now can be bought for 5 cents a pound.

HOOVER STOPS IN CHICAGO ON HIS WAY WEST

Former President Herbert Hoover arrived in Chicago yesterday for a two day visit, described by his secretary, Lawrence Richey, as "just a break in the journey to Palo Alto," Mr. Hoover's California home.

The retired chief executive is the guest of A. W. Shaw, publisher, at his home at 50 Locust road, Winnetka. His privacy is being closely guarded, and Mr. Richey told reporters that no social affairs were being planned before Mr. Hoover, his son, Allan, and Richey entrain for California on the Overland limited tonight.

Mr. Hoover and his party arrived on the Broadway limited from New York, where the ex-President has been attending to private business since he left the White House March 4. They left the train at the Englewood station, where Mr. Shaw and his son, Roger, and two police squads met them. Mr. Hoover posed willingly for newspaper photographers, but refused comment on the economic situation.

Richey said that Mr. Hoover would rest at Palo Alto for about six weeks and then return to New York for more business conferences. If Mr. Hoover had any other plans for the future he did not care to announce them to reporters.

Coroner's Jury Finds British Actress Committed Suicide

LONDON, March 17.—(AP)—A coroner's jury inquiring into the death last Wednesday of Anny Ahlers, the actress, delivered a verdict today of suicide while of unsound mind. Miss Ahlers, who was playing "The Du Barry," died of injuries which resulted from a fall from her second floor bedroom window. It was said that she had been walking in her sleep, but the jury found that she had jumped from the window. She was 26.

15 Killed in Explosion and Fire Aboard Ship

COLOMBO, Ceylon, March 17.—(AP)—Fifteen persons were killed Tuesday night in an explosion and fire aboard the Norwegian steaship Hinnoy. It sank in the Indian ocean, 300 miles from here, survivors reported today.

PROBE MORTGAGE FRAUDS; 25 MEN UNDER INQUIRY

Mortgage frauds involving twenty-five men are under investigation by Assistant State's Attorney James J. Cherry. He said yesterday that he would ask warrants or indictments early next week. He said he had hundreds of complaints from persons defrauded of amounts ranging from $2,500 to $25,000 when they were sold junior mortgages as first mortgages.

Under the blue sky act the sellers may be prosecuted. The law requires that all except first mortgages be stamped "This is a junior mortgage," according to Mr. Cherry. They also may be prosecuted for confidence game and obtaining money under false pretenses.

"The instances of such swindling appear so great that the aggregate involved may run into millions of dollars," said Mr. Cherry.

MOSCOW DEFIES LONDON DEMAND TO FREE BRITONS

Sabotage Trial Will Be Heard Within Month.

MOSCOW, March 17.—(AP)—Overriding protests by the British government, the soviet authorities announced tonight that four British subjects, accused of sabotage, would be placed on criminal trial. The four are charged with committing the alleged sabotage in connection with their work for a British electrical machinery company which has been doing business here for ten years.

"No pressure or menace will be able to induce the soviet government to refrain from keeping its laws in relation to British subjects," Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff said in a communique.

35 Russians Also Seized.

The accused men were arrested last week-end, along with 35 Russian employés of the Metropolitan-Vickers company, in raids on the company's offices in Moscow and Leningrad. Six Britons were arrested, but two have been released.

The communique announced that the Britons and Russians would be tried publicly within a month.

The soviet government's action was in answer to protests by Britain and to a declaration by Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, in the house of commons to the effect that the British government was convinced the charges were unjustified. The details of the accusations have not been published.

Litvinoff said that the Baldwin declaration and the verbal protest made by the British ambassador yesterday were tantamount to asking that the action be withdrawn.

Rejects British Proposal.

"The British government expressed conviction that they are innocent," the foreign minister said. "Such a proposal is quite inadmissible and cannot be discussed by any government of an independent company.

"Having proofs and information about crimes, the law enforcement agencies of the soviet government are compelled to adopt measures to deal with them, and such is the accepted order in all countries."

The men to be tried are L. C. Thornton, chief erecting engineer; W. H. MacDonald, engineer; John Cushney, engineer, and a fitter named Gregory. Allan Monkhouse, director of the company, and Charles Nordwell, another official, were arrested and subsequently released.

BRITISH ULTIMATUM

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—Notice was served on soviet Russia today by the British government that, unless the four Britons arrested on charges of industrial sabotage are promptly released and the charges withdrawn, trade relations between the two countries will be broken and a rupture of diplomatic relations will follow.

A six months' notice already has been given to terminate the trade treaty which expires on April 17. This, however, was only to bring Anglo-Russian trade relations into line with the Ottawa economic agreements and negotiations are proceeding for a new treaty. These negotiations are now suspended.

See Hand of Stalin.

The British foreign office believes that the arrest of the Britons is part of Dictator Josef Stalin's policy to prove to the Russian people, who are losing faith in him, that he is strong enough to impose his policy of terrorism even on British subjects. If he is successful, it is believed all opposition to him will be crushed, but the British government does not intend to allow Britons to be used as catspaws to pull Stalin's chestnuts out of the fire.

A communication from Sir Esmond Ovey, British ambassador at Moscow, today said he is still unable to secure a satisfactory statement of details of charges against the men and that he was not allowed to see them after his first visit.

ALLEGED SLUGGER IS WOUNDED BY LAUNDRYMAN

A man identified through his fingerprints as Theodore Meade, a minor police character, whose last known address was 2002 Larrabee street, was shot and probably fatally wounded yesterday by Philip Gilman, 46 years old, owner of the Portage Park laundry, in a room at 4956 North Kilpatrick avenue. Gilman told police that Meade attacked him with a blackjack when he called at the house in response to a telephone request to get some laundry.

The laundry owner, who does his own collecting, said that the laundry drivers' union had been trying to force him to employ a union driver for two years. Six months ago he was the victim of a similar attack, Gilman said, and told police that his laundry had been the target for a stench bomb.

Mrs. Theresa Anetsberger, owner of the home where the shooting occurred, said that Meade came to the house and said that he wanted to rent a room. He expressed satisfaction with the room, the landlady said, and asked to use the telephone while he waited for his wife. She left him and did not witness the shooting.

Quakes Strike Honduras; Shocks Felt in Capital

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, March 17.—(AP)—A number of earth shocks of varying intensity have occurred during the last three days in the Olancho and Yoro districts of Honduras, causing some alarm but no damage. They were felt slightly in Tegucigalpa, the capital.

City in Mexico Shaken.

SAN GERONOMO, Oaxaca, Mexico, March 17.—(AP)—A fairly strong earth tremor, accompanied by subterranean rumblings, was felt here at 3:30 a. m. today. It lasted 15 seconds, but no damage was reported.

Germans Are Skeptical.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 17.—While semi-official circles comment that Prime Minister MacDonald's disarmament plan opens a new possibility for the Geneva conference to achieve something, the practical German press is skeptical. The demand for complete equality for Germany is emphatically and unanimously reiterated, especially in air force, submarines, heavy artillery, and tanks.

"Germany's position must now be strengthened through diplomatic channels," declares the Taeglishe Rundschau. "This particularly applies to the attainment of a comprehensive understanding with Russia, Italy, and, as far as possible, the United States.

MOVE FOR ARMS CUT

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—As a move towards revitalizing the moribund Geneva arms conference the Roosevelt administration will issue a formal statement early next week outlining and restating the American position on the whole disarmament question. It will include an announcement that the Roosevelt administration plans to exert all possible means to make the conference a success. Complete American coöperation in any move looking toward real disarmament will be promised.

The departure for Geneva Wednesday of Norman Davis, chairman of the American delegation to the arms conference, is to be the signal for the exposition of the administration's views on the subject of scaling down world armaments. The attitude of the state department on the question of American entrance into security or consultative pacts proposed as essential cogs in some disarmament proposals also may be made known.

Administration officials said that President Roosevelt considers an arms reduction agreement should be included as one of the key points in any program for world recovery from the business depression. The Roosevelt plan, it was said, is to instruct Mr. Davis to make every possible effort to avert collapse of the Geneva conference or the adoption of a fake agreement which would help no one. It is possible that Mr. Davis will offer a compromise arms reduction at Geneva if all present proposals prove unacceptable.

8 Hungarian Aristocrats Forced Into Bankruptcy

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 17.—(AP)—Eight aristocrats—one countess, one baroness, three barons, one prince, and two counts — were among the many hard pressed Hungarians involved in bankruptcy proceedings here today.

RUINS OF ANCIENT CITY DESTROYED IN 220 B. C. FOUND

ZAMORA, Spain, March 17.—(AP)—The Zamora Herald said today that archeologists working on the shore of the Duero river near here had discovered the ruins of what they thought might be the ancient city of Arcubala, which was destroyed by Hannibal in 220 B. C.

Prof. Virgilio Sevillano, who has charge of the excavation work, has asked the government to aid in further exploration. The newspaper said that a few monuments and fragments of statuary had been found.

Hannibal, who was born in Carthage in 247 B. C., was taken by his father to Spain at the age of nine. There he was trained in the art of war. Later he assumed the command of the army and the province of Spain.

TROTZKY VISIONS U. S. AS GREATER BOSS OF CAPITAL

Sees Centralization of Bank System.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 17.—(AP)—Leon Trotzky, exiled Russian revolutionary leader, believes that recent financial developments in the United States will result in ultimate centralization of the banking system and that America will emerge from the crisis more the master of world capital than ever.

"When America's economic organism weakened under the world crisis influence the obsolete character of its banking system was sharply revealed," Trotzky said today on Prinkipo island, his place of exile. "The result undoubtedly will be a grandiose centralization of the banking system, ultimately merely reinforcing the United States financial hegemony."

The former Russian leader said that since 1917 he frequently had affirmed that world capital would develop "under the increasing hegemony of the United States, especially under the hegemony of the dollar over the British sterling."

"America's excessive and precipitate growth gave the country's economic structure a mixed character—inheritances from the backwoods state, with the mingling of human strength's greatest conquests. The banking system especially evinces this contradiction," he said.

"American capital became a world factor nevertheless, and it still leans on a scattered system of provincial banks, recalling the epoch of 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.'"

RUSSIA RECALLS ITS BERLIN ENVOY IN TERROR PROBE

Seeks Report on Political Prisoners' Treatment.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 17.—Leo Michailovitch Chintshuk, soviet ambassador to Berlin, has been recalled to Moscow "to report on the situation in Germany." The order came unexpectedly. Chintshuk, accompanied by his wife, immediately left for Moscow.

In diplomatic circles it is believed Chintshuk was recalled to report on the treatment of political prisoners, particularly communists, who have complained of being terrorized by Chancellor Hitler's Nazi storm troops.

Jail Socialist Deputies.

The Nazi police force of Baden today arrested all Socialist deputies elected to the reichstag and the Baden diet, as well as all communist deputies still at liberty. The order for arrests was issued after a Hitlerite police officer in Freiburg died of injuries received when he exchanged shots with the Socialist, Nussbaum. Nussbaum also was wounded. All Socialist headquarters and labor union buildings were occupied by the police.

The reich government's economic dispute with Czechoslovakia entered a more serious phase today when the ministry of economics prohibited all further payments for Czechoslovakian goods. The dispute began when Czechoslovakia ruled that all payments to Germany must be made through a collective account. Germans protested that this would delay payments and prejudice German exports.

Germany's first retort was to end the bourse quotation of the Czechoslovakian crown. Czechoslovakia remained firm in its attitude and the order to stop payments followed. No further currency permits will be issued for payments to Czechoslovakia. Persons traveling to Czechoslovakia will be permitted to take along only $12. The public was warned that inasmuch as postal secrecy no longer exists, efforts to send money to Czechoslovakia will be prosecuted.

Bar Jewish Concert Conductor.

Meanwhile, the activities of Bruno Walter, concert conductor, are being compulsorily ended in Germany. It was announced today that he will not be permitted to participate in the concert of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra next Monday because he is a Jew.

This follows the order of the Saxon ministry of interior prohibiting Walter's participation last night in a concert in Leipzig. In an effort to avoid prohibition of the Berlin performance, Walter had asked that the American singer, Dusolina Giannini, substitute for the Czechoslovakia prima donna, Novatna. The concert probably will be canceled.

[Dusolina Giannini, soprano, made her first Chicago appearance Nov. 25, 1921, at the Blackstone hotel. Later she sang over the American radio and last summer performed at the North Shore music festival.]

Nazis War on "Alien" Judges.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, March 17.—The Federation of National Socialist Jurists meeting in Leipzig today drew up the following seven demands in connection with the "national revolution's" tenet that only Germans of Germanic extraction are to be counted as full Germans.

"All courts in Germany, including the Supreme court, shall be cleansed immediately of judges, officials and employés of alien races.

"Members of an alien race shall not be admitted to the German bar.

"As far as females of an alien race now have the right to practice in court, this shall be revoked immediately.

"Only those of Germanic stock shall be notaries.

"According to Adolf Hitler's plan, four years hence no member of an alien race shall be an attorney at law.

"Oust Jews and Marxists."

"All attorneys of an alien race who are registered members of the Socialist and Communist parties, shall forfeit the right to practice immediately. The same shall apply, of course, to judges with Marxist views.

"The bar associations shall immediately reconstitute themselves, purged of Jews and Marxists. Exceptional treatment may be accorded only to lawyers who were at the front or lost their sons there."

The Breslau courts resumed business today after a three day recess, due to the forcible expulsion of Jewish judges and lawyers. The only trials on the calendar, however, were those not involving Jewish lawyers and no Jewish judges sat.

The Central Federation of German Citizens of the Jewish Faith has opened a legal aid bureau for citizens of that faith finding themselves in trouble and in need of advice.

Der Angriff, Nazi organ, today reports that Julius Lippert, federal commissioner for Berlin, has ordered wholly Judaized hospital in Britz and Neukoelline boroughs to clean up radically."

The contracts of Jewish physicians are to be terminated at the earliest dates possible and in the meantime they are to be placed on leave of absence as far as the maintenance of hospital service permits, according to Der Angriff.

THEATERS DARK IN CLEVELAND IN DISPUTE ON PAY

Mayor Considers Attempt to End Controversy.

With de luxe theaters uptown following the example of eighty odd neighborhood houses which closed last Sunday because of wage disputes with operators, stagehands, and musicians, there was not a lighted movie palace marquee in the city.

A report from city hall that Mayor Ray T. Miller was considering steps to bring theaters and their employes together in new negotiations was the only development offering a prospect that drawn curtains of the ticket booths might be lifted soon.

Gold and then canned goods might have been in hoards when the banking holiday descended, but few were equipped with home projection sets and a private supply of film from Hollywood.

Those who had a desire for entertainment tonight had a choice ranging from a symphony at Severance hall to a brand new burlesque at the reopened Gayety, where the management introduced a three a day policy.

"Bare Facts" was the show that included comedians with the traditional red noses, a policeman in a pouchy uniform, and girls who swung their legs in one-two-three rhythm.

Audiences that filled all the seats downfloor, movable chairs on a platform circling the auditorium, and stood in the rear applauded and stomped.

Night Clubs Fill Breach.

Night clubs were going merrily, and most of them announced new floor shows were being rushed in to supply entertainment's partial void.

Theater reviewers contented themselves with discussing the movies that would have been shown had the theaters not closed, and persons with nothing else to do for entertainment solemnly speculated as to the possibility of turning this or that theater into a beer parlor.

Plan Indianapolis Closing.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—[Special.] — Owners and managers of all motion picture theaters in Indianapolis, including the neighborhood houses, today announced they expect all Indianapolis theaters to close after March 23 because union employés refuse to accept a cut in their wage scale of $64.50 a week.

Kansas City May Close.

Kansas City, Mo., March 17.—(AP)—Plans for closing the theaters of Kansas City March 30 as the result of a salary reduction deadlock between operators and union employes were disclosed today.

Spokesmen for the operators explained the theaters would not be reopened until the union employés accepted a salary reduction commensurate with cuts taken by nonunion theater employés.

Six Dark in Syracuse.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 17.—(AP)—Syracuse's six large downtown motion picture theaters closed their doors at the end of the last showings last night after failure to come to an agreement over wage reductions with affiliated theatrical unions. A statement by the managers said they had asked that all employés take a 25 per cent reduction. Neighborhood theaters remained open.

GERMAN PAPER 'HAPPY' EINSTEIN WILL NOT RETURN

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, March 17. — Dr. Alfred Hugenberg's Lokal Anzeiger writes today in part:

"It is good news from Prof. Einstein that he is not coming back. He is angry at us and will stay in America. Einstein's declaration that he would not set foot on German soil so long as present conditions last implies for him a relatively long absence but for us absolutely unclouded satisfaction. Relativity is little in demand here just now. On the contrary, national honor and patriotism, which Einstein wanted to see extirpated, have become absolute values again for Germans.

"But Einstein will not keep still. He had been in New York hardly a day before he had twice thrown his 'powerful personality' against Germany. At a pacifist meeting he was reported to have called for the moral intervention of the entire world against Germany and Hitlerism.

"Now at a time when America is mendaciously 'informed' about Germany and egged on against her by unclean Marxist and democratic propaganda fed out via Prague, Vienna, Warsaw, Paris, and London, this puffed up bit of vanity dares to sit in judgment on Germany without knowing what is going on here—matters that forever must remain incomprehensible to a man who was never a German in our eyes and who declared himself to be a Jew and nothing but a Jew."

AUSTRIA CALLS 7,000 RESERVES INTO THE ARMY

VIENNA, March 17.—(AP)—It was officially announced tonight that President Miklas has called in a part of the army reserves to fill a gap in the present Austrian army.

The treaty of St. Germain, it was recalled, allows Austria an army of 30,000 men and officers. The actual present strength, however, is only 23,000.

Recruiting and training new men to bring the army to full strength "would take too long," it was explained.

INDICTED AS DIVORCEE'S SLAYER.

Ottawa, Ill., March 10.—[Special.]—A murder indictment was returned here today for Arthur Bigney, Hannibal, Mo., waterway worker, who last month shot and killed his sweetheart, Patsy Shubnell, Chicago divorcee. Bigney said he killed the woman when he found her with their host, John McCormick.

SEEKS NEW U. S. LAW TO PERMIT LOAN FOR RELIEF

Illinois Board Lacks April Funds for Idle.

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission yesterday instructed its officials to urge passage of federal legislation making new funds available for relief in Illinois during April. Cook county commissioners who attended the meeting agreed to place $4,748,000 of county relief bonds on sale publicly for the second time to aid in raising funds.

Funds on hand for the administration of relief to the idle will be exhausted on the first of the month, the commission was informed by Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary. The sales tax enacted recently cannot be placed in operation to provide funds for relief before May 1, or perhaps as late as May 15, he said.

Exceed Borrowing Limit.

In the interim about $9,000,000 will be required to support the idle on the present standards, he said. This is at the rate of about $200,000 a day. If the county's relief bonds cannot be disposed of on the second offering they will be offered to the Reconstruction Finance corporation as collateral on a loan, although Illinois has exceeded its limit of $45,000,000 in loans from that agency.

The commissioners who pledged themselves to try to dispose of the remaining county relief bonds were Peter M. Kelly, William Busse, Amelia Sears, and Mrs. Marie Plumb. No bids were received when the entire county relief issue of $17,000,000 was offered previously, and since then $12,252,000 of the bonds have been deposited with the R. F. C. against loans.

Seek to Lift U. S. Loan Limit.

The commission's instructions to its officers on federal legislation were not specific, Mr. Reynolds said, but the intent is to make it possible for the R. F. C. to accept the remaining county bonds as collateral for a relief loan, and possibly to remove restrictions that now keep the federal agency from loaning any additional funds to Illinois for relief, with or without collateral.

Edward L. Ryerson Jr., who had resigned as chairman of the commission, served in that capacity yesterday pending a reorganization of the commission by Gov. Horner. Mr. Ryerson said he was sitting as chairman only temporarily.

PRESIDENT FAVORS ADDED U. S. LOANS FOR STATE RELIEF

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt is determined to have the federal government come to the rescue of Chicago and Illinois in providing funds for relieving the woes of the idle.

This became known today as the President, on his plans for submitting to congress, possibly on Monday, a message dealing with the emergency relief needs of the nation.

Although it was not stated that the President will include Illinois' plight in his message, he has made it plain to various advisers that some plan for extending additional credit to that state must be adopted.

At present Illinois has borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance corporation practically up to the limit allowed. No state is permitted to borrow more than 15 per cent of the total of 300 million dollars set aside for relief loans to the states, and Illinois has borrowed $44,700,000 of $45,000,000 to which it is entitled.

The President has been informed that with the money still remaining in the relief funds of the R. F. C. most of the states can be given sufficient help to tide them over until the end of May, but he let it be known that he will urge steps either by creating additional funds for the R. F. C. or by stretching the percentage above 15 per cent, whereby Illinois and similarly situated states can borrow further.

'Ukulele Ike' Lists Debts After Bankruptcy Action

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—[Special.]—Cliff Edwards, (Ukulele Ike), entertainer and movie comedian, today filed a schedule of liabilities and assets in connection with his recently filed bankruptcy petition in which he lists debts at $68,207 and assets at "minus money and $200 in wearing apparel, which is exempt." One liability is $40,000 owed his ex-wife, Irene Edwards, former show girl, as a portion of a divorce property settlement, and another is $2,981 for federal income taxes in 1931.

HANDBILL DISTRIBUTOR STABBED.

Edward Hill, 35 years old, 2106 South La Salle street, a handbill distributor, was in the county hospital yesterday in a serious condition after being stabbed in a fight at 239 West 23d street.

MERCHANTS PLAN TO PASS SALES TAX ON TO BUYER

Rules for Collection Still to Be Drafted.

Chicago merchants yesterday began conferences to determine how they may pass the recently enacted 3 per cent sales tax on to consumers. A group of store executives from all sections of the city met at Carson Pirie Scott & Co. and they will confer today with Joseph J. Rice, state director of finance, who will have charge of collecting the levy.

The sales tax probably will become a law early next week, when Gov. Horner is expected to sign bills passed by both house and senate of the general assembly. Collection machinery must be set up in time to record the first returns which will start reaching the department of finance after April 1.

Will Plan Collection Rules.

The merchants expect to have several conferences with Mr. Rice, delivering suggestions and recommendations for collection. From these and suggestions from other sources, a set of regulations will be drawn after the law has been interpreted.

The job of applying the tax on purchases below 30 cents was discussed in long hearings before the bills were adopted by the legislature, but no definite means was worked out. Retailers with this special problem on their hands include the milk and ice dealers, much of whose business these days is composed of cash sales.

Thus, how to add a 3 per cent tax to the sale of a 9 cent quart of milk or 20 cents' worth of ice was one phase of the discussion yesterday. The lack of fractional coins was the stumbling block. It was proposed to meet this by making the tax a stamp tax, whereby mill stamps could be bought by consumers and delivered to merchants with purchases.

Legal Barrier Pointed Out.

Legislative experts in Springfield ruled that that provision in the bill would endanger its constitutionality, so the suggestion was not pushed.

The merchants who appeared before the assembly said that they would not have such trouble with monthly bills to customers.

The tax will be imposed upon all retail sales save those of gasoline and farm products sold at retail from the farms. Gasoline is already subject to a 3 cent per gallon tax by the state. The farm exemption is designed to release the farmer who sells butter, eggs, milk, and other products from a roadside stand upon his premises from paying the levy.

Court Turns Over Estate of Schildhauer to Widow

Mrs. Frances Schildhauer, whose husband, Edwin O. Schildhauer, bandmaster at Austin High school, was mysteriously murdered several months ago, was yesterday granted letters of administration for her husband's estate by Oscar S. Caplan, assistant to Probate Judge Taylor. The estate consists of household goods and salary due from the school board, all of which will go to the widow under the law.

BELIEVES 95% OF IDLE WANT TO WORK FOR RELIEF

Ninety-five per cent of the men receiving relief for their families from the county or state prefer to exchange their own labor for it, but the remainder constitute a fringe willing to let the community support them. This view was expressed yesterday by Martin H. Bickham, originator of the "earned relief" program in Cook county, after checking up on the operation of the plan, which to date has distributed approximately $6,000,000 in wages that otherwise might have been a dole.

Champaign county has a system by which practically the entire $90,000 a month spent for relief is paid out in wages for work done by otherwise unemployed men. In Chicago, only about 10 per cent of the relief is so administered. Yet in the thirty months since it was inaugurated, "work turns" have been provided for 150,000 individuals.

A 13 per cent decrease in traffic accidents to children last year, reported by the safety commission, is believed by Mr. Bickham to be due to the employment of 575 unemployed men as traffic officers, thus releasing 500 policemen for crime duty.

Taylorville Man Named to Civil Service Commission

Springfield, Ill., March 17. — (AP) — Ernest Hoover, Taylorville banker, today was appointed to the state civil service commission by Gov. Horner. Hoover will succeed Harry Kreamer, East St. Louis, also a Democrat, who died recently.

The governor said Gen. John V. Clinnin, Chicago, would take his place on the commission shortly as minority member. He succeeds Mrs. Mabel Shirk, Republican, Chicago.

The nominations of Hoover and Clinnin will be sent to the senate next week.

BILL TO EXTEND BANKING LAW STIRS UP FIGHT

Some House Members Ask for Delay.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Open rebellion at the tactics of Chairman Henry B. Steagall [Dem., Ala.] of the banking and currency committee today delayed house action on the Robinson bill designed to bring nonmember state banks within the purview of the recently enacted emergency bank law.

The committee chairman sought to bring the bill up for house consideration within a few hours after it had been "messaged over" from the senate. A number of representatives, including three of his own committeemen, objected on the ground that he had not given them or the house adequate opportunity to study the provisions of the measure.

Decide to Change Bill.

The bill, which aims at enabling state banks to obtain the "sound asset" currency authorized in the emergency banking act was passed by the senate last Tuesday. It arrived in the house today. Its whereabouts, meanwhile, had occasioned some conjecture. It was explained today that treasury officials, who originally drafted it, had discovered that the senate bill did not actually accomplish its intended purpose and had decided to rewrite it before sending it to the house.

Chairman Steagall, asking unanimous consent for immediate consideration, described the measure as of utmost importance and declared that its passage today was imperative.

Representative Carroll Beedy [Rep., Me.], a member of the banking and currency group, insisted that it was impossible for the membership of the house or of the committee to understand a measure when not even printed copies were available. He pointed out that since the senate is in recess until Monday on final action could be taken until then. He protested that house approval should not be given hurriedly. His stand was backed up by Representative Robert Luce [Rep., Mass.] and Representative Jeff Busby [Dem., Mich.], also members of the banking and currency committee.

For State Banks.

The measure provides that nonmember state banks be allowed to borrow on "eligible" security from federal reserve banks in the same manner as member banks of the federal reserve system. Mr. Beedy declared that the term "eligible" should be defined clearly so as to insure equal treatment for all state banks. Chairman Steagall was equally insistent that such a definition was unnecessary.

The violent wrangle finally was ended when Mr. Beedy objected to the chairman's unanimous consent request. But not before Representative Claude A. Fuller [Dem., Ark.] had shouted that the country "will think we're a lot of sons of jackasses here," if "we don't stop passing legislation without knowing what it does."

FINED FOR "FIXING" PHONE.

Albert Rothschild, 31 years old, 1109 Jarvis avenue, was fined $5 and costs yesterday by Judge Frank M. Padden on the charge that he had stuffed rags into the return slot of a phone in a county building booth in order to collect the money returned by the operator.

Senate 3.05 beer and wine bill sent to conference by house to iron out differences with house 3.2 bill.

Speaker Rainey signed $500,000,000 administration economy bill expected to go to White House after Vice President Garner signs it Monday.

Treasury announced increase in income tax collections over those for first half of March, last year.

FORMER CLUB STEWARD FINED ON RUM CHARGE

Henry Malmgren, a former steward at the Swedish Club of Chicago, was fined $150 yesterday by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward for violation of the prohibition law. The fine ended court proceedings that followed the prohibition raid on the clubhouse at 1258 North La Salle street more than a year ago.

The prohibition agents invaded the club, that includes in its membership a number of prominent citizens, and seized a large quantity of choice liquors. Malmgren, who assumed entire responsibility for the raid, was the only one held for trial by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

The agents also seized some furnishings of the club during the raid. These were later returned. No injunction proceedings have been instituted as a result of the raid.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

ECONOMY AT SPRINGFIELD.

The Civic federation calls timely attention to measures now pending at Springfield which, if passed, would add substantially to the burden of taxation in Illinois. The headway which is being made under the President's leadership for reduction of federal spending should not distract us from the need of control at home.

The federation underlines four bills especially. Senate bill 234, identical with house bill 229, requires all governmental units to pay the prevailing rate of wages on all public works. A similar law of 1931 landed emergency highway construction in confusion and forced delay when employment was greatly needed. Fortunately it was held unconstitutional by the Supreme court. The experience of other states with such laws, the federation reports, shows that they increase taxes or block improvement work.

Senate bill 42, house bill 125, would raise the tax rate in order to establish an old age pension fund for persons over 70 years old. That is a measure of socialism which calls for a great deal of study and public consideration before it is fastened upon the people of Illinois.

House bill 301 would double the working cash fund tax of the Chicago schools, raising the rate from 10 up to 20 cents per $100, assessed value, and making this increase effective for 1933.

House bill 318 would pay Chicago school janitors and engineers from the building fund, now reserved for grounds, buildings, and major repairs, instead of from the educational or current expense fund. It also removes the limitation upon the educational levy providing against increases more than 4 per cent over the previous year. This protection from raids should not be broken down. The school engineers and janitors' items of the budget have been criticized as excessive, the federation reminds us, by every recent report on school expenditure.

Other measures create new government agencies and two others authorize issuance of bonds without referendum.

The demand for tax relief and reduction of expenditure, general and imperative as it is among the people, will be evaded in detail unless there is care among the friends of economy in the assembly. On the other side of the picture the federation notes many bills to reduce costs actively pressed by Representatives Burns, Green, and others. Representative Burns' important detailed proposals, summarized in yesterday's TRIBUNE, are a notable contribution to the effort for genuine economy. Bills also are pending for consolidation and reorganization of bureaus and services. A subcommittee of the Illinois commission on taxation and expenditures is in charge; general chairman, Representative Schnackenberg; members, Senator Roberts and Representatives Hennebry and Browner. These measures should be given strong support from taxpayers and organizations throughout the state.

Meanwhile Gov. Horner is already reducing expenses through the elimination of nonessential services and salary reductions. Substantial relief of the taxpayers will be accomplished if they will make their need heard emphatically at Springfield. The governor and the men who are fighting their cause in the assembly deserve their support and it should be given promptly and forcefully.

MR. BORAH AND MR. FESS.

The old guard of the dry Napoleon, Bishop James Cannon Jr., did not die, but neither did it surrender. Mr. Borah, the big potato, and Mr. Fess, the antediluvian Ohioan, in their motheaten shakos of a lost cause, stood in the front ranks to say their say and take it on the chin.

Inasmuch as the day went against them and their cause is a lost cause it will be permitted their friends to congratulate them on the fact that, bad as their theories of national government in this particular are, they did not to the end deviate from the error of their ways. It is possible also to offer the two and all others who persist in their feeling in the matter some advice and some encouragement. What has been done and what is being prepared is merely in the line of a restoration of state authority. Mr. Borah as a tongue of living eloquence still has his own state, Idaho, to influence to the conduct which he thinks moral and just. If he can prevail in his own state, and particularly in such regions as that of Cœur d'Alène, he will have accomplished all that should be reasonable in the ethical expectations of any American statesman. If he will examine the foundations of his national government he will discover that such a limitation of his obligations in the matter of human morals was wisely provided. Nothing that congress has done and nothing that the people of the country may do in respect to prohibition will coerce Idaho into any behavior which its people condemn.

The same consolation may be offered the intrepid and moral Mr. Fess. Ohio is a great state and if he can persuade it that it would be wrong for it to permit the sale of a malt beverage, even in Cincinnati, which still remembers Over the Rhine, this should satisfy him that he has done not only all that could be expected reasonably of any citizen but all that should be allowed any state to decide. If neither Mr. Fess nor Mr. Borah can persuade the citizens of Milwaukee that they are living in sin if they sit of a summer evening in a colorful and attractive pavilion, listening to a large orchestra playing some delightful music while they sip a beverage palatable and not within their experience destructive, the statesmen of the old guard might reflect that it has not required of them, politically or ethically, to assume responsibilities for the habits of Milwaukee or Chicago or New York, and that a failure will not be entered in the book against them.

The new era of reason into which the United States is entering, being an era of reason, is neither dictatorial nor tyrannous. It does not insist that people do things which would lie upon their conscience, nor does it compel or even permit them to step beyond the boundaries of their state and take a whip to people who may disagree with them. Much experience has persuaded the majority of the American people that these provisions are wise and workable.

MR. MAC DONALD'S ARMIES.

Ramsay MacDonald's proposals to the arms conference have at least the value of being specific, although even in that respect they do not go very far beyond other proposals which have been given the cold shoulder in Geneva. Their chief interest to the United States is that they hold on to the idea, still strong in Europe and encouraged by Mr. Kellogg and Mr. Stimson, that the United States must underwrite the security of Europe in any agreement it may reach. The curious American statesmanship of the years since the armistice has given substance to the European hope that an American policeman will be found walking a European beat.

The United States has to face the fact that no matter how preposterous and irrational such proposals may be, they have not been rejected by the American department of state, although they have been turned down flatly every time they got into an American election. It cannot be said that the world minded American secretaries proposed and the American people disposed. The secretaries go their way, disregarding what the people tell them to do. This republic is constantly confronted with the danger of decisions made absolutely contrary to the expressed will of the American democracy. Protests thus far have been unavailing; and how the country is to escape from the international arrangements it does not want to enter is not at this time apparent.

Europe provided for its security for many years prior to 1870 upon just about such a basis as Mr. MacDonald proposes. The nations in arms were created after the Franco-Prussian war. Before then France thought its national defense was in good order with about such an army as Mr. MacDonald would give it. Nothing then was thought of the necessity of American intervention in any war which Europe might have, and European wars of diplomatic check and balance had been monotonously repetitious.

Why a correction of the military insanity which came into its crimson bloom in 1914 requires a guaranty backed by American military force is apparent nowhere in the logic of the situation.

The British recognize one thing that is apparent to common sense. It is also verified by the European record. The German people cannot be humiliated forever or even for many more years by the limitations put upon them. All that is accomplished by these restrictions is an intensification of national resentment in a people particularly sensitive to such an injury to their national pride. If anything could be calculated specifically to keep the military spirit of Germany at a fever heat, it would be a restriction imposed on their national defense organization.

ONE BUDGET THAT WAS BALANCED.

Young Theodore Roosevelt retires from his office of governor general of the Philippines with the distinction of having been one of a handful of public administrators in these depression years to have balanced his budget. There may be others who turned the trick, but their names do not come to mind. All the great nations of the world and most of the small ones have unbalanced budgets. The United States may get its outgo down to its income by a year from the coming summer. England and France are in the same boat. Japan is one of the worst offenders against sound fiscal practices. And so on.

Young Teddy has had to use all his powers of persuasion and all the influence of his office to get the Filipinos to face the realities. The pay roll has had to be scaled down. Jobs have been abolished and salaries have been reduced. Roosevelt can come home with the satisfaction of having done a hard task well.

Editorial of the Day

COMMON SENSE AT THE CAPITAL.

[Boone, Ia., News-Republican.]

If the "new deal" means the exercising of ordinary American horse sense in Washington the country will revive.

The most important task is balancing the budget by the only common sense method of cutting expenditures. The Democratic platform promised 25 per cent reduction from the current outlay. That isn't enough for future necessities, but if the American people get that much, with a promise of more reduction, business will perk up. Just one example is enough to demonstrate what this shiftless congress is doing. The interstate commerce committee for "valuing the railroads" has worked for twenty years at the cost of many millions of dollars. The railroads are not "valued" yet, but the present congress didn't have the nerve to cut one cent from the appropriation.

Another example is the department which tells a mother how to take care of babies, at a great cost to the taxpayers. This "maternalism" should be cut out root and branch.

The next step should be calling in the loans to European debtors. These have run for over ten years and are overdue. If the taxpayers of the United States knew that the dilly-daily methods of the present administration were to be reversed and that this $11,000,000,000 of war debts were not to be saddled onto them business would take another hitch in its pyjamas and breathe easier.

The next thing would be to stop the extravagance of the federal farm board and the Reconstruction Finance corporation. We have poured enough money into a rat hole in direct competition with private business to tide over any tidable emergency. More waste of money that should be working in real business will still further clog the wheels of enterprise.

If the "new deal" means business sense, the country will recover inside of a year. But if the ascendancy of the Democratic party to control at the capital simply means a different gang of freebooters, the business of the country will continue in the doldrums.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IT'S JUST TOO BAD that real beer is coming back right at the time when we are counting our money so carefully. For we've simply got to drink beer in steins; there's some sort of law about it. Anyhow, beer doesn't taste right or look natural in ordinary tumblers; you drink milk out of those things. Beer belongs in steins, steins with pictures of castles and knights and meistersingers in red, green, black and gold, and proclaiming in bold letters, "Glück Auf! Glück Zu!", "Prosit!", "Gesundheit!", "Immer Noch Ein Troepfgen," or "Hoch, Dreimal Hoch!"

"BRITISH BREAK with Soviet Russia Near."—Headline. Another certain and infallible sign of spring—the British always break with soviet Russia in the spring. And in the same way we can always tell when winter is approaching, because just before then the headlines say: "New Trade Agreement Arranged Between British and Soviet Russia."

POOH-POOHING the President and his new deal, George Bernard Shaw, talking right through his whiskers, says that while every one thinks Mr. Roosevelt is going to do something he is not going to do anything. "No, your fine democratic institutions prevent it. What did Mr. Hoover do? Nothing. Yet he was a good man with sound ideas." We would answer Mr. Shaw by saying he cannot have written a worthwhile play because there is a man living in the woods down in Missouri with whiskers who never wrote a worthwhile play, which proves conclusively that no man with whiskers could ever have written a worthwhile play. Therefore, Mr. Shaw, having whiskers, never wrote a worthwhile play.

AUCTION.

A blue-green bowl
Of Chinese porcelain!
And you, who can,
Will raise the bid again.

I must sit by
And quiet my desire . . .
The bowl is yours,
For I can bid no higher.

What do you want
With it? What do you care?
To you—another
Bowl to put somewhere.

A Chinese potter's glaze . . .
I saw it with Young cherry blossom sprays—

(Not real, to be sure!)
My small room would have grown
Alive with it,
Alive, and more my own.

I would have had
Spring with me all the year;
I would have felt
Far, dreamed-of places near:

Pagodas, narrow
Streets and slanted eyes,
Gay, colorful
Bazaars, staccato cries.

I would have had
So much I have not had . . .
You hold the package

FERRY ADAMS.

THE STATUS of our new mayor of Chicago seems to be about the same as that of the king of England. He can kiss babies, lay corner stones of hospitals, cut white ribbons to open new highways, dedicate flower shows, and speak gracious words of welcome to distinguished visitors. Well, they're both nice jobs at that and much more useful to humanity than being a statue in a park or a foreign ambassador.

FIFTY PER CENT pay cut on movie stars' salaries in Hollywood. Too bad, too bad! That's going to cause real destitution in the homes of the cinema kings and queens. Instead of sending the butler down to the jewelers for a bucketful of diamonds and rubies they can only buy half a bucketful. Instead of a new sable coat every month they will have to struggle along in their pathetic poverty with a new sable coat only once in every two months. No case of champagne every day now; only half a case. And instead of a new model, thirty cylinder imported car every month they'll have to drive shamefaced and blushing in a car at least two weeks old and that cost a trumperty ten thousand dollars. Oh, how the old wolf is howling at the doors of the haughty aristocrats of the silver screen since that salary cut. But if the old depression is on the way out and things are going to look up very shortly that old wolf prowling around Hollywood had better look out or he will find a large tin can tied to his tail. But, no, not a tin can: it would be a solid silver can, studded with rare gems, filled with orchids and American Beauty roses, and autographed most elaborately with the names of the kings and queens of the cinema world.

"SCIENTISTS DISCOVER CATFISH Forecast Earthquakes."—Headline. Thus is it again proved that there's good in everything. Catfish aren't good to eat, they're too big for the goldfish bowl, and they're just fish bums that muck around in the river and drive away respectable fish that want to lead quiet, decent, orderly lives. But they can forecast earthquakes. After this we'll keep one in the cellar and if an earthquake happens along and he has failed to warn us we'll go down and give him a swift kick in the pants.

UNCLE ANDY MELLON, homeward bound from England, says: "Roosevelt is doing quite well." Which is mighty nice of Andy, but he ought to go a trifle further and say that F. D. writes a good hand and is kind to his folks.

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

FREQUENT COLDS.

THE debate among physicians, bacteriologists, and physiologists relative to colds fortunately shows no sign of stopping. If it be made to hold the interest of these groups for a few more years there is possibility of progress and we very much need both information and interest. The common cold causes more loss of time from work, creates more inefficiency, and leads indirectly to more disease and death than does any other disorder. In the region where malaria reigns that disease destroys energy, capacity, inventiveness, courage, and aggressiveness. Hookworm makes people supine, without courage, and generally incapable. But these infections are limited in their spread. The disease known as coryza, or the common cold, is everywhere—in every climate, in every race, and it affects every man, woman, and child.

A Berlin letter to the Journal of the American Medical Association quotes Dr. F. Schmidt's opinions on the common cold. He found that whereas everybody has colds only one person in ten has a great tendency to take cold on slight provocation. Some one else has divided people into two groups: Those who have five acute attacks a year (those that Dr. Schmidt calls the 10 per cent group) and those who have fewer colds than that, his 90 per cent group.

In his 10 per cent group Dr. Schmidt found two conditions. The first was that the discharges from their nasal passages showed large numbers of harmful bacteria. This was between colds, when the subject considered himself normal. There are always a few bacteria in the nasal discharges. What he was reporting was not the usual presence of a few bacteria but their abundance. If his views are substantiated a bacteriologic examination of the nose secretions made between colds should throw some light on the case.

His second point was that this 10 per cent did not have good heat regulating apparatus. They chilled easily, got goose flesh on slight provocation, suffered from cold feet, and were a long time warming up after becoming cold.

The observation supports the rather general opinion that one way to pull out of the 10 per cent class is to harden one's self. This is done by taking cold baths, standing nude before an open window, thus taking a cold air bath and fighting wind and snow storms. The theory is that one can in this way make himself a good heat maker and, what is more important, he can train his vasomotor apparatus to keep the feet and legs, the skin, and the mucuous membranes of the nose filled with blood and thus maintain local heat and keep up resistance to infection with colds.

It also explains why some people are not helped by the hardening process. Unless the exposure leads to a reaction, a skin glow, and a rise of temperature in the membranes of the nose it does harm. The man who remains blue and has gooseflesh and tooth chattering after a cold bath, and in spite of a rub, had better stick to a warm tub.

FLUORINE AND TEETH.

L. E. H. writes: What is there to the news story sent from Atlantic City to the effect that too much fluorine in the drinking water causes the teeth to be mottled?

REPLY.

The theory to that effect is several years old and many articles about it have appeared in this column. The fact is now quite well established. The best proof of it has come from points in Arizona and Arkansas. The waters from many places have been examined as to fluorine content. Your local or state health department should be able to tell you about the fluorine content of waters in your vicinity.

THERE IS MUCH DOUBT.

G. M. writes: Referring to your article on the reason for paresis, what do you mean by "the view of the Columbian origin of syphilis"? What is the universally accepted origin of syphilis in the United States?

REPLY.

There is no universally accepted opinion. Many think that Columbus found syphilis in America and that his sailors carried it back to Europe just in times for Charles' soldiers to spread it over the continent. Many hold that the disease was present in Europe long before the days of Columbus and, if his sailors carried it in either direction, they brought it to America. Some think it was on both continents before Columbus was born. There is no way to settle the matter.

RETAINS CITIZENSHIP.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., March 14.—[Friend of the People.]—My wife came to this country in 1906 from Norway. She was married in 1912 to a native born citizen. She was again married in 1919 to a native born citizen from whom she was divorced in 1932. I married her in August, 1932. I am also a native born citizen. What is the status of her citizenship?

J. M. B.

The wife became a citizen by her marriage to the first husband in 1912 and apparently has not lost her citizenship.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director, U. S. Department of Labor.

TITLE TO PROPERTY.

Chicago, March 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My home was in my wife's name when she died, leaving no will. 1. What action must I take to get possession of same? 2. Can I sell or bestow same to my heirs in my will without having the name changed on the deed?

J. H. C.

1. Unless the property is now in the possession of a person who refuses to give it up no action for possession would be in question. In order to produce a merchantable title probate proceedings would be necessary.
2. See 1.

MORTGAGE PAYMENTS.

Chicago, March 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—About three years ago we took out a six year mortgage on our home for $7,800. We have not been able to pay much on the principal, but have at all times paid the interest. We are now asked for a quitclaim deed to the property as they say they cannot hold it any longer. Please advise what to do.

E. Z.

We see no reason why you should give them a quitclaim deed unless they are willing to give you something in return. How much you should ask would depend in part on an estimate of your chances of refinancing during the 15 months that would be allowed for redemption.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MORTGAGE DEFAULT.

Chicago, March 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am holder of a mortgage which is in default. I am certain that the party who signed the mortgage notes has money on deposit with the postal savings bank. Is it possible for me to confess judgment on said savings account?

L. I. F.

Your right to confess judgment depends on the wording of your note. It has nothing to do with the nature of the assets against which you expect to enforce your judgment. You are not in a position to reach the postal savings account.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 18, 1917.

NEW YORK.—"I believe that by Monday we shall reach an agreement which will avert a strike." This statement was made this evening by W. G. Lee, chief of the trainmen and spokesman for the railway brotherhoods. It was the first significant word touching the outlook that was given out by any of the parties to the strike conferences which ended at 3:30 o'clock with the announcement that a forty-eight hour truce had been declared. Mr. Lee's statement for the brotherhoods was taken to mean that the efforts of the President's committee of mediators, representing the council of national defense, not only had been successful in halting the strike tonight, but that with the resumption of conferences tomorrow and Monday the whole situation probably would be cleared and the country again assured of normal transportation conditions.

PETROGRAD. — The triumph of democracy in Russia was complete today. It now only remains for the people to decide the form the government is to have in the future. The abdication of the czar on March 15 carried with it the refusal of the crown prince to accept the throne. Then the Grand Duke Michael, younger brother of the czar, refused to accept the crown until a plebiscite shows that the people are in favor of this action. A report current here states that the republic of United States of Russia has been proclaimed with Prince Luoff as president.

LONDON.—The Somme front in France was the scene of the greatest war movement in two years. In a joint offensive the British and French forces ripped the enemy's entire line along a sixty mile front from northwest of Bapaume to the Oise river. The Germans are retiring rapidly from both the Arras salient and the great Noyon sector. It is thought probable here that the Germans do not intend to make a stand until they have reached a line extending from the Douai region southeast to Soissons, thus eliminating the two great bends in the Picardy front. Hundreds of square miles of territory will be evacuated if this plan is carried out. Bapaume, the German stronghold, which has been the goal of the British for eight months; Roye, the bastion in the German line of defense along the western side of the Noyon salient, which has withstood the onslaughts of the French for two years, and no less than seventeen villages and fortified posts fell into the hands of the British and French troops. All had been held by the enemy ever since the fall of 1914.

OTHER WAR NEWS.—In the Adige valley zone on the Italian front there was intense artillery activity on both sides. Paris reports the destruction of the Zeppelin L-39, which had come from a flight in the region of Paris, after dropping several bombs. French anti-aircraft guns brought down the raider.

MILWAUKEE.—Resolutions pledging loyalty to President Wilson in whatever steps he may take in protecting American lives and rights in the present international crisis were adopted at a massmeeting of more than 7,000 persons called by the citizens' committee for the purpose "of offsetting reports that Milwaukee is disloyal."

THE QUEBEC PLAN.

Chicago, March 14.—Being a native of Quebec, naturally I was interested in your recent editorial regarding our liquor control system. I am sorry, however, to have to differ with you as to the success of our plan, as it is not so effective as you picture it. I am neither a fanatic nor a bigot and would welcome any plan that worked successfully, but regret to say we have not yet discovered it. We have the problem of increased drinking among our young people; in fact, they have found the government controlled liquor too expensive and are drinking a concoction of beer and illicitly distilled alcohol. According to wet propaganda spread in Canada, prohibition in the United States is such a dismal failure that one is confronted by reeling drunkards at every turn, but as a matter of fact in my business, which has brought me to Chicago for an indefinite stay and which business brings me into contact with people of all classes, I have not seen any more drunkenness—in fact, not so much—as I see at home. In passing I also desire to say that I am enraptured with your beautiful city, which has been so cruelly maligned, and I am writing all my relatives and friends to make a special effort to come to Chicago during the World's Fair. QUEBEC.

VICTORY.

Chicago, March 14.—After thirteen years of fanatical legislation—I mean specifically the eighteenth amendment, the Volstead act, and the nefarious Jones law—in which most of the state legislatures vied with the congress in the work of divesting us of our personal liberties until they had left us, as they thought, social eunuchs, the tide is turned on the fanatics and they welter in confusion and dismay.

During most of these joyless years the newspapers of the country were either with the enemies of personal liberty or were silently neutral—except THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the citadel of the people's rights, which stood four square against the fanatic army. Day after day, month after month, and year after year THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE fought the army of dry fanatics, until today that blue-nosed horde of hypocrites is in utter rout.

"Let the whole line advance," for victory is ours.

JOHN MULVIHILL.

VANDALS AT THE CERMAK TOMB.

Park Ridge, Ill., March 13.—Out of sympathy to our friend, the late Mayor Cermak, I wish to express myself to those who so shamefully destroyed the beautiful floral designs by pulling off the ribbons, the flowers and even carrying away the designs themselves as souvenirs, leaving nothing but a rubbish heap for the late comers to see. It seems to me that the cemetery association should have stopped such a disgraceful act. I suppose if the other six large designs had not been roped off around the vault they would have destroyed them and carried them off also. It was a most shocking sight.

MRS. MAE I. PAUSKA.

A FIXER AT WORK.

Chicago, March 14.—Today, while standing in line at counter No. 8, room 107, city hall, waiting to pay my city vehicle tax, I overheard a clerk at counter No. 5 call a woman friend on the telephone and, in a loud voice that must have been heard by several persons besides myself standing in line there, explain how he had already fixed two recent traffic tickets for her husband—one for speeding, the other for passing a street car on the left—and how her husband could now dispose of the third, a ticket for passing a red signal, which, it seems, had been handed to this tax paid fixer.

Of course, we all know that tickets are, and probably always will be, fixed by the bale and that almost any tinhorn clerk in the city hall can favor a friend now and then, but I hardly supposed that any employé of the city could be dumb enough to air the above related circumstances so openly and loudly.

The regrettable part of all this is not, of course, the mere fixing of tickets, for the petty tactics of a few of our traffic cops are entirely out of harmony with public opinion. But here is an automobile driver, a menace to every one on the streets, who can willfully disregard important traffic laws and get away with it. Surely our laws should be effective enough to prevent this dangerous condition from continuing.

S. R. H.

THE VETERANS' SENTIMENTS.

Two Rivers, Wis., March 13.—Through the medium of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE we wish to inform the public that there are many veterans of the world war who are heartily in support of President Roosevelt's economy program in so far as concerns the veterans' appropriation. As an example of this statement, 27 out of 30 veterans of the world war concurred in a telegram to the senators from this state requesting that they support the President's program. Time did not permit the writer to approach over 30 veterans to sign this petition.

Without a doubt this same ratio would prevail throughout the entire country, which is indicative of the fact that the various veterans' lobbies do not express the sentiments of all ex-service men.

No one will deny that veterans who were wounded or disabled in the line of duty are entitled to the fullest support from our government. The President's program will not affect those veterans. This country is experiencing an unparalleled economic disturbance and it is therefore as patriotic for all ex-service men to support our government now as in the days of the world war.

SURFACE CARS FOR THE FAIR.

Chicago, March 13.—The Surface lines should not be permitted to build an unsightly viaduct over Michigan boulevard at Roosevelt road. Remember what happened at the Pageant of Progress. The ugly tracks are still along the lake shore. Once installed they never come out. Double trolley buses will serve the Fair very well without tracks or noise.

DAY'S GIFTS FOR HUNGRY PUPILS DROP TO $28.75

8,000 Children Depend on Contributions.

Contributions to the Hungry School Children's fund slipped down to $28.75 yesterday.

With more than 8,000 children in 100 public schools dependent upon the generosity of TRIBUNE readers, it is a discouraging day when the gifts to the fund drop so low. These needy children will be looking to the Hungry School Children's fund for their hot noonday lunch until the school year ends in June, and the fund must not fail them.

An average of five cents a meal for a grade school child and fifteen cents for the high school and junior high school pupil is spent for these lunches. If you send a dollar, reader, you may know that every cent of it goes to feed hungry children. There is no overhead cost in the administration of this fund.

This afternoon a marionette play, "The Sleeping Tsarevena and the Three Giants," will be presented in the North Shore Art league studio of the Winnetka community house by students of the art class. The children made the sets and marionettes under the direction of Hope Degenhardt. The proceeds will go to the Hungry School Children's fund.

$5.00—P. F. M., Sheila, Alice Larsen.
$1.00—J. A. B., Anonymous.
$0.80—Just Folks.
Total	$ 28.75
Previously acknowledged	22,280.28
Grand total	$22,309.03

Hungry School Children Fund

There are 15,000 children who go to public school hungry every morning. A dime a day will furnish a substantial noonday meal for each of them.

I will contribute $..... weekly..... monthly, or the enclosed donation.

GORDON LEWIS, FILM COMEDIAN, KILLS HIMSELF

Tucson, Ariz., March 17.—(AP)—Gordon Lewis, 42, motion picture character actor and comedian, killed himself here today, investigators said, by shooting himself through the head.

Officers reported W. H. Lewis, his father, said the actor was subject to hallucinations, imagining "people always were pointing guns" at him.

Lewis came to Tucson three days ago from Hollywood. He formerly was a resident of Harrison, Ark.

FALL IS FATAL TO BRIG. GEN. KING, FIGHTER, AUTHOR

Milwaukee, Wis., March 17.—[Special.]—Brig. Gen. Charles King, whose range of active service in the United States army stretched from the civil to the world war, died in his hotel quarters here today at the age of 88. Gen. King fractured a shoulder when he tripped over a rug Wednesday evening, and the shock of the injury contributed to his death, physicians said.

Within recent years Gen. King was an instructor in military tactics at St. John's Military academy, Delafield, Wis., and for the Wisconsin National Guard, with which he first was identified before the Spanish-American war. Mounted on a favorite white horse, he was the leader of most of Milwaukee's military parades.

Born of Army Family.

Gen. King came of a military family, with service records running back to colonial times. His father, Brig. Gen. Rufus King, was in command of troops stationed near Washington at the outbreak of the civil war, and he first saw military service at the age of 16 as a messenger on his father's staff. He frequently carried messages to President Lincoln, and when he was 17 the President appointed him to West Point.

The civil war was over when he was graduated, and as a young second lieutenant he became an Indian fighter in the famous 5th cavalry under Gen. George A. Custer. He was married in 1872 to Miss Adelaide Yorke, daughter of a New Orleans sea captain. They had a baby daughter shortly before he left to campaign in Arizona against the Apache Indians.

Wounded by Indians.

He was wounded in 1874 during an Apache campaign. Although he remained in service four years more, he was eventually forced to retire because of his wounds. He returned to Milwaukee, which had been his boyhood home, and took up the writing of fiction. During the remainder of his life he wrote about sixty books, among which the best known were "Cadet Days," "Captain Blake" and "The Iron Brigade."

Shortly after his retirement from the army he became an instructor of the Wisconsin National Guard. He was for two years adjutant general of the state, and at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war took command of a Wisconsin brigade of volunteers, which he led in the Philippine insurrection.

Trains Wisconsin Troops.

Gen. King retired from the army again in 1904, but continued his connection with the National Guard. He helped the early training of units of the Wisconsin guard in 1917, which with those of Michigan formed the 32d division, before they went to France. In 1919 he was awarded the world war victory medal. At the same time there was pinned on his tunic a civil war service medal. Gen. King was one of the few officers of the army who were authorized to wear five campaign badges.

After the world war a war department official, noting the general's age, recommended that his name be removed from the list of retired officers available for active service. The recommendation came to the attention of Maj-Gen. Harbord, then deputy chief of staff.

"Why, Gen. King is not only a soldier, he is an institution in the American army," exclaimed Gen. Harbord. "When I first entered the army the name of Capt. King of the 5th cavalry was famous throughout the service."

Gen. Harbord ordered that Gen. King's status on the army rolls was not to be changed except by personal order of the chief of staff. At his death Gen. King left an unfinished history of the Indian wars, on which he had been working for the last two years at the request of military authorities.

$2,000 HIDDEN WHILE THREE IN FAMILY STARVE

Collapse Reveals the Hoarded Cash.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Helena Marcus, 29, kept $1,600 cash under her mattress and $400 in the bank, but let herself, her husband and her son starve.

The lights and the gas in their flat o Park avenue, Brooklyn, were turned off because John Marcus, 30, could not pay the bill. Mrs. Marcus shivered in the cat with her son and husband, but she did not tell them of the hidden money. For her own secret reason she would not spend it, not even when her boy, Max, 6, cried at night for something to eat.

Gets Only Odd Jobs.

The only job the husband could get was now and then helping a brother in a candy shop. He was paid only when the shop made money, and that wasn't often.

The landlord served Marcus with a notice of eviction, but still Mrs. Marcus kept her money secret.

Marcus went out alone last night and hours later the neighbors heard him return. Then, early today, they heard moaning in the Marcus flat. They called a policeman, who found Marcus, his wife, and the boy on the floor.

Find They're Starving.

Marcus was taken to Beth Moses hospital, his wife and son to King County hospital. Doctors thought at first they were suffering from ptomaine poisoning, but pumps revealed only alcohol in the man's stomach, coffee in his wife's, and nothing in the boy's. The doctors decided that they were suffering from malnutrition—that they had fallen unconscious from want of food.

SON PERISHES IN BLAZE STARTED BY HIS FATHER

Anthony Gilloffo, 29 years old, was fatally burned yesterday when his father, Joseph, 60 years old, owner of the two story apartment building in which they lived at 2156 Stave street, set fire to the family apartment in a drunken rage. Young Gilloffo and his father, who was also burned, were taken to the St. Elizabeth hospital, where the son died.

The elder Gilloffo's wife, Rose, 59 years old, and two other sons, Harold, 14 years old, and Sylvester, 24 years old, escaped injury when they were awakened by the smoke and called the fire department. Gilloffo, despondent because he feared that he would lose the building through foreclosure, had been drinking heavily, members of the family told police. He sprinkled oil on the kitchen floor, turned on the gas burners in the kitchen, and tossed a match into the oil. Sylvester was awakened by smoke and ran to the kitchen. As he opened the door the gas exploded and his father fell to the floor. Anthony, who was sleeping in a room off the kitchen, inhaled a burst of flame and collapsed. Firemen were summoned and carried Gilloffo and his son to the street. The fire was confined to the kitchen with a damage of $250.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; HURTS RESIDENT OF LAKE FOREST

James W. Jensen, 40 years old, 977 McKinley road, Lake Forest, was seriously injured last evening when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Milwaukee railroad passenger train on the Route 22 crossing, two miles north of Deerfield.

Miss Jeanette Long, 52 years old, of 4236 Kenmore avenue, died last night in the Lake View hospital of injuries suffered yesterday morning when she was struck by a truck at Broadway and Buena avenue. The driver fled on foot. Police said the abandoned truck is owned by Charles Collins, 3131 Cottage Grove avenue.

This death increased the 1933 motor toll in Cook county to 165.

Rites in N. Y. Today for Elwes, Express Official

Funeral services for Herbert C. Elwes, vice president of the American Railway Express company and a resident of Chicago for 30 years, will be held today at his home in White Plains, N. Y., where he died Thursday. He was 55 years old. Mr. Elwes was employed by the express company in 1901 and was promoted until he became manager of the Chicago office in 1918. Two years later he became general manager and was transferred to New York. He is survived by his widow, Daisy, and a son.

Bandits Hold Up Dentist and Steal an X-Ray Tube

Three gunmen last night held up Dr. Claude E. Grizzell, a dentist, in his office at 603 South Western avenue. They took $8, several surgical instruments, and an X-ray tube, valued at $400 in all. Before leaving the bandits put Dr. Grizzell inside a small closet.

Missing Child Is Found Asleep Between His Dogs

WIDOW FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL ROOM BATHTUB

Mrs. Aimee Gottschalk, 46 years old, 1714 East 56th street, widow of Gustav H. Gottschalk, who was head of a contracting company bearing his name at 10 South La Salle street, was found dead yesterday in a bathtub in room 1715 of the Morrison hotel.

Mr. Gottschalk plunged to his death from the ninth floor window of the family apartment at 5490 South Shore drive on July 28, 1932. His wife was in the apartment with him at the time of the fall.

Mrs. Gottschalk left the North Shore sanitarium, Winnetka, where she had been a patient, shortly after noon Thursday.

Mrs. Gottschalk's death was kept from her father, Samuel Harris, 75 years old, who is ill with heart disease in the Gottschalk home. Three children—Lucille, 21 years old; Howard, 19, and Robert, 11—also survive her.

An inquest will be held today.

A. L. Drum, Traction Line Builder, Dies in Detroit

Detroit, Mich., March 17.—(AP)—A. L. Drum, 58, widely known as an expert in electrical railway construction, and builder of the lines of the Union Traction company of Indiana and the Chicago-Milwaukee electrical line, died here last night after a lengthy illness. He resigned as former president and co-receiver of the Eastern Michigan railways last year because of illness. Before coming to Detroit he had acted in a consulting capacity for many of the country's large electrical systems.

Evanston Rites Today for Son of Harold J. Banks

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at St. Luke's Episcopal church in Evanston for William D. Banks, 17 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Banks of 838 Judson avenue, Evanston. Mr. Banks is head of the Chicago Dental Manufacturing company. The son, a junior at Evanston Township High school, died Thursday. Surviving are his parents and a brother, John. Burial will be at Memorial Park cemetery.

DR. HARTMANN, SURGEON, DEAD; ILL FIVE MONTHS

Dr. Frederick Steele Hartmann, veteran Chicago physician and surgeon, died yesterday in his home at 37 South Central Park avenue after an illness of five months. He was 70 years old. Dr. Hartmann was associated with the late Dr. John B. Murphy, famous Chicago surgeon, from 1887 to 1897, and was gynecologist at the West Side hospital from 1898 until he became ill.

DR. HARTMANN.

He had served as surgeon at Cook county and St. Anthony de Padua hospitals, and for the New York, Chicago, and St. Louis and the St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroads. Dr. Hartmann was a member of the American, Chicago, and Illinois State Medical associations.

Dr. Hartmann is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Bertha Atkinson, Mrs. Charlotte Dumelow, Mrs. Helen Baldwin, Mrs. Constance Collins, Mrs. Emily Williams, and a son, Ralph. Funeral services will be held Monday at the Olivet Methodist church, with burial in Forest Home cemetery.

HOUSE SPEEDS $5,000,000 BILL FOR QUAKE AREA

Lets California Borrow for Rehabilitation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The house of representatives today opened an entirely new avenue for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation so California might obtain federal funds for the rehabilitation of the area hit by the recent earthquake.

Prototype of the McAdoo bill making a direct federal appropriation of $5,000,000 for the quake area, which already has passed the senate, the house measure calls for an amendment to the Reconstruction Finance corporation act, under which California corporations could borrow funds for the rebuilding of the structures and homes razed by the earthquake.

Buchanan Explains Measure.

The bill met with bitter opposition on the floor of the house and on a standing vote was defeated, 144 to 97. A few moments later, on a roll call, however, it was approved, 218 to 152.

Explaining the measure, Chairman James P. Buchanan [Dem., Tex.] of the appropriations committee said the direct appropriation ordered by the senate had been found unnecessary, since the Red Cross adequately is caring for all relief needs in the stricken area. But, he declared, credit for the reconstruction of buildings which were felled in the quake is unavailable.

Federal credit, is said today, is necessary in order that the home owners of the district may obtain funds with which to erect new dwellings.

Woodrum Warns House.

But Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [Dem., Va.], a member of the appropriations group, served warning on the house that the bill contemplated the opening of an unprecedented loan operation by the federal government.

"The proposition now," he said, "is to let commercial corporations borrow from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to rebuild and reconstruct the damaged area. It is a proposal that will affect only one business district in the nation. Such a thing is an undreamed-of precedent in any scheme of federal loans for relief.

Filipinos Cheer Freedom Mission Sailing for U. S.

MANILA, P. I., March 18 [Saturday].—(AP)—A crowd of many thousand Filipinos, swelled by delegations from the provinces, today bade farewell to a mixed commission departing for the United States to confer with administration leaders concerning Philippine independence legislation. The commission of eleven members, led by Senator Manuel Quezon, president of the insular senate, sailed on the Italian liner Conte Verde.

JAPANESE ENVOY ASKS U.S. TO HELP PRESERVE PEACE

Says America Is Duped by Appeals to Emotions.

LONDON, March 17.—(AP)—Yosuke Matsuoka, chief Japanese delegate at recent league of nations meetings at which the Sino-Japanese conflict was considered, declared today before his departure for America that war between the United States and Japan "would be an act of madness."

Matsuoka, who will pass through the United States on his way to Tokio, asserted that Americans have "condoned the fault of Chinese misgovernment and magnified those of Japanese good government."

To explain his analysis of the American public attitude, he used American slang, saying that the American people "fall for appeals to your emotions: this is what you have done regarding China."

Says Japan Is Friend of China.

"The United States and Japan have an important mission to fulfill for the sake of humanity in building up the coming era of pacific civilization, in which the east and the west will unite in peace for the first time in history," the Japanese diplomat said. "Understanding and friendship between these two advanced countries is essential to the welfare of all the Pacific. It will be of benefit not only to ourselves but to others as well, and particularly to the people of China.

"Paradoxical as the statement may seem at the present time, Japan is and must continue to be a friend of China. To the United States friendship for the colossal country across the Pacific is largely a matter of sentiment; you have no vital interests in China. To Japan, on the other hand, the welfare, security and progress of China is essential.

"There is no cause for war between the United States and Japan. Such a thing would be an act of madness. There can be no war between our countries unless the United States makes it, and I know your country will not do that. What could you achieve by war? Nothing but the satisfaction of shedding Japanese blood. You don't want that.

Can Do No Good for China.

"By impairing our power and position in the far east you would do no good for the suffering people of China, and you might by China open to communist control. I don't believe you want that.

"On both sides of the Pacific there is every reason for keeping the peace.

"For example, Japan, being an organized, stabilized and progressive country, with industrial development far beyond that of any other oriental country, is your greatest customer on the Pacific ocean. We buy more goods from you every year than all the rest of eastern Asia combined, including your own Asiatic possessions, the Philippine islands. We stand second only to Great Britain among the nations of the world purchasing American raw materials and manufactured products. The reverse is also the case. The United States is Japan's greatest customer, buying from us annually nearly 40 per cent of the goods we ship abroad.

Chinese Prospects Poor.

"What folly it would be (or either of us to go to war with the other for a visionary hope of future trade from some backward, disorganized country no one can safely predict the time when the people of China, the great masses of whom are lucky to have an income of 10 cents a day, will be in a position to purchase American goods in profitable quantity. In view of the fact that for the last 33 years you have had to protect your China trade with troops and naval vessels stationed in China, as you are required to do in no other country, it is doubtful if, as a nation, you have made a single dollar out of your comparatively small Chinese trade.

"There is, again, a danger lurking in pacifist psychology. Some so-called pacifists are most bellicose. They would fight to get peace or even to prevent war. Peace must be attained peacefully, not by fighting for it. The league of nations is an organization for the promotion of peace, not the development of war.

"No government is perfect, not even that of the United States, but there are differences in the approach to perfection and there are wide differences between the condition of China's many governments and Japan's one government. If Americans were seriously instead of sentimentally interested in the welfare of the Chinese people, you would, I am sure, learn the facts and discard the fictions regarding their country.

China Its Own Worst Enemy.

"We Japanese, because of our geographic propinquity, have to deal with the hard realities of conditions brought about by the Chinese war lords and cannot accept the fictions expounded by American educated Chinese politicians. The condition of China has gone from bad to worse during the last twenty-one years of Chinese civil war, to the ghastly cost of the Chinese people. The real enemies of China are Chinese, not foreigners, certainly not the Japanese. Unless the Chinese were their own enemies a country the size of theirs, the largest in the world, would not be in its present pitiful plight."

Aviation Notes

John Porter, sportsman pilot, of 900 North Michigan avenue, is the first Chicagoan to pass the new tests for the federal private pilot's license, which went into effect the first of the month. He flew the test in his Stearman (Wright J6 motor) plane.

Twenty thousand lady bugs passed through Chicago yesterday in an air express package on United Air Lines en route from California to Florida. They are to be used to combat an insect that destroys citrus fruits.

The new "silent" Condor transport plane, which carries fifteen passengers, two pilots, mail and express at a cruising speed of 150 miles an hour with no more noise than the ordinary Pullman car, will be seen for the first time over Chicago at noon today. The first of the new type planes, manufactured by Curtiss-Wright Airplane company at St. Louis, will visit here en route to New York City. The plane is powered by two Wright Cyclone motors of 700 horsepower each.

JAPANESE PATROL IS ANNIHILATED; FIGHT UNTIL ALL ARE DEAD

TOKIO, March 18 [Saturday.]—(AP)—A Rengo [Japanese] news agency dispatch from Hsifengkow, great wall passage where heavy Sino-Japanese fighting has been going on for days, said today a Japanese patrol was annihilated at nearby Fanchiakow yesterday.

It fought a superior force of Chinese until all the Japanese were killed, the dispatch said. Another Japanese patrol found the bodies. The dispatch did not say how many died.

Planes Bomb Chinese Lines.

PEIPING, March 18 [Saturday.]—(AP)—Seeking to break the Chinese hold on Hsifengkow, an important pass in the Great wall, Japanese forces in the last 24 hours have sent 40 air bombers over the Chinese lines, but the heavy bombardment failed to crack the defenders' resistance, official Chinese dispatches said early today.

U. S. MIXES ALKY WITH AUTO GAS; TRADE PROTESTS

Dealers Charge Unfair Competition.

A new charge of government competition with private business, in this case in connection with marketing of "highball" gasoline, a fluid containing 10 per cent denatured alcohol, was registered yesterday at Washington by Representative E. M. Dirksen [Rep., Ill.] on behalf of independent oil companies in his home town, Pekin. As a result E. C. Yellowley, supervisor of industrial alcohol permits for the Chicago district, was ordered to go to Pekin today to investigate the situation there.

"Highball" gasoline is one of the latest solutions proposed for the problem of overproduction of farm products in the United States. Farm leaders have suggested that gasoline be diluted with a small proportion of alcohol, to be made from corn, potatoes, and other agricultural products.

Increases Price of Gasoline.

Some automotive engineers are somewhat doubtful of the engineering desirability of the mixture. The use of the alcohol increases the price of gasoline about 3 cents a gallon. The mixture has superior anti-knock properties, but the engineers say that it gives slightly less mileage and in time makes motors liable to carburetor difficulties.

That, however, is not the complaint of the Pekin oil dealers. As an experiment, Dr. James Doran, federal commissioner of industrial alcohol, permitted a test of the new motor fuel in the area about Pekin. Denatured alcohol was furnished the Tazewell Service company, a cooperative oil company affiliated with the farm bureaus.

Sales of Mixture Boom.

Newspapers in and about Pekin urged their readers to try the new fuel, as a means of solving the farm problem. Users have made enthusiastic reports, claiming that the mixture gives their motors greatly increased power, and sales of the mixture have been boomed.

There lies the complaint of the independent dealers. The federal authorities have given the farmers' cooperative oil company permission to sell the new fuel, but, it is charged, they have denied the same privilege to the independents. The latter report that their sales of gasoline have slumped badly as a result, while sales of the cooperative and a few retailers who buy from it have jumped to five or ten times their normal value.

In Experimental Stage.

Mr. Yellowley, after discussing the situation with Dr. Doran by long distance telephone, said yesterday that further permits for use of alcohol in gasoline had not been granted because the Pekin project is purely experimental at this time. The farm bureau oil company at Pekin has used one car of alcohol, will get another today, and has permission to get two more in the future, Mr. Yellowley said.

"The plan may be only an experiment," said a Pekin independent oil dealer, "but while they are experimenting they are ruining our business. The independent companies are just as anxious as the farm bureau for the experiment to succeed. All we want is for federal authorities to let us take part in their experiment and compete with the farm bureau company on even terms."

FRENCH SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF PAYING U. S. WAR DEBT GROWS

PARIS, March 17.—(AP)—Sentiment in favor of payment of the $19,261,432 American war debt installment defaulted last December is gaining ground in the chamber of deputies, it was reported today.

It was stated in parliamentary circles that the pressure being exerted by Premier Daladier and former Premier Herriot has been producing results and that many deputies who had been hostile to the payment now appeared to favor seeking a formula which would permit the payment.

It was felt the initiative will have to come from the government. Parliamentary initiative is unlikely in view of the strong position taken by some parties during the December debate.

CONVICT CAUGHT AFTER 15 YEARS DENIES SLAYINGS

Betrayed by Picture in Magazine.

Butte, Mont., March 17.—(AP)—Facing a prison term and possibly prosecution for murder, Harry Bushnell, 48, escaped Michigan convict, said today he was "glad" to be rid of the haunting fear of capture which had hung over him fifteen years.

Best of all, said Bushnell, is the knowledge that his wife is going to stick by him.

He said she hadn't known of his Michigan state prison record until he was arrested last night. She didn't know Bushnell was sought as a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Tillie Jenkins and Valden Bordner about the time he "walked away" from the prison farm on which he served as a trusty July 6, 1918.

A fellow miner identified him from a picture in a detective story magazine that offered $100 reward for his capture.

Admits Making Escape.

Bushnell, known here for the last seven years as Vern Sevren, admitted he escaped from the Michigan prison farm with three years of a ten year assault term still unserved.

He beat his way to Chicago, then came to Montana and took up a homestead. In 1926 he came to Butte and went to work in the mines. He met a Butte girl, married and established a home.

Although Bushnell said he was ready to go back to Jackson and throw himself on the mercy of the court, he denied he had any knowledge of the slayings.

The bodies of the two were found in a clump of bushes near the prison farm a few hours after the trusty escaped. A reward of $1,000 was offered for him.

He was greatly relieved at his capture, Bushnell said.

"I'm glad it's all over. It has been fifteen years of hell except for the happiness I have enjoyed as husband of a great little scout, my wife," said Bushnell.

Cannot Escape Fears.

"Every minute of the day and night I have feared that some time my past would be found out and that my wife, who until last night knew nothing of the fact I am an escaped convict, would have her life's happiness shattered when they finally got me.

"You would have to go through it yourself to know the fear and uncertainty of life as a fugitive from justice. Yes, I am glad it is all over and happy because my wife has told me she will stick to me no matter what happens.

"I will not fight extradition, but am going to throw myself upon the mercy of the court, for since the day I walked out of prison life I have conducted myself as a law abiding citizen and have worked hard to establish a home for myself and wife."

Flying Forecasts

Special flying route forecasts for the period from 11 p. m., March 17, to noon, March 18:

Chicago-Omaha-Kansas City—Overcast, low clouds and showers, mostly over west and central portions.

Route forecasts for twelve hours ending at noon:

WARSAW, Poland, March 17.—(AP)—The Polish senate today ratified a consular treaty and a treaty of commercial amity with the United States. The treaty was signed in Washington in 1931. The diet ratified the treaties earlier this week. Only the signature of the president and official publication remain to put them into effect.

WANTED . . . FOUR SUPPORTS!

Imagine trying to eat a meal at a two-legged table, on a two-legged chair! Something would be lacking—balance! Chairs and tables need four-square support for firm balance. So do radio tubes. And Eveready Raytheon Tubes are the only tubes with 4-pillar support.

IN A big majority of cases, the cause of poor reception, noises, uneven tone, is—defective tubes! The jolts and jars to which they have been subjected, the constant vibration of the dynamic speaker, have upset the delicate balance of their vital elements—due to lack of proper support!

Eveready Raytheon Tubes have 4-pillar support—for protection against tube damage through knocks and vibration. Eveready Raytheons are the only tubes on the market with patented four-pillar protection. All other tubes have only two pillars.

You pay no more for Eveready Raytheon 4-pillar Tubes. And in the long run you save—on accurate performance, long life. Insure the pleasure you get from your radio. Equ

"CAN'TS" EXCEED "CANS" IN BRITISH AWARD TO INDIA

London Holds Strings in Autonomy Scheme.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—Three mountainous round table conferences laboring more than two years today brought forth the India office's white paper which outlines a species of autonomy in India, but which is tied down with many more "can'ts" than "cans."

The strings still held by the British government hobble immediate federation and leave a long list of extraordinary powers in the hands of the viceroy and the British parliament. The proposed constitution provides for a federal legislature of elected representatives of British India and representatives of the Indian states appointed by the state rulers.

Federal Executive Planned.

There would be a federal executive consisting of the governor general—(that is, the viceroy—and a council of ministers which would be responsible to the legislature subject to certain qualifications.

The viceroy, besides retaining control of defense, external and ecclesiastical affairs, would be responsible for "prevention of grave menaces to peace or tranquillity of India, financial stability, legitimate interests of minorities, protection of rights held by any state, prevention of commercial discrimination, and control over any matter affecting the administration of reserved departments."

He would hold the right to assume full control in event of emergencies, and in the event of a governmental break down the viceroy would be empowered to summon, suspend or dissolve the legislature. His expenditures would not be subject to a vote of the assembly.

Fixes Size of Legislature.

The franchise probably will embrace 27 per cent of the adult population, including women. The upper house would consist of 260 members, 150 appointed by the princes, and the lower chamber of a maximum of 375 members, of which 125 will be named by the princes.

Hindus Back Untouchables.

NEW DELHI, India, March 17.—(AP)—A deputation of orthodox Hindus visited the viceroy today protesting proposed abolition of untouchability. Their protest was made on the eve of introduction of a bill in the legislative assembly by representatives of the depressed classes calling for such abolition.

The orthodox Hindus complained it was a "mischievous campaign" carried on by Mahatma Gandhi against the Hindu religion and declared agitation to permit untouchables to enter the temples was "as artificial and as mischievous as socialism or bolshevism."

Lord Willingdon, the viceroy, replied he would promise to obtain the opinions of the heads of religious institutions on the proposed untouchability measure.

BRITAIN FROWNS ON BINGHAM AS U. S. AMBASSADOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—Failure of the United States senate's committee on foreign relations to ratify the appointment of Robert Worth Bingham of Kentucky as ambassador to the court of St. James's caused little surprise here. It can be reliably stated that the British government would rather not have as ambassador to London so pronounced an Anglophile as Mr. Bingham has been represented to be.

It always has been British policy not to send to any country an envoy who is known as an extravagant friend of that country. Thus a Roman Catholic never has been sent to the Vatican.

The British, who are experienced in the art of diplomacy, realize that a man whose attitude is suspected as leaning too far one way or the other is of little use either to his own country or to the country to which he is accredited.

Women's Detention Home Plan Approved by Hewitt

Commissioner of Public Works Hewitt yesterday gave his approval to a proposal to convert the old Juvenile home on Gilpin place into a detention home for women on the condition that funds be found with which to renovate the building. The cost has been estimated at over $50,000. Representatives of the Woman's City club, who called at the commissioner's office with the proposal, said that the present women's quarters in police stations are not suitable, and proposed that the women's branch of the Municipal court also be moved to the building.

Apostolic Delegate

Msgr. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, whose appointment as new apostolic delegate to the United States is expected soon at the Vatican. He will succeed Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, recently made a cardinal.

PERU CONDEMNED BY LEAGUE; TOLD TO QUIT COLOMBIA

Leticia Evacuation Is Urged.

GENEVA, March 17.—(AP)—Condemnation of Peru's invasion of the Colombian territory of Leticia, and recommendation of immediate evacuation, are contained in a draft report which the Leticia committee has prepared for adoption by the league of nations council tomorrow.

After evacuation has been completed the report, which was published today, calls for negotiations to settle all outstanding disputes between the two parties. Following the general scheme of the report adopted in the Sino-Japanese conflict, this treatment of the South American controversy is much more brief.

Facts Are Undisputed.

A historical account of the dispute is given but the facts are mostly undisputed and are briefly stated. The council is expected to adopt the report unanimously and then await the reaction of Lima and Bogota. The Peruvian attitude is the big problem, for Colombia has consistently accepted the league's guidance.

The report recalled the league assembly declaration a year ago not to recognize "any situation, treaty or agreement which may be brought about by means contrary to the covenant of the league or the pact of Paris."

Calls Invasion Violation.

"The situation resulting from the presence of Peruvian forces on Colombian territory is incompatible," the report says, "with the principles of international law and with those of the covenant of the league of nations and the pact of Paris, which are binding on the two parties and to which settlement of the dispute must conform."

Copies of the report will be sent to members of the league, the United States, Costa Rica, Brazil, and Ecuador.

Sultan's Daughter-in-Law Fined for Slandering Mate

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 17.—(AP)—Mezier Saffet, the wife of Abdul Kadir, son of the former sultan of Turkey, was fined $15 today for libeling her husband. She gave the newspapers a statement saying that Abdul was "a broken down orchestra leader too shabby to appear in the bars." A newspaper publisher was fined the same amount for printing the story.

Civil War Veteran Called to Court Over Alimony

Twin Falls, Idaho, March 17.—(AP)—Jesse W. Lynch, 87 year old civil war veteran, today was cited to appear in District court to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court. It was charged he failed to pay $20 a month temporary alimony to his 42 year old wife, Mrs. Belle Lynch. Lynch sued for divorce last November, alleging misconduct.

Tooth Fragment Leaps Into an Eye of Dentist

Erie, Pa., March 17.—(AP)—Dr. Wesley Cooke, a dentist, was working on a patient. He tugged at a tooth. The tooth broke and a piece of it flew into Cooke's right eye. The dentist is in a hospital today. Physicians hope to save the sight of that eye.

If Dr. Bull, the lusty, rough-and-ready caretaker of health in a Connecticut town, hadn't been so fond of rattlesnake-hunting and prescription whiskey, he might have gone down better with the blue-bloods of the community. But blue-bloods aside, you should know Doc Bull. Everyone likes him—calls him a magnificent creation, and his story, THE LAST ADAM, is a 1933 sensation. It's fun to read, and "indubitably a work of art."—Philadelphia Inquirer. 59th thousand, $2.50.

Issue Second Book of New Adams History

"March of Democracy" Stresses Politics.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"The March of Democracy," Vol. II.," by James Truslow Adams. [Scribners.]

"Henry Adams," by James Truslow Adams. [A. & C. Boni.]

IN confirmation of the statement recently made by a visiting biographer and historian, Philip Guedalla, that the biographer must be a good historian, with its corollary that the historian is perfectly equipped to be a good biographer, there have appeared within a month of each other two important books, the first a biography of Henry Adams and the second and final volume of a history of the United States which is destined to take its place among the important records of our country's life.

J. T. ADAMS.

James Truslow Adams, considered by many of his critical contemporaries as the country's outstanding interpreter of American history for the lay reader, wrote in "The Epic of America" a superb analysis of the American consciousness. It was as clear an interpretation of our national spirit as has been made in our generation.

The other day I was discussing Mr. Adams' work with a friend, and I said that the difference between "The Epic of America" and "The March of Democracy" was the difference between the interpretation of facts and the statement of them. My friend called my attention to the certainty that the work of any real historian is always interpretation of the facts, for it is by the selection and interpretation of facts that a writer proves himself a historian. He is right, of course, and I should have said that the difference between the two books is a difference in the attitude of the author toward facts.

In "The Epic of America" Mr. Adams uses them but as springboards from which to leap into the sea of his thesis. In "The March of Democracy" the facts of our national history are marshaled as such. The result is, perhaps naturally, a book which lacks the thrill of "The Epic of America," but one which is solidly a record of the tramp of time's feet in the march of democracy. The book's title gives the reader the secret of its contents. It is a political rather than a social history. Its chief fault, for one who goes to it with the hope of getting a picture of American life in its passage through time is that the picture deals more with politics than with any other phase of American life. But since that is obviously the author's purpose, as its title proclaims, we should probably not cavil at its fulfillment.

"The March of Democracy, Vol. II," is an excellent book to give one hope in what remains of the depression, for, according to Mr. Adams, times haven't changed much for the worse. There have been sloughs much deeper and more full of mire in our historical past than the world is picking its way through now.

"Henry Adams" was written to accompany a collected edition of the works of the author of "The Education of Henry Adams," and for that reason it has a definitely literary bias and is a brief memoir rather than an exhaustive life. It pictures its hero as weighted down by his Adamsship, torn for long periods in his life by an inherited conviction that he must be doing something to add to the already super-brilliant luster of the family name.

With the most politically illustrious family in America as his forbears, Henry Adams was at once predestined for and repelled by political life. He could never hope to overtop them and to do less than rival the political achievements of his forbears was humiliating. He vacillated as a young man, lacked the inclination to harden himself for life either physically or spiritually by hard work. He became, as Mr. Adams points out, a writer by determination rather than by genius for the art, setting about it to make a place for himself in the literary world which would be comparable to that of the Adamses historically.

The albatross of his family importance, however, was never wholly shifted from around his neck and his brilliant cynicism was the result of that weight. "Henry Adams" is a tentative rather than the conclusive life of one of the most interesting of all American citizens.

BRIEF REVIEWS

BY M. D.

Robert Raynolds who won the Harper prize novel contest in 1931-'32 with "Brothers in the West," has written "Saunders Oak" (Harpers), which has its setting in New England. Ed Saunders, a robust, strangely attractive man of over 40, comes back to his family estate after twenty years in the bitter world. He has been scarred by passion, shaken by disease, poverty, crime, and sordidness. He comes home to purge himself and he finds Edith Gaines, the daughter of his first love, a beautiful repressed girl who, it seems, is making desperate efforts to find her soul. Their love is denied fruition by Edith's indecision, Edith's mother—pathological, and insanely jealous of her daughter—and the three people who come like shadows out of Ed's past.

ROBERT RAYNOLDS

The strange, intense, passionate inwardness of the story finds its expression in its style and characterization and its unforgettably dark and rich atmosphere. The book is morbid and almost psychopathic. Toward the end you feel as if a sudden lusty shout might startle these dark phantoms of people into sanity but since a shout seems undignified you become impatient and acutely exasperated. There is no humor to lighten the tone of the book and the mood of darkness and frustration is, until the very end, unrelieved. Nevertheless despite the flaws of the book, the overwrought style, the unreality of dialogue and characterization, there is some mysteriously compelling quality about it that suggests "Wuthering Heights." I am almost certain that this author has been greatly influenced by William Faulkner, particularly in the curious treatment of the half-wit, Mouthharp.

Max Ewing Has His Own Methods of Photography

Max Ewing, author of "Going Somewhere" [Knopf], has a hobby of making unusual photographs. He includes in the collection photographs, snapshots, and newspaper pictures, and hangs, pastes, and tacks them in his apartment. He says he has Leopold Stokowski posed as Whistler's "Mother," Edith Sitwell as Janus, and Glenway Westcott standing in a garden holding shears and a bunch of flowers. Figure out his method.

Fall of British Landed Gentry Told in Novels

Provides Good Material for Authors.

BY FRANK SWINNERTON.

LONDON. — [Special Correspondence.]—The general slump in what may be called the Landed Gentry of England has already provided material for several excellent novels, and several novels that fell short of excellence. One of the most interesting was Claude Houghton's "Chaos Is Come Again," published a year ago, but a new study of a decayed county family is provided this season by D. L. Murray in "The English Family Robinson." Mr. Murray is already known for a good short biography of Disraeli, and he has published a couple of novels, of which the second, "Stardust," attracted attention.

CLAUDE HOUGHTON.

A scholar, who has for several years been on the staff of the London Times and its literary supplement, Mr. Murray knows the life of the English new poor so well at first hand that he can write about it with detachment. Accordingly, although "The English Family Robinson" is serious enough in its sympathy, it is also very amusing. It shows how the younger members of an impoverished family turn out and make their living. If they do this with a rueful perception of the strange and terrible pass to which their world, as a part of the whole world, has come, this only adds to the sharpness of the author's outline.

Claude Houghton, a more brilliant writer, whose "I am Jonathan Scrivener" was a considerable success some years ago, gave extraordinary vividness to the decay of a family, and at its best his book, "Chaos Is Come Again," was superb. However, Mr. Houghton allowed his characters to talk a little too much [giving them some of his own readiness], and the book was not a complete success. I hope his new novel, "Julian Grant Loses His Way," announced for early publication, will ring the bell. Those who are looking for an English writer with something to say [there are not too many of them], who also, strangely enough, has sympathy with human nature, would do well to keep in touch with Mr. Houghton's work.

A younger novelist, of the school of Evelyn Waugh, whose first novel is much discussed, is Shamus Frazer, and his book is called "Acorned Hog." It is a fantastic tale of the future, odd and farcical, cheeky, entertaining, tire-

Among the New Books

FICTION.

Miss Charlesworth, by Mabel L. Tyrrell [Stokes], is one of the group of English people brought together in a big English manor house.

NONFICTION.

Acting, by Richard Boleslavsky [Theater Arts, Inc.], by the author of "The Way of the Lancer," in dialogue form should prove helpful to every young actor or student of the theater.

Minute Stories of the Opera, by Paul Grabbe and Paul Nordoff [Grosset and Dunlap], presents the stories, action and setting of ninety-three best loved operas.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Horace, by T. R. Glover [Macmillan], are two critical and interesting lectures delivered at the University of Bristol.

ABOUT PLACES.

Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, by T. Morris Longstreth [Century], shows the reader what romantic and rich pasts these historic cities have had.

POETRY.

some and imprudent, and those who do not care for juvenile flights had better avoid it. But the author [who is still an undergraduate at Oxford university] has gifts. If they are not all displayed in "Acorned Hog," he may have a future. Whether that is so or not, the novel is attracting attention here and causing much laughter.

Finally, J. C. Squire's second book of short stories is just published. Mr. Squire, of course, is chiefly eminent as a poet and as editor of the London Mercury [indeed, a recent work is dedicated "to J. C. Squire, the English poet," as if there were no others], but in this book of stories, "Outside Eden," he shows that he is not only a poet but an adroit exponent of the art of short story writing. His book is being read by all who are interested in the literary world and its ways.

Fight of Store Against Slump Is Told in Novel

John Bascom, author of "Mayor Harding of New York," has written a novelized account of a great store owner. The hero of the book was humane in a day of ruthlessness, sympathetic when indifference was the rule. The novel deals with his struggle against the depression and a financial crisis that almost ruined him and his store. The novel is particularly American and timely and is called "The Great Sale." BY MARY MEADE.

A gay lot of short snappy questions this morning that call for quick fire answers.

First from Mrs. A. F. K.: "What kind of vinegar is the one known as tarragon vinegar?" And the answer—tarragon vinegar is one which has been flavored with tarragon, an evergreen, aromatic herb.

Next from Miss J. H.: "What is the difference between corn meal and corn flour?" Just this. Corn meal is the coarsely ground grain of the corn, and can be either white or yellow. Corn flour on the other hand, is finely ground and sifted corn meal.

Then here's a fine point. Mrs. G. E. F. brings up the question of "boneless" canned fish. "Some codfish," she writes, "is labeled 'boneless' and some is marked 'absolutely boneless. What is the difference?"

In "boneless" codfish as a rule, only the big bones have been taken out, while "absolutely boneless" codfish have been freed from all their bones, from the largest down to the least.

Next about canned beans. Mrs. N. L. asks, "How many kinds of canned navy beans are there? And why are some labeled 'baked beans' and others just 'beans'?

Actually there are four different kind of canned navy beans: Beans put up with pork and plain sauce, with pork and tomato sauce, with just plain sauce, and with tomato sauce. The difference in these sauces is mainly in the presence of the tomatoes and seasoning. The plain sauce contains, as a rule, sugar, molasses, salt and water, while the tomato sauce has had tomato pulp and spices added to this plain version. Then about baked and unbaked varieties. Those beans labeled "baked" must have been actually cooked in some type of oven arrangement, in dry heat. The other beans have been soaked and blanched in hot water and then sealed together with the sauce and cooked under steam pressure till tender.

From Miss E. H.: "What should be done with canned foods which have frozen?"

They should be thawed out, but slowly. Don't put them in a warm place. Instead place them in a cold, dry temperature—about 40 degrees F. In this way the food will not be noticeably injured. Neither will it be, in any way dangerous, though some of the food value may have been lessened.

"What is cream of tartar, and what is its real purpose in foods?" asks an anonymous reader.

Cream of tartar is a white, acid-tasting powder which is made from the tartar or crystalized sediment found at the bottom of casks of wine. It is of course, carefully refined and ground. In the old days cream of tartar and soda were used together to leaven batters, since the acid tartar reacted with the alkaline soda to form carbon dioxide, the gas which raises the batter and gives volume to baked foods. Nowadays we use baking powder for this job of leaving foods. But cream of tartar has another feather in its crown which modern cooking hasn't taken away. When used in angel food, the acid in cream of tartar acts on the coloring matter or pigments in the flour [which are naturally cream colored] and turns them white. It also makes a more tender cake, by helping to break down proteins [the strong, toughish elements in the eggs and flour. You also may be using cream of tartar without knowing it if you are leavening your cakes and breads with one of the cream of tartar baking powders on the market.

And finally from Mrs. I. T. R. "Is it true that nutmegs and mace are the same thing? What makes them have different tastes?"

No, nutmeg and mace aren't the same thing, but they are from the same fruit. Now don't gasp till I explain. These two spices both come from a tropical evergreen tree that looks something like a pear tree and grows about 50 feet high. The fruit of this tree is as large as a good sized peach. It is allowed to ripen, and when it splits open it shows a seed larger than a nutmeg, which seed is partly covered with a clinging red covering. This covering is dried and ground into the spice mace. The seed is opened and the withered kernel inside is taken out. This kernel is the nutmeg.

U. of C. Group Shows Great Music Skill

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It was both a surprise and a pleasure to discover last night how much the University of Chicago has done in the way of organizing and developing its own symphony orchestra. It is strictly an amateur affair; both students and instructors are in its ranks, and by amateur is meant the willingness to work hard for the sake of accomplishment. Here is apparently an organization that loves music and has accomplished much therefor.

Carl Bricken is the conductor. Under his baton are about ninety-five players of both sexes. They follow his beat accurately, they keep their instruments in tune, they maintain a good balance. They do more; in fact, they play such works as Tschaikowsky's "Pathetique" Symphony with spirit, with tempo, with genuine feeling for interpretation. This symphony, by the way, is no mean test of an orchestra's ability.

There were two soloists in last night's program. Alberto Salvi, one of the most eminent of the harpists, played Debussy's Sacred and Profane Dances to the accompaniment of the string section of the orchestra, with a polish of phrasing and a rhythmic impulse that converted former doubters into a belief in the harp as a solo instrument.

The final number called upon the university chorus and Russell Pyle as tenor soloist to appear in a group of six excerpts, instrumental and vocal, from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger." This, too, was an undertaking of more than common weight, and once again the university forces came off with high credit.

Even this does not exhaust the resources of the organization. It provides some of its own music. Ladislaus Gamauf, principal double bass player in the orchestra and a student at the university, composed and conducted a Scherzo for the opening number, an accurately written and melodious work which was well received.

Be Feminine When You Buy Dance Frocks

Flattering Black Models Are Best Bets.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

After you see some of the newest black dance frocks and picturesque black evening gowns you can blissfully forget everything . . . for if anything in the world can give you glamour it is a 1933 model of a befrilled, flattering sheer black evening creation.

Let all the dizzy insurgent sisters clamor for their brothers' trick trousers and satin lapeled dinner jackets, but if you know your romance cling to these decorative black things with all the strength you may possess. How any female with just a small amount of knowledge of what snares the males can mistakenly apparel herself in severe garments when such provocatively feminine clothes are available is a deep and apparently unsolvable mystery.

Climb off the fence, dig down into your sock, and spend your money for these positively breath-taking dress parade clothes. Look for the bessahed models, usually sheer black chiffons or stiffened organdies, made with yards and yards of material, with the maximum amount of ruffles and pleatings and flutings.

The necklines are deceptively simple and demure in front, and, delightfully wicked in back, these deep oval V and deep square necklines are outlined with cascades of ruffles or the aforementioned flutings. Then the sashes are tied high around a normal waistline. For instance, one knockout creation is made of inky black sheer organza, sprinkled with tiny gray-white square checks. It is long and billows around the ankles and floor like nobody's business. The male spectators certainly cheer wildly for such billowing gowns. The sash is wide, of a stunning burnt orange shade, or you can wear a gay peacock blue as an alternative.

Another black beauty is ruffled from shoulder seam to ankle length hem, and each ruffle is edged with black lace. A tiny jacket, also literally smothered in narrow lace edged ruffles, ties like a fichu in front or can be worn tied in the back.

Still another sooty black chiffon goes in for Spartan simplicity without even a hint of a ruffle, but features instead layers and layers of chiffon in a circular skirt. Topping all these fluttering layers is a shoulder crepe-collar affair made entirely of pleated net, layer after layer of the stuff, in rows, till your head will rise above this ocean of black net . . . a perfect feminine frame for any blonde, brunette, or redhead.

Until you have seen the "white and" combinations you have seen nothing. Look for the thin, black, fluttering gowns, frosted with sheer white embroidered organdy jackets, the sleeved and sleeveless models. One perfect affair is fashioned as a formal evening dress that can be worn anywhere, and the entire thing is subtly changed with an impudent white short-sleeved jacket, buttoned tight and high around the neckline and down the front with dozens of wee pearl buttons. Another has a puff sleeved transparent white bolero with a high collar tied with a cat's whisker bow also of the same sheer, crisp white stuff.

Marion McFadden Becomes Bride in Eastern Ceremony

Greenwich, Conn., March 17.—[Special.]—Miss Marion McFadden, daughter of Mrs. Parmalee J. McFadden of Chicago, was married here this afternoon to James F. Hume of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Hume of Washington, D. C. The ceremony took place in the Round Hill Community church.

The Rev. Dr. M. George Thompson of New York, rector emeritus of Christ Episcopal church, Greenwich, officiated. Only the immediate families attended the ceremony. Mr. Hume, his mother, Mrs. Thomas L. Hume, and two brothers, Henry and Richard Hume, motored here from Washington. Mr. Hume, father of the bridegroom, who is ill, was unable to attend. Ernest Poole, the novelist, and Abraham Poole, the painter, both of New York, brothers of Mrs. McFadden, also were present.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. She was gowned in a brown traveling suit with hat and slippers to match. There were no attendants.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held for the immediate families at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward P. Lay of John street, Greenwich. The couple are sailing tomorrow on the Belgenland for a trip abroad.

French Government Makes $2,000 Gift to Aid U. of C. House

A gift of 50,000 francs [about $2,000] by the French government to the University of Chicago was announced yesterday by Rene Weiller, French consul in Chicago.

It was made in recognition of the work of the department of romance languages at the Midway institution. The proceeds will be used to support the activities of the French house on the campus. This house is at 5810 Woodlawn avenue and is a center for all university students of the French language.

Mr. Weiller informed President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the gift and congratulated the university on behalf of the French colony here as well as the government on the excellent work done by the teachers of French.

'The Keyhole' Is Clever Movie You'll Enjoy

And Mae West Appears at the Chicago, Too.

"THE KEYHOLE."
Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by Michael Curtis.
Presented at the Chicago theater.
THE CAST.

Anne Brooks	Kay Francis
Neil Davis	George Brent
Dot	Glenda Farrell
Hank Wales	Allen Jenkins
Maurice Le Brun	Monroe Owsley
Portia Brooks	Helen Ware
Schuyler Brooks	Henry Kolker

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

Well, Mae West has 'em champing at the bit and pawing to get in over at the Chicago, where, as I suppose you know, she's appearing in person.

When the doors opened yesterday morning, her panting public which had formed in a line to the right, outside, came galloping into the theater in a manner reminiscent of old Oriental days and Paul Ash. [Observed 'em from my back seat where I'd been watching Miss West rehearse—having arrived a bit too early for the picture.]

Don't care for her line but I was impressed by her courtesy to the help—musicians, stage hands, etc., as they practiced a certain bit over and over again which had to do with a gentleman who says he's come all the way from Spain to dawnce with her and whom she tells if he's come all the way from Spain just to dawnce, he'd better scram.

The picture? I think you'll love it. The eye at the keyhole is not, this trip, the orb of a columnist. It belongs to a jealous husband who hires a handsome detective to trail his beauteous wife to Cuba and verify suspicions—which prove to be unfounded. That the wife—being Kay Francis—and the detective—being George Brent—get that way about each other is a foregone conclusion. But don't jump down my throat and abuse me for telling you the story. All you have is just a little X-ray of its skeleton. There's meat on them thar bones that you shall wot not of until you see the picture.

Guess, for instance, the part Monroe Owsley, the perpetual screen cad, plays in the life of the fair heroine. And what do you think Glenda Farrell—now THERE'S a comedienne for you!—and Allen Jenkins—one of the funniest of the silver sheet roughneck bozos—are doing all the time Miss Francis and Mr. Brent are gazing at the moon, driving along the old sea wall or dancing with tears in their eyes? Where do you think that splendid actress, Helen Ware, comes in? . . . You see? I've told you nothing yet.

Alice Duer Miller wrote the story, "Adventuress," from which this romantic, humorous, playful little picture has been made. It proves an excellent vehicle for both lovely and sumptuously gowned Miss Francis and George Brent, who's been drawing such lemons of roles lately. Glenda Farrell and Allen Jenkins are immense and all other parts are satisfactorily played.

Direction was intelligent. Sets are appropriate, scenery is beautiful and photography is commendable. You'll find situations interesting and dialogue apt.

And now—I turn "The Keyhole" over to you. Pekin.

See ... morrow.

First In City

Mrs. Colin Campbell chose lovely Mrs. Sidney Heyworth Heap as the model for the first portrait she has done since she came to Chicago as a bride shortly after the first of the year. Mrs. Heap is a recent bride, too.

Mrs. Campbell, the former Mrs. Elizabeth Cook Lynch of Tulsa and New York, and her husband have taken an apartment at 900 North Michigan avenue, and Mrs. Heap, who with her husband has been living temporarily at the Whitehall, has been running in for sittings every morning, so as to get them all in before she moves to Lake Forest next week.

Mrs. Heap is the former Miss Virginia Skinkle of Chicago. Mrs. Campbell studied art abroad and also in this country and is well known as an artist. She is doing this charming head of Mrs. Heap in pastels.

Woman Trusts Advice Given by Fortune Teller

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A fortune teller told her she married the wrong man, that she'd never have any success living with him. That she was away ahead of him in everything and said mate would only be a millstone around her neck. So, now, "Mrs. X" believes divorce the only way out, although she honestly enough admits that she hasn't any grounds for divorce, except what the fortune teller told her.

Before we censure the fortune teller, "Mrs. X," we suggest that you stop and think about just what fortune telling is based on. How much the predictions they make are wanted by the individual to come true and how this want is revealed in one way or another to the fortune teller. Fortune tellers have no more lien on future unfoldings than you or I. Some of them are just keen at ferreting out the individual's story.

We'd say very frankly that you, "Mrs. X," went to the fortune teller because you were discontented with your matrimonial lot. You feel you made a mistake in marrying your man. You feel his superior. Yes—and you want a divorce, though you haven't any good grounds for seeking it.

Let us repeat—the fortune teller has no special powers of divination. He or she merely has a subtle way of finding out your hidden desires. Where a prediction comes true, it is the individual himself or herself who makes it so. Your paying consultation fees doesn't mean a thing. You're the one who is carrying the thought the fortune teller plants. And if you carry it long enough, concentrate on it as a future possibility, success or whatever you want, if it comes, will come because of your own personal concentration.

Why do enlightened people keep on believing in these self-appointed oracles when in any crisis in their own lives they are as unprepared as you and I?

Engagement of Helen Tieken to Maurice Geraghty Announced.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE thirty friends of Miss Helen Tieken who went in her apartment yesterday afternoon to have cocktails with her and her brothers, Robert and Theodore Tieken, knew as soon as they arrived that it was a very special party, but they didn't know until her brothers proposed a toast to their sister and Maurice Patrick Geraghty that the reason it was special was because it was an engagement announcement party.

To say that the friends were surprised isn't quite true, for Mr. Geraghty has been so devoted to Miss Tieken that all her friends have been anticipating just such an announcement as the one made yesterday; but until an engagement actually is announced it always is an uncertainty, so there is an element of surprise in every such announcement.

The congratulations that were offered to Mr. Geraghty were particularly heartfelt and sincere, for every one admires his fiancée so tremendously and is so enthusiastic about the splendid work she has done as director of the Chicago Junior League Children's theater for the last three years. She was responsible for the dramatization of one of the theater's greatest successes, "The Strange Adventures of Dr. Doolittle," and she produced such outstanding productions as "The Children's Chauve Souris," "The Blue Bird," "Pinocchio," and "The Land of Oz."

Last winter she organized children's theaters for Junior leagues in several eastern cities and presented "Treasure Island" as the national Junior league production of the year. During the summer she was stage manager for Bela Blau and Vladimir Rosing at the Oceanside theater in Magnolia.

Director of Fair Pageant.

Recently Miss Tieken was appointed director of the Pageant of Transportation at A Century of Progress and, because of her activity in that, she had to give up the directorship of the Junior League theater. Miss Tieken was graduated from the University of Chicago with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1924 and a few years later she took her master's degree there, writing her thesis on "Max Reinhardt and the German Theater." Later she went to the Sorbonne and Oxford to study the theater and then spent six months back stage in the German and Austrian theaters.

Mr. Geraghty, who is the son of Mrs. Margaret T. Geraghty of Ritchie court, was graduated in 1917 from Harvard, where he was the editor of the Lampoon. During the world war he went to France with the 344th infantry of the 86th division.

The Tieken apartment at 223 East Delaware place was decorated with shamrocks and other decorations appropriate to St. Patrick's day yesterday, with pink tulips giving an attractive contrast in color. Winston O'Keefe, a cowboy ballad singer, and Louis Tops, with his monkey, Jimmy, who will be headliners at the Enchanted Island at A Century of Progress this summer, entertained the party. The Junior league is to run the theater on the Enchanted Island and is publicizing the whole venture this spring, you know.

No date has been set for the wedding, but it is planned for the near future. Some of those who were at the party were Miss Margot Atkin,

The Changeling Bride

By Martha Ostenso

SYNOPSIS.

The Hendersons—Meryl and Margaret, sisters, Flint, their older brother, and Andrew, the father—have lived for twelve years in poverty in a fishing settlement on the shores of Lake Superior, after losing their fortune in Chicago. Andrew went to pieces after the death of his wife. Great-Aunt Letitia is the liaison between the Hendersons and a cultured past. Flint and his friend, Ned Bremner, hope to build up a great export business. Ned is to love with Meryl, but she dreams of a better future. A forest fire brings Blake Lawrence, injured and lost, to the Henderson cottage.

INSTALLMENT VI.

SURPRISING LAKE DWELLERS.

Blake sat up with one elbow supporting him, to look once more about the room where he lay. Not a bad place in which to spend a couple of weeks while his ankle mended. This built-in cupboard of a bed was not uncomfortable. Perhaps—for a consideration—these people might grant him asylum until he was able to walk again. He could trust his sister, Theresa, to keep his whereabouts secret—and Doc Law Trevor would fall willingly into line, having a flair for the unusual, anyhow.

It seemed to Blake that the girl had been gone ages, but it was actually less than ten minutes before Meryl returned.

She entered softly, without excitement. Propped up on his elbow, Blake saw her come in through the yellow brown shadows of the lamplight. He knit his brows in an effort to look at her, for this first time. A surprise, the nature of which he was not in a mood to analyze, invaded him. He saw vaguely a straight, tallish slender figure, crowned with light hair that glowed like satin in the annoying murk, and a large eyed, rather childish face that was tanned richly with weather, as the faces of all the lake dwellers were. She came to him directly, quietly, with the impersonal solicitude which recalled somewhat disturbingly an efficient nurse he had had when he had parted with his appendix some years before.

"Dr. Trevor will be out immediately," she said in a low, sweetly modulated voice which, he recalled now, had seemed unaccountably pleasant when he had first heard it, out beside the road. "Your sister called me back as soon as she had made the arrangements."

"Dr. Trevor will be out immediately," she said.

"I should have told you to have him bring plaster—and whatever they use for broken bones," he said, and lay back dejectedly on the cushion. "I'm afraid this thing is busted."

"I told your sister it probably was," Meryl replied promptly. "The doctor is coming prepared to do whatever is necessary."

Blake breathed a deep, grateful sigh. Meryl went and sat beside him. He looked at her curiously, momentarily removed from his pain.

"Looks as if I'm going to be on your hands for a few days," he ventured.

"If you can sleep on that couch, and eat what we eat, you are welcome," she replied.

"Well—I'll tell you this," he said impulsively. "I don't want to go back to Agate Bay just now. Let me stay here and pay you what I'd have to pay a nurse."

Meryl, gazing at the pale, drawn face, was suddenly aware of some strange upheaval within herself. Was this stranger patronizing her, merely because he had money to pay for what he needed?

"We can discuss that another time," she said, quietly. "Lie still now and don't move your foot. I'm going to make you some hot coffee."

Blake Lawrence groaned under his breath and turned his face to the wall.

Meryl went quickly about preparing a cup of strong coffee. Her father and Margaret, she supposed, would be returning soon. She hoped they would come before the doctor got here, so that she could go up the hill with the sandwiches for Flint. Margaret should have come home long ago, she thought with a little annoyance. But Margaret was still too young to be relied upon, and the excitement of watching the fire had probably quite carried her wits away. Moreover, Davie Carr was probably up there, enshrining himself as a hero in her eyes. And dad had no business stamping around in the chill lake night, with an uncertain heart and arthritis to make it worse. The family, she concluded with gloomy fondness, were about as imprudent a lot as one could find.

She glanced compassionately at the man on the couch. He turned his head so that she saw his face again. Although he made no sound, the distortion of his mouth seemed to cry his anguish aloud.

The coffee came to a boil and she poured it quickly into one of the heavy blue pottery cups which Aunt Letty had saved jealously through the lean years.

"Can you take it black?" she asked as she came to the couch and seated herself beside Blake. "I'm sorry we haven't anything stronger for you."

He sipped the coffee and looked up at her with a perplexed frown. Who was this girl, with her low voice and her careful speech? What sort of household had he stumbled into?

"This is fine," he said gratefully. "I think—anything stronger—would make me sick, right now."

It was at that moment that Aunt Letty's door opened and she stood gazing at them from the threshold, attired in her blue flannel dressing gown, her white, beautiful hair standing like a ghostly aureole about her head.

"Auntie!" Meryl cried, and went to her at once to put her arm about the straight, thin shoulders. "Don't be startled, dear. This is Mr. Lawrence. He has hurt his ankle. I have phoned for the doctor."

Aunt Letty was trembling. "I dreamed," she quavered, "that you were lost in the fire, Merry. It wakened me."

She had arrived at that advanced age where unusual circumstances in the objective world are overshadowed by the slightest disturbance within the dim lights of subjective fancy. Meryl smiled indulgently and led the old lady to a chair. It would be a minute or two before Aunt Letty would emerge from the reality of her dream to the reality of a stranger's presence in the room.

"Where is Andrew?" she fretted. "And the children? They should not be out at this unearthly hour."

"They will be in directly," Meryl assured her, then turned to Blake Lawrence. "Mr. Lawrence, this is my Aunt Letitia—my great-aunt, I should say."

The old lady was muttering away, half to herself. "I have always warned Andrew that the lake air is bad for him, after sunset. In fact—it is lethal. But that's Andrew. There was always something so irregular in the Hendersons. I am a Gaylord—and I deplore——"

"Auntie!" Meryl broke in protestingly. "Don't excite yourself. We have a stranger with us. Would you like a glass of hot milk?"

"Dear, dear!" Aunt Letty commiserated. "You were caught in the fire?"

"You poor fellow!"

The merciful sound of a motor car, for which Blake's senses had been strained almost to the breaking point, reached his ears at last. As he heard it grind to a stop beside the house, he felt himself slipping away into a gray, soft mist—and did not care.

Colleen Moore Explains Joy at New Job.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 17.—[Special.]—If you want to know what brings an actress with beauty and a million dollars back to the screen after retiring Colleen Moore can provide you with an answer. Colleen is one screen beauty with the common sense to store up her big earnings of other days and it wasn't money that prompted her to quit retirement.

In Colleen's case likewise it isn't a desire for further adulation and headlines. It's the boredom of being out of it.

Now, with recent months of voice lessons, further months of anxious waiting for her new MGM contract to really function, all in back of her, and her part all learned, her costumes fitted, her tests okayed, and her spirit alert for her first talkie rôle, it's a sparkling new Colleen who tells you how she feels.

"This part for which I was loaned to Fox's for Jesse Lasky's 'The Power and the Glory' is the nicest thing that could happen to me. Just the fact of being back again, after three miserable years with nothing to do, means more to me than anybody can ever know. For three years I tried to occupy my mind by traveling, but every time I passed a motion picture theater I suffered. Then I went for six months to an art school. I enjoyed the experience, but the novelty wore off. Then I went to New York and tried to absorb myself in studying music. You see, I tried everything, but I couldn't get the motion picture virus out of my blood."

She tried living in Miami, in Tampa, in Havana, "but everywhere I finally got down to the stage of thumb twiddling, so I headed back to Hollywood and here I am and I love it."

Colleen says she doesn't expect to nor won't be disappointed by failing to again reach personal film prominence such as the box office success of her flapper films of silent days won for her six years ago.

"There's too big a price attached to screen fame. I wouldn't want to pay it again," she says.

In "The Power and the Glory" she goes from girlhood to age in an emotional part throughout the story, and says: "I never want to be the saccharine little thing who says, 'Papa, what is beer?' in my film career any more."

All Clifford Jones, young actor, has to do to attract a fine movie rôle is to sit down in the Fox studio restaurant. Yesterday Producer Jesse Lasky saw him, had him tested, and he gets the juvenile lead in Spencer Tracy and Colleen Moore's "Power and the Glory." A month or so ago young Jones was munching a sandwich in the same place when Director Hamilton McFadden saw him and ended up by giving him the lead in "Trick for Trick."

Miss Moore is scheduled to defend herself in Superior court in a suit demanding $100,000 brought by Mrs. Clara B. Decan, who asserts Colleen's automobile ran over her. K. Fugita, Japanese chauffeur, is named a co-defendant.

New York bound travel notes: B. B. Kahane, president of Radio-RKO, left by train today, to arrive for important business conference Monday. Merian Cooper, production manager of the same studio, leaves by plane tomorrow to arrive Monday and join Kahane at the same conference. Adrienne Ames leaves tomorrow for a week's vacation along Broadway. Chevalier leaves Monday by train—sails Thursday on the liner France for three weeks in his native land—also business. He is due back here May 1 for another Paramount film.

Irving Pichel is signed to direct Ann Harding's next one, title not chosen, for Radio. Kenneth MacGowan's option taken up by Radio. Marcus Goodrich, novelist, reporter, book critic, signed to be technical adviser for Paramount's "The Trumpet Blows."

St. Patrick's Party.

St. Martha's household, Church Extension society, will hold a St. Patrick's party at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the grand ballroom of the Illinois Woman's Athletic club. Mrs. Charles B. Osweiler, president of the household, is in charge of the arrangements.

Constance Hasler to Be Bride Today.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends will be present this afternoon at the marriage of Miss Constance Hasler, only daughter of Mrs. Edward L. Hasler, and John McLaren Simpson, second of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, which is to be solemnized in Lake Forest in the chapel of the Church of the Holy Spirit.

The Rev. Dr. Herbert Prince will read the service at 4:30 o'clock, after which there will be a reception, as small as the wedding, at Aldingbourne cottage, Mrs. Hasler's residence in Lake Forest. Miss Eleanor Coonley has come from Great Barrington, Mass., to be her cousin's only attendant, and the bridegroom will be attended by his elder brother, James Simpson Jr. Wyndham Hasler will give his sister in marriage, and ushering will be the bridegroom's younger brother, William Simpson, A. Watson Armour III., and Samuel H. Wolcott Jr. of Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are to be at home in Lake Forest after May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter S. Marston, who are expected to arrive today from New York to spend the next week here, will give the bridal dinner next Friday night for their son's bride-to-be, Miss Florence Carr, who is to become Mrs. Edgar Lewis Marston II. the following afternoon.

Preceding the dinner and immediately after the rehearsal Miss Carr's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins, will give a cocktail party at their residence, 1430 Lake Shore drive.

The bride's father, Robert F. Carr, will entertain members of the bridal party at dinner at his residence, 209 Lake Shore drive, after the wedding reception at the Casino, but the bridal couple will have departed on their wedding trip before the dinner. Tomorrow night Ralph Applegate, who moved here from New York recently and who is to be an usher at the wedding, will give a supper party at the Saddle and Cycle for Miss Carr and Mr. Marston.

Luncheon for Philip Guedallas.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster will have to rush away from the luncheon she and Mr. Brewster are giving tomorrow at their residence on Lake View avenue for Mr. and Mrs. Philip Guedalla if she is not to miss the train that will take her to New York, for the train leaves at 3 o'clock.

Later tomorrow afternoon the Guedallas and Miss Julia Peterkin, who arrives from her home in South Carolina at about the same time that Mrs. Brewster leaves, will be given a tea party by Miss Fanny Butcher, whose house guest Miss Peterkin will be during her Chicago visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Guedalla are leaving tomorrow night for Washington after several weeks in Chicago.

Next Thursday morning at 11:30 o'clock Miss Peterkin will talk on "The Art of Living" at the Arts club, after which Alfred E. Hamill, chairman of the literature committee, will entertain at luncheon for her.

The P. E. N. club is planning to entertain for Miss Peterkin during her stay here, but they will not set a date until after her arrival.

At the English Speaking union tea this afternoon at the Tavern for Mr. and Mrs. Guedalla, Mrs. Arthur Meeker will introduce the author. Mrs. Meeker, as hostess, will be assisted by Mrs. Murry Nelson, Mrs. John A. Holabird, Mrs. George A. Mason, Mrs. Charles R. Whitworth, and the Misses Harriet and Beatrice Borland.

Tea Opens Arts Club Exhibits.

At the Arts club tea yesterday afternoon, which opened two exhibitions—modern artists of the U. S. S. R. and landscape drawings by Walt Kuhn—Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Joseph Adams, Mrs. Arthur W. Jerrems Jr., Mrs. William B. Hale, Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr., Mrs. Edward L. Leight, Mrs. George T. Langhorne, Mrs. Henry H. Reuss, and Mrs. Joseph Birren took turns pouring at opposite ends of a long narrow table decorated only by silver services at either end and a lovely large bowl of calendulas in the center.

Black and white was very popular and Mrs. C. Barney Goodspeed looked stunning in black, with a white "bowed" scarf and a white hat. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bernays, the British consul general, and their young son, Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth, Mrs. Mitchell D. Follansbee and her tall son, Mitchell Jr., Miss Agnes Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Loesch, and Burton Holmes were among those wandering about admiring the paintings as they drank tea or coffee.

Mrs. Crane Is Closing House.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., who had planned to close her house at 1550 Lake Shore drive almost immediately after the marriage on Feb. 18 of her daughter Florence to William A. Robinson, and had to postpone the closing because of a slight indisposition, is doing it now and will be with her sister, Mrs. Josephine M. Patterson, at 209 Lake Shore drive, for the next few weeks.

Anchorfast, the great brown house at Judson avenue and Clark street in Evanston, is to be the scene of much festivity this week-end. For tomorrow night its mistress, Evanston's "first lady," Miss Cornelia Gray Lunt, is to celebrate her ninetieth birthday at a party given by her friends in the city and along the shore to the north.

For days relatives from the east and the west have been arriving. . . . Harris F. Lunt, a nephew, is here from Denver and Mrs. Clarence Phelps Dodge, a niece, comes today from Washington among others . . . and presents have been pouring in by the dozen.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reynolds registered yesterday at the Drake hotel for a stay of four or five days.

When they left here last summer they went to Los Angeles and they are on their way back there now after a visit in Florida and a stay in New York which was lengthened by the banking situation, but they will not be in the southern California city long for they are moving to San Francisco on account of Mr. Reynolds' new connection with the Bank of America.

Because his son, Brewster Perry is a student at Culver Military academy, I. Newton Perry is giving a dinner party at the Racquet club tonight before the military exhibition and polo games sponsored by the Chicago Black Horse troop and Mounted band at the Chicago Riding club. His guests will be the members of the Black Horse troop and the Culver polo teams.

If no new business complication arises this morning Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley are off this afternoon for a week of golf at one of Mr. Bradley's favorite clubs in Mississippi. Twice the trip has been postponed because of emergency matters here.

The "Jack" Allens are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Constance Linn Allen, Wednesday afternoon at the Lying-In hospital. Mrs. Allen is the former Elizabeth Linn.

Beldens Will Return Today.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Belden and Joseph C. Belden Jr., who have been spending their winter holiday in Florida, are motoring home and are expected here today.

The Ronald P. Boardmans of Lake Forest have left for a two weeks' holiday in Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Story have returned to their Riverside home from Cannes, France, where they had been for several months.

If the Illinois Garden club's annual flower show to open the last day of March out on Navy pier is half as successful as the luncheon the board members gave yesterday for Chicago's society editors at the Palmer house, the club should certainly win laurels never before pinned in its blue ribbon gallery.

Mrs. O. W. Dynes, president of the State's Garden Lovers, was at one end of the long candle lighted table and Mrs. George Plamondon at the other. In between were orchids, rows of them, the gift of the city's allied florists. After the luncheon Mrs. Dynes invited each one of the guests to pin one to her lapel.

There was a speech "off the record" by Mrs. Dynes, some publicity notes from Mrs. Dean Workman, and then much conversation. Mrs. Plamondon, who had just come from Passavant hospital, was happily reporting that her son, "Hap," is recovering nicely from an appendectomy. He was seized with a sudden attack last Saturday afternoon on his way out to Wheaton, rushed back to town, and the operation was performed immediately. Mrs. Mark W. Cresap was telling of her plans to go east Monday for the New York flower show as well as the meeting of the Garden club of America, and Mrs. Robert R. McKnight, who is at the Whitehall this winter, having closed her Ravinia house, was talking about a trip to the Smoky mountains.

MINUTE MYSTERY CAN YOU SOLVE IT?

CLASS DAY.

"I believe you fellows know," said Prof. Fordney to his students, "that it was quick action on the part of Dr. Lyman that saved the life of Steve Dawson whose testimony will electrocute Adolphe Vaneau.

"I sat in the front seat with the doctor as he drove along highway 13 to the spot where we were told we would find Dawson. It was cold, the roads slippery, and our speed made conversation difficult. Reaching the designated place we rushed toward a shed where a man stood wildly beckoning.

"'I'm afraid you're too late,' he exclaimed. 'He's a goner!'

"Lyman grabbed the wounded man's wrist, stood motionless a moment, then requested me to open his kit.

"'His pulse is very weak but haste may save him. Split his right sleeve and swab his arm with alcohol while I fix this hypo,' he curtly ordered pulling off his gloves 'He has about a thousand to one chance . . .'

"If Dr. Lyman hadn't been so quick we might never have convicted Vaneau.

"Quick observation, thinking and acting are all qualities you must possess to be successful in your work And remember always to pay the closest attention to every word spoken in connection with a case on which you are working. A single word frequently proves the guilt or innocence of a suspect . . ."

"And the story you just invented illustrated your point, professor," interrupted "Shorty" Adams.

Three Shows Get Attention of Art Critic

Soviet Exhibit Combines Good and Bad.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Two exhibitions of interest opened yesterday in the Arts club, and a third in the Chester Johnson galleries, Fine Arts building. The landscape drawings by Walt Kuhn at the Arts club are extremely impressive, all of them fine and several of them beautiful. They are so vigorous and sincere, so straightforward and simple, that they need no further commendation to recommend them to your attention.

The Arts club exhibit which is tricky is that of work by modern artists of the U. S. S. R. This exhibit fills the large galleries. It overflows into the hall. It is as difficult to pin down as a moth. All kinds and manners of painting may be found in it. There is some brilliant drawing as in "A Steppe Collective Farm," by Obolenskay, and "Wild Boar," by Efimov, to mention but two examples.

There is a great deal of bad drawing. There is good color and there is bad. In fact, practically every quality that makes a picture, and both faces of each quality, are here illustrated. It is a curious maze in which to wander and wonder. One can feel the uncertain movements of a vast body under the pictures turning and striving.

Far simpler is the one man show of paintings by Jean Crawford Adams in the Chester Johnson galleries. Miss Adams is a Chicago painter and her work has been followed with interest by many people for several years. She is an individualist and a modern. Her painting has definite character and purpose. The present show is comprehensive in scope and shows her in gentler, pictorial mood, as well as in her more customary masculine vigor.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt arrived today at the White House en route to the west to join her husband. She will leave her small son to stay with his grandparents and will be accompanied west by Mrs. Ralph Hitchcock of New York whose husband went west with Mr. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Garner, wife of the Vice President, assisted the hostess at the tea given by Mrs. Jouett Shouse in her Georgetown home this afternoon in honor of the secretary of labor, Frances Perkins.

The secretary of the interior, Harold Ickes of Chicago, has leased a pretty country place, Hobby House, close to historic Cabin John's bridge on the conduit road across the District line in Maryland. It overlooks the Potomac river and has a lovely view and belongs to Mrs. Tracy Lay. The secretary has gone to his Chicago home for the week-end and will go to Hobby House, which will be in readiness for him on his return.

Swish... AND THE TOILET IS CLEAN

If you never tried Sani-Flush, you still scrub and scour the toilet bowl. You hate it. But you think you must. Learn the happy truth.

Just sprinkle a bit of Sani-Flush in the toilet. (Follow directions on the can.) Then flush. Porcelain glistens like new. Stains and odors go. And you haven't scrubbed one bit. Even the hidden trap is purified. Sani-Flush can't harm plumbing.

At grocery, drug and hardware stores, 25c. (Another use for Sani-Flush—cleaning automobile radiators. See directions on can.)

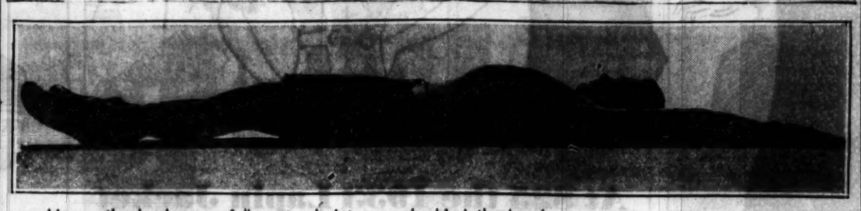
A Good Stretching Exercise



a. Lie on the back, arms fully extended to rear be hind the head.
b. Stretch every part of the body. Stretch, stret ch, stretch!

Stretching Is Way to Waken Lazy Muscles

Try It in Bed, Before You Rise, Mornings.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Stretch and stretch and stretch some more!

Every little stretch is tugging away, loosening fat from muscles. Every big stretch expedites the work of gaining a new and better figure. Begin your day with a stretch.

Charlie Paddock began his day with a few almighty stretches before bouncing out of bed. It was his limbering up idea. It started the day with vim and vigor.

You can't do yourself any harm stretching if you're in normal health. But you can do your body and mind and spirits a powerful lot of good with this stretching habit. It's the way the cat primes itself for its next leap after a nap. It's the dog's way of "loosening up" for a fight or whatever it's up to. It's the way caged animals keep their girlish figures, the only exercise they get practically.

Stretch in bed—this way, that way, pulling opposite ways from the waist. Any and every way to "wake up" the tired, sleeping or lazy muscle. But don't be all softie about this stretching. Get right down to business with it! Down on the hard floor, arms fully extended to the rear behind the head. And stretch every part of the body. Look what it does for the waistline in the accompanying illustration. Flattens it, narrows it. It's good for every part of the body.

The papoose got a straight back from being strapped to a board. Here's a substitute for the board and strapping. It will make you walk better, stand better, move more easily and gracefully. It's a West Point recommendation, included in the series outlined my Maj. Rayner of the army post.

Tomorrow, Sunday, I shall review the exercises that have appeared each day during the week.

Vionnet Designs Stunning Black Satin Ensemble for "After Forties"

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Styles this season make possible simple formulas of dress for the mature woman. The "after forties" can claim certain high fashions as their own and only. The tremendous chic of satin ensembles for formal daytime wear is something designed with the mature woman in view. Few gay young things have enough presence and dignity to get away with black satin, which Paris adores this summer.

The great Madeleine Vionnet makes a great many of her afternoon dresses in this fabric. She adds little fur trimmed satin capes as the wraps for such frocks, and no ensemble can be more elegant or smarter than this one from Vionnet.

A black satin ensemble from this house is shown today. The dress has the air of being tightly fitted, but isn't. Its bodice is cut on the bias, sleeves and all, and has wide black satin bands attached at the shoulders, brought down and crossed on the bodice front, and tied around the waist with long sash ends at the left side. This drapery is actually quite loosely tied, but serves to slenderize the column of the body, and the skirt that flares ever so slightly from the hips does the same thing.

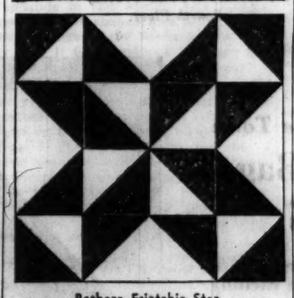
Quilt Found in Barbara Frietchie Maryland Home



Barbara Frietchie Star.

By NANCY CABOT.

There is no proof that Barbara Frietchie herself designed this star pattern which has been named for her. Nor is there any other trace of this pattern is quilt lore other than a quilt of the design which was found in the Barbara Frietchie home in Frederick, Md. This single record is the reason for its being named "Barbara Frietchie's Star." The illustration of the pattern indicates two colors, and so it may be pieced. The colored pieces of the block, however, might be cut from three different tones of the same color, shading from the more intense center to a pastel tint at the extreme corners.

For a pattern of this quilt design, send 5 cents in stamps or coin to Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, printing your name and address clearly. Or call at the Tribune Public Service Office, One South Dearborn Street.

Wise Parent Doesn't Make a Child Hurry

Allow Plenty of Time for Routine Actions.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I wonder if it's possible to stress too much the importance of time in connection with the management and training of young children. A large proportion of the trouble parents have in training their very little boys and girls is due to the fact that they don't realize these two things:

One, that a small child's sense of time, or perhaps I should say his relation to time, is an entirely different one from a grown person's.

And two, that little children's response to orders or directions coming from outside themselves are usually slow. It takes some time for a request or direction to sink in and then to be translated into action.

Recognizing these two differences will lead a nurse, mother or teacher to deal with young children from a different angle. The mother who senses these facts will see why her attempts to hurry her young children are so disastrous. She will learn to allow plenty of time for all the routine actions which have not yet become automatic with her child, like washing hands and face before eating, or hanging her bathrobe on its own low coat-rack. She won't try to hurry her young daughter, who is just learning to undress herself, nor will she nag into a faster tempo the same little girl who, later on, is learning to lace her shoes and button her clothes. She will, instead, give her small child both time and peace to learn to help herself.

The same principle holds true in the matter of obedience. What so often seems like indifference or disobedience in the very little boy or girl is seldom that; it's simply slowness. Little children don't accept change of activity easily. So, if you're absorbed in play and it's nearly bedtime or mealtime, they should have warning or time to shift their attention.

The time element figures largely in management at bedtime, too. The child who is hustled into her bath and out of it, whose mother or father has no time to make going to bed a pleasant, leisurely and friendly affair, does not relax as well, does not go to bed as contentedly, nor to sleep as easily as she would if things were unhurried.

Make time your ally, instead of haste, and see what a great change it will bring about in your relation with your small child.

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The obedience booklet and the one on patience go into these details of management more fully. Either will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WEDDINGS

HENSHAW HALTS PITTSBURGH; CUBS WIN, 4-3

TAILOR VISITS GOLDEN GLOVES TEAM WITH TAPE

Boxers to Get New Uniforms.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Golden Gloves boys were measured for their uniforms yesterday. This added incentive to the daily workouts at the Illinois Athletic club, where the team is preparing for the bouts against New York at the Stadium March 29. Such incentive was needed, but the mention of uniforms brought attention to the impending competition and served to give the amateurs notice that in 12 days they will be up against the best in the east.

Johnny Dobler, Cleveland's Golden Gloves champion who finished as runnerup to Edward Ward in the Chicagoland 135 pound class, will arrive this morning. He is the last of the squad of 24 to report, and he was granted several days of rest at home in consideration of his three bouts in Cleveland on Monday and Tuesday.

Even All Around.

It was learned yesterday that New York has 33 boys in training for the intercity fights. The intercity score now is tied with each team winner in two tournaments and one, the first ever held, a tie. After the first bouts in 1928 at the Coliseum, when New York and Chicago each scored eight victories, the home team has held the advantage. In 1929 at Madison Square Garden New York defeated Chicago, 11 to 5. In 1930 Chicago evened the series with a 10 to 6 triumph.

The next year, because the Metropolitan A. A. U. refused to permit out of town judges and referees to handle the matches, the fights again were held in Chicago and New York was defeated, 10 to 6. Then in 1931 Chicago won by the record score of 13 to 2. Freddie Caserio, the present middleweight champion, captained that team.

Last year Chicago was defeated in New York, 12½ to 4. Thus the score by years not only is a tie, but in the five year period each city has won 40 bouts.

Easterners Are Good.

The bouts March 29, of course, will break this two way deadlock. Moreover, both cities are certain that they possess the best material in the six years of competition. New York makes no secret that its squad this year is greater than the team which licked Chicago, 12 to 4, last year. If this is true the pressure of Chicago's representatives is doubled.

New York also possesses the advantage of great strength in the lighter weights and these bouts will lead off the card March 29. If New York gets away to a lead it may discourage the Chicagoans, whose greatest strength is in the heavier divisions.

This isn't true always. Last year in the international fights against the champions of Germany Chicago trailed, 3 to 0, before Henry Rothier, then the 135 pound champion, whipped his German opponent. Chicago went on to lead, 4 to 3, but Duffy Dvonch was knocked out in the second round of the heavyweight scrap and the bouts ended in a tie.

Clinic List Shrinks.

The hospital list decreased yesterday. Caserio continued to rest as far as actual boxing was concerned because of his cut eye, which, however, is healed. There's no immediate necessity for taking chances with reopening the cut. The same is true of George Van Der Heyden of South Bend. Rothier will be ready to work out in another day. He has been troubled with a boil.

Bill Treest and Leo Rodak also were granted continued reprieve from ring duty. These boys, however, went through four three minute rounds of gymnasium work. Those who boxed did three rounds of floor work and a maximum of two rounds in the ring.

One of the best scraps with the 12 ounce gloves in yesterday's drills was between Billy Celebron and Eddie Ward. They went at it with a vengance for two rounds and only the big pads saved them from doing a lot of harm. As it was Celebron caught one on the chin which had him wondering where he was. The heavier boys use 14 ounce gloves in training.

Don't Wait

You will want seats that offer the best view of the ring when Golden Gloves champions of Chicago and New York battle at Chicago Stadium on March 29. Then act now; buy now.

Prices are only $1.10, $2.20 and $3.30 for boxing's greatest show.

Tickets may be purchased at the Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, from 9 a. m. to midnight, or at Room 530, Tribune Tower, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Mail orders, also, are accepted. Send orders to Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

BUD GINTER SEES WORLD; THINKS HE CAN WHIP IT

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Bud Ginter may be a sailor, but he's never at sea in the ring. He knows just what to do with his fists from the first gong to the final punch. In the Golden Gloves tournament he applied this knowledge with such telling effect that he won the bantamweight championship, and now he will carry on for Chicago in the intercity matches against New York, which are to be fought at the Stadium March 29.

BUD GINTER.

Bud's desire to see the world led indirectly to the development of his natural ability as a boxer. When he was a high school boy of 17 he felt a yearning for far horizons and decided to follow the advice expressed in the familiar slogan: "Join the navy and see the world."

So he hunted up a recruiting station and presently found himself a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Colorado, which was stationed at San Pedro, Cal. Once in the navy, he decided that he would like to take up boxing in his spare time. Excellent facilities for the sport were provided, and Bud made rapid progress.

He entered the battle fleet tournament and defeated every member of his own crew who faced him. When competition between representatives of the various ships began, Bud's success continued and it was not until the finals that he went down in defeat.

He kept up his training as the years of his naval career slipped by and availed himself of opportunities to box against some of the toughest gobs in the service.

But life wasn't all boxing for this young fellow. His ship steamed away from San Pedro and headed westward into the Pacific, giving Bud a chance to realize his long cherished ambition to see the world. The fleet sailed to Honolulu and cruised among the Hawaiian islands. Bud swam at the beach of Waikiki and rode the surf. Then the fleet went to Panama, passed through the canal, and went up the Atlantic coast to New York.

At the end of his four year term Bud left the navy and came home to Chicago. That was in 1931. He is now 23 years old and lives at home with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ginter, 7044 North Clark street. Although he answers to the nickname of Bud, his correct name is John. He is the second oldest in a family of four boys. He is of German and Irish extraction.

Bud's retirement from the navy did not terminate his career as a traveler, for he had an opportunity to go back to Panama recently as a member of the Catholic Youth Organization's team. Bud won the bantamweight championship in the C. Y. O. tournament which was held in January and defeated his army opponent when the team went on its twenty-eight day tour to Panama. The fights were held at Cocosolo in the Canal Zone.

This is Bud's second year on the Golden Gloves team. Last season he was runner-up to Leo Rodak for the bantamweight championship and he fought in the intercity competition at New York. In the course of his boxing career he has fought about 110 times, losing twenty bouts.

Leader—Ritter.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Two hard riding teams were tied for the lead and fighting it out desperately early this morning in the six day bicycle race at the Stadium.

The leaders were the Red Devils, Letourner and Debaets and the New York team of Jimmy Walthour and Charley Ritter.

A crowd of nine thousand, the largest since the long grind started, stood and cheered while the four way tie developed. It was the wildest stage of the race. There was continued jamming from 9 o'clock until 11 o'clock. During the wild session 43 laps were stolen.

Favorites Drop Behind.

The lead changed continually. At 9 o'clock Letourner and Debaets were tied with Spencer and Lands. An hour later the Red Devils were in the lead all alone. Then at 11 o'clock the teams of Walthour and Ritter, Schaller and Wagner, and De Lille and Page came up to make it a four way issue.

Three teams were just a lap back and tied for second place at 2 a. m. When Spencer and Lands faltered the crowd groaned, for after they had wheeled into a tie for the lead during the afternoon the spectators made them the favorites.

The old fellows didn't ride the night jamboree with the dash they showed during the afternoon. A lot of cycling handicappers shook their heads and ventured the hint the team might be through.

Boys Move Up.

Mickey Rodak and Torchy Peden, who had fought it out with the leaders for five days and five nights, were losing ground. They were back in a tie for eighth place, two laps behind the leading teams.

The riding which thrilled the big crowd most was provided by De Lille and Le Page and Bobby Walthour and his partner. During a short hour of spectacular sprinting Walthour and Dempsey came from last place into a tie for second place.

De Lille and Le Page also moved from far back. They might be a mile and a half in front but for fifteen laps they lost on penalties earlier in the week through faulty pickups.

There is to be all sorts of thrills as the race ends tonight. THE TRIBUNE'S intercity Golden Glove squad of twenty-five will be guests of honor. The boys are coming out to cheer for Rodak and Peden, for the bike rider is a brother of Leo Rodak, the Golden Glove champion.

Tonight's the End.

There will be sprints from 9 until 10 o'clock and during the last hour from 11 until 12 o'clock there will be a sprint for points every mile. During the final hour the points will be scored 72 for first, four for second, two for third, and one for fourth.

Results of the 1 a. m. sprints:

1. Thomas, Wagner, Lands, Grimm.
2. Dempsey, Debaets, Rodak, J. Walthour.
3. Horan, Letourner, Thomas, Peden.
4. Deulberg, Hill, Rodak, Letourner.
5. De Lille, Ritter, Grimm, Debaets.
6. Debaets, Lands, Rodak, Thomas.
7. Peden, Letourner, Horan, Lands.
8. Spencer, Rodak, Manera, Schaller.
9. Peden, Le Page, Grimm, Letourner.
10. Thomas, Dempsey, Cooley, Spencer.

100 PRESENT AT TRIBUNE A. A.'S ANNUAL DINNER

One hundred members of the Tribune Athletic association and their families were guests of THE TRIBUNE at a dinner and dance at the Germania club last night.

The dinner, an annual event, is given as a token of appreciation for the services rendered by the members of the association in officiating at THE TRIBUNE'S various annual athletic meets—the Silver Skates, Golden Gloves, ski meet, and swimming meet.

KEEP IT UP, JACK

Crowd Boos as Jeby Saves Title by Draw

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Ben Jeby, recognized here as world middleweight champion, was given a draw by Referee Ed Forbes and two judges tonight at the end of a 15 round title battle with Vince Dundee of Baltimore before a crowd of 11,000. The decision was soundly booed.

For fifteen minutes after Joe Humphries, as surprised as every one else in the big battle pit, announced the decision, the crowd stood around the ring and booed.

It was the first title defense of Jeby, who won his recognition as champion here by knocking out Frankie Battaglia, and for Dundee it marked the opportunity of becoming the second member of one family to hold a world title, something never before accomplished in ring history.

As far as the crowd, and the ringside critics as well, were concerned, Dundee won. Entering the bout with a blackened left eye, Vince, brother of Joe Dundee, former welterweight champion, warmed up after a slow start to dominate the battling after the fifth round.

Snapping left jabs continually into Jeby's face, crossing him almost at will with rights to the jaw, outgeneraling the champion from the fifth round on, Dundee seemed to have an edge in at least nine of the fifteen rounds, with Jeby winning only four, and two even.

Charles Bartlett, Tribune Golf Writer, Operated On

Catholic Prep Teams Play for Titles Tonight

The lightweight and heavyweight basketball championships of the Catholic High School league will be decided tonight at Loyola gymnasium. St. Mel will meet Leo for the lightweight title and De Paul will fight it out with St. George for heavyweight honors.

This will be the first time that Leo has come within striking distance of the league championship. This quintet is highly rated, inasmuch as it defeated St. Philip, 25 to 22, last Tuesday. Up to that time St. Philip had been the outstanding favorite in the lightweight division, having taken the west section championship without the loss of a game. Twice St. Philip defeated St. Mel, the only team which now stands between Leo and the championship.

St. George also is new at championship competition and will be up against representatives of an institution which has turned out consistently strong teams. For the last four years De Paul has participated in the semi-finals, and Coach Tom Haggert hopes to send his boys all the way this time.

DELAWARE O. K.'S HORSE RACING; BARS BETTING

Dover, Del., March 17.—[Special.]—By a unanimous vote the Delaware house of representatives today passed a bill permitting horse racing in the state. Betting is prohibited and the season limited to 30 days. A minimum purse of $700 was fixed.

NOW FONSECA IS WORRYING ABOUT SIMMONS' HAND

Slugger Can't Slug; Sox Meet Giants Today.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 17.—All is not well with Al Simmons, the noted slugger purchased by the White Sox from the Athletics along with Mule Haas and Jimmy Dykes. Simmons' right hand, injured in a golf game last fall, is continuing to give him some annoyance, and while it is a bit too early to spread the alarm it nevertheless is a matter uppermost in the mind of Manager Lew Fonseca. And Simmons himself is just a bit fretful about his failure to make better progress.

The Simmons situation now is the only thing worth fretting about so far as the Sox are concerned, and even that probably is only temporary. In the two battles split with the Cubs everything worked better than expected. In fact, the manager was so well satisfied with what he saw that he curtailed the workout today to keep the gang fresh for the engagements with the Giants at Los Angeles tomorrow and Sunday.

Pitching Problem Clears.

Fonseca's biggest problem from the start was pitching. Ed Durham, in a three inning stretch against the Cubs, was impressive. Vic Frasier in the same number of innings showed his 1931 fast ball had returned. Paul Gregory was touched up a bit in the first inning of the opening game, but he probably was a bit nervous. On top of this the Sox came through with an attack that netted 14 hits in each game. Simmons contributed only 2 of the 28, so when and if he gets going there should be even more dynamite. Most of the 28 hits were produced against Pat Malone, Lon Warneke, Charley Root, and Guy Bush, all of whom are in good physical shape.

There are two reasons for doing a little worrying about Simmons. One is that in the two struggles with the Cubs he didn't appear to be taking his natural, free swing at the ball. The other is that he admits his right hand is giving him considerable pain whenever he swings a bat. He didn't do much swinging today, but made good use of his time by running around the field to toughen up his legs.

May Order Al to Rest.

It is possible that if the wrist continues to cause trouble after a few more days Fonseca may order him to refrain from batting, whether it is in practice or in a regular game. There is no reason to believe, however, that the ailment will not vanish before the season opens on April 12.

Fonseca put Appling in the fifth batting notch yesterday and developments won the place for the youngster, at least temporarily. He hit two long drives that were caught, doubled once, and tripled another time. The triple, however, could have been held to a single if Babe Herman, the new Cub, could get over the idea that every batted ball coming in his direction must be caught.

Appling also looked impressive in the field, despite one error. After he learns that the veteran Dykes is at his side to give him instructions on every play, Appling is bound to have more confidence in himself. That, naturally, will improve his fielding.

Jones Faces Giants First.

For tomorrow's game with the Giants, the Sox are going to use three pitchers who haven't worked in a game this spring. Old Sam Jones is scheduled to start and he will be followed by young Ed Walsh and Milton Gaston. Walsh is the only one of the three who will have to start doing something or be sent back to the minors.

On Sunday Ted Lyons will make his 1933 debut against a regular team if the Giants can be termed such. Lyons will do the customary three innings, after which Durham and Frasier will be given another fling.

CARDINALS SIGN VANCE; FRISCH ONLY HOLDOUT

Bradenton, Fla., March 17.—[Special.]—Dazzy Vance today signed a one year contract with the St. Louis Cardinals. Terms were not made public. Vance was obtained from Brooklyn where he worked as a pitcher for $15,000 a year. Frankie Frisch now is the only Cardinal holdout.

A SPORT WRITER REVEALS ALL FOR 2 CENTS PER COPY

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—A sport writer interviews himself after the fashion:

O, how I love my beautiful, darling wife and kiddies. I am one of the best husbands in the world. And fathers, too. Some husbands and fathers keep these things in the bosom of the family, but it is a business with me and I blab it all over good white paper.

Hello, sweetheart. Here is a kiss for you. I am selling this kiss to the customers for two cents a copy. Ten cents on Sundays. Don't forget to give little Shirley her spinach tonight. I have your photograph in the drawer beside me, darling. In my watch, too. Also in my hat. Hello, Shirley, darling. Your papa sends you a kiss. Your papa loves you. Papa loves baby. Isn't that original, darling?

Sometimes I get disgusted when people think I am hard boiled and blasé and cynical. People are always thinking about me. O why does everybody think about me all the time? And why do people think I am conceited and stuck up when I am one of the most democratic and kind hearted and family loving people in all the world? Even if I am standing on the pinnacle of success, I am always willing to lend a helping hand to those who are strugglin' in the battle of life.

This is the great humanitarian in me, although, to hear my enemies tell it, you wouldn't know it. I used to be one of the humble class myself once before I became so successful.

But is it worth while to be a great man? Sometimes I wonder, darling.

I must remember to write something nice about George Washington. He deserves it, even from me. Walnuts grow on trees. Shakespeare died at the age of 50.

Rather clever, I thought. I mean what Izzy Blotz, the featherweight fighter, said to the elevator boy at the Garden the other night.

"Hello," piped Blotz. "I see you have your ups and downs."

Wonder if it is true. I mean about what I mean. I mean about that rumor about what I mean. It certainly will prove what I mean if I mean what I mean.

A certain party has been writing poison pen letters about me. And the party is known. Jealous of my success, that's all.

I am so important that a great many people write poison pen letters about me. But what they forget is that I love my wife and kiddies.

How the money rolls in.

O, well, if you want to be an honest, fearless and a big, outstanding success, you have to have a brave bodyguard so you will not get slapped in the nose. Bodyguards cost money but when I need money I just kiss my darling wife and little Shirley in print and meet the pay roll.

Butch Butcher certainly is a grand guy and a true pal. One of the sweetest pals in the world. They call him a racketeer. The big bankers, that is. But they don't know what a grand guy and a true pal he is. While they are robbing the poor people he robs the rich. They say he kicks his mother.

I must remember to put the plast on Pontius Pilate. There was a dirty bum if there ever was one. I am not afraid to speak out. Let the chips fall where they may.

That certainly was nice of President Roosevelt to write me that boosting letter telling me how much he likes my stuff. I wrote him saying, "I certainly hope you have a successful administration," and he wrote back out of a clear sky, "I cannot find words to express my opinion of your stuff."

Benedict Arnold certainly was a dirty bum.

Henry VIII. was a king of England.

STEPHENSON'S 4 HITS PAVE WAY FOR TRIUMPH

Ex-Maroon Back in Boy Wonder Class.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., March 17.—Roy Henshaw, the mite Maroon, got back in the boy wonder category this afternoon by holding the able Pittsburgh Pirates after the Cubs had come from behind following a poor start. The final score was Chicago, 4; Pittsburgh, 3; although the first of the series between the National league champions and runnersup pushed off like an incipient Pirate riot.

The main man in the Cub batting department was Riggs Stephenson, who made four hits and half of the Cub runs. The old hoss also made four hits yesterday and he had a safety his last time up Wednesday. As a result the books at the close of business today showed the Alabaman with a string of nine hits in his last ten times at bat.

Campbell Drives in First Runs.

It is not proper to say that Stephenson did all the hitting. Bill Campbell, for instance, drove in Babe Herman and Stevie with the first Cub runs by knocking a double in the fourth. And in the sixth Gink Hendrick drove in Stevie with a single and scored on a triple by Bill Jurges.

Six hits were made off Henshaw in five innings, two of them after two were out in the ninth. But unlike so many collegians, he showed he liked the going when it was roughest, thereby earning the most enthusiastic compliments his elders could shower upon him.

It seemed just like midsummer when L. Waner stepped up and lined one of his ornery singles to right to get the contest under way. Lloyd went to second on a passed ball and scored on Lindstrom's single to left. P. Waner lined a typical P. Waner single to right, putting Lindstrom on third, whence he scored while Traynor was forcing P. Waner. Suhr eased the strain by hitting into a double play, Hendrick to Jurges.

Herman Beats Out Hit.

The Cubs couldn't get a man to second until the fourth inning; then they tied the score at two all. Cuyler fanned. Babe Herman threw his bat the ball and beat out an infield single. Stephenson then came through with his second single to center, putting the Babe on third. Hendrick walked, filling the bases. Campbell's double to left center scored Herman and Stephenson and put Hendrick on third. Jurges grounded to Traynor and Hendrick was out at the plate. Demaree batted for Yerkes and filed to P. Waner.

Henshaw took over the pitching job in the fifth and had little difficulty in disposing of L. Waner and Lindstrom, but P. Waner bobbed up with his third successive hit, a double along the left foul line. Traynor shot a hot grounder to deep short, but Jurges went back on the grass for the ball and made a miracle throw to Hendrick to retire the side.

Both Score in Sixth.

The Pirates got a run across after two were out in the sixth. Suhr fanned, but Vaughan dropped a Texas leaguer in center field and went to second while Hack was throwing out Piet. Finney batted for Grace and singled to left, scoring Vaughan. Comorosky batted for French and was thrown out by Hack.

In their end of the sixth the Cubs grabbed two runs and the lead. Stephenson pushed off with a double and went to third when Finney threw the ball into center field trying to catch him off second. Hendrick singled to center, scoring Stevie. Gink went to second while Vaughan was throwing out Campbell and walked home on Jurges' triple to left center. Henshaw fanned and Piet threw out Hack.

After Pinch Batter Brubaker had filed to Stephenson and L. Waner had fanned in the ninth, Lindstrom knocked his third hit, a single, and P. Waner followed with his fourth hit, also a single. Traynor then ended the game by forcing P. Waner.

PETROLLE FIGHTS SURPLUS WEIGHT FOR ROSS BOUT

Wears Heavy Garb in Drill with Saunders.

The largest crowd that has visited a local gymnasium since last December watched Billy Petrolle drill at Kid Howard's gymnasium yesterday for his 10 round bout with Barney Ross at the Chicago Stadium next Wednesday. Shortly after Petrolle received word that Ross had finished his schedule of four rounds of boxing at Trafton's gymnasium he entered the ring and went three rounds against Prince Saunders, south side lightweight.

Prince Holds Him Off.

Petrolle, who will be making his first appearance here since he whipped Bat Battalino almost a year ago, found difficulty getting into close quarters to score with body punches against Saunders. Prince landed straight lefts to the head intermingled with several sharp rights. Of course, Billy did some damage himself.

After the workout Artie Rose of New York, trainer of Petrolle, said Billy weighed "about 142½ pounds." The Duluth fighter must weigh 138 pounds for Ross, a figure that is presumed to be hard for him to make. Petrolle wore heavy clothing during the drill.

Makes Weight "Sometimes."

Jack Hurley, manager of Petrolle, said that Billy makes the stipulated poundage without weakening himself "sometimes." Petrolle scaled 137 when he stopped Battalino at New York last year. When he whipped Bat at the Stadium last May he weighed 140.

Gene Higgins and Frankie May, amateur boxers, were reinstated by the boxing committee of the Central A. A. U. yesterday. . . . Harry Dublinsky, west side lightweight, will go to Scranton, Pa., today for a match against Wildcat O'Connor Monday.

Pep Kerwin, White City promoter, last night completed his bill scheduled for Monday. Jack Kilbourne, South Chicago middleweight, and Jack Moran of the west side will meet in the eight round windup. The semi-windup will bring together Sammy Levine and Jackie Stewart, featherweights. Four round matches are: Phil Pernice vs. Freddy Dolph, Johnny Terry vs. Ralph Lubansky, Joey Palazzola vs. Frank Keevil, and Eddie Stiegal vs. Einar Hedquist. Nell Donald and Marie La Plante will wrestle.

SMITTY—IT'S A SMALL WORLD

Hawks Will Hear Lecture, Work Today

The Blackhawks, crippled and disappointed with their success in the present championship race, will forego their period of rest for a time today to hear a lecture and engage in setting-up exercises preparatory to their last appearance in Chicago tomorrow afternoon. They meet the Detroit Red Wings, American division leaders in the National league, at the Stadium at 3:30 o'clock instead of at 8:30 o'clock, customary Sunday game time.

Following Tuesday's game in Boston the team was in such crippled condition that complete rest was ordered until tomorrow's game. This policy will be adhered to, inasmuch as Manager Tommy Gorman will not allow the men to put on skates or handle sticks until they face off against Detroit.

Coulter is expected to start at defense for the Hawks, but there was some uncertainlty about this pending the arrival of Frank Calder, league president, today to investigate the argument at Boston Tuesday, in which the Hawks forfeited the game, 1 to 0, in the overtime period. Calder may suspend Coulter for attempting to attack the goal umpire with his stick through the wire screen.

PhaganKnocks Out Schuman in 2d Round

Johnny Phagan, 1932 International Golden Gloves welterweight champion, knocked out Harry Schuman of the west side in the second round of the scheduled six round windup at the Cicero stadium last night. Fifteen hundred attended and receipts were $1,050. It was the second time Phagan knocked out Schuman, stopping him previously at the Cicero arena in January in one round.

Phagan floored Harry with rights to the chin twice in the first round for nine counts. Shortly after the second round started Johnny landed a short right to the jaw and Schuman was counted out.

Other results:

Young Scotty beat Jack Ripp [4]; Bobby Vernon beat Walter [4]; Clarence Ballard and Johnny Terry drew [4]; Jimmy Eliopoulos knocked out Eddie Evans [1]; Joey Kleko beat Leo Ranieri [4].

PAIR CATHOLIC FIVES TODAY FOR NATIONAL MEET

John Holda beat George Joansen [wrestling].

Rudy Kay beat Al Woznica [wrestling].

Illinois Military, Joliet Win in Junior College Meet

RUTH SEEKS TO TALK PAY WITH RUPPERT TODAY

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17.—[Special.]—Babe Ruth tonight was seeking a contact with Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, to arrange a conference for tomorrow morning at Miller Huggins Memorial field, where the player and club owner again would discuss the salary differences which have to date kept the home run king a holdout.

Ruth, admitting his quest of Col. Ruppert and its object, refused, however, to discuss the situation further. It is expected that at tomorrow's meeting something definite will be accomplished. Ruth and Col. Ruppert had a salary discussion last Monday morning, but failed to reach an agreement when the club owner placed a limit of $50,000 on Ruth's salary for this year and Ruth demanded $60,000.

Since that meeting Ruth has indicated a willingness to accept $55,000, but Col. Ruppert has been indifferent. Ruth's salary last year was $75,000.

Riverside and Wheaton Win Tourney Games

Riverside beat Hinsdale, 20 to 18, and La Grange defeated Maine, 31 to 29, in the semi-finals of the high school lightweight basketball tournament at Wheaton last night. Riverside will meet La Grange in the final game tonight.

PROFIT TAKING CHECKS RISE IN STOCK MARKET

Leaders Lose 1 to 4 Points of Gains.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—Prices turned downward on the Stock exchange today and volume fell off sharply. Brokers said the bulk of the selling represented profit taking attracted by the market's sharp advance on Wednesday and its failure to extend the advance in yesterday's dealings. Some liquidation supposedly due to disappointment over the administration's farm plan was reported.

Net losses on the day's dealings ranged from 1 to 4 points. Highly speculative issues which had gone in for skyrocketing exhibitions on the opening day after the moratorium were the chief sufferers. Case Threshing Machine lost 4 points of its sensational runup, G. W. Helme gave up 4½, and a small group of preferreds, including Real Silk Hosiery, Public Service, International Silver and Outlet company fell back from 2 to 5 points.

Gold, Sugar Issues Up.

Two groups moved counter to the general trend, gold mining shares and stocks of sugar companies. The gold shares had been in the background since the resumption of trading, but the leaders of the division stepped out today and made up for lost time. Homestake jumped 6 points and Alaska Juneau bettered its board rating by 1½ points on a lively turnover. In the sugar department, American Sugar advanced to a new high for the year.

Leaders such as United States Steel, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, International Harvester, and the like pined away in a body. Gas gave up 2½ points and the others averaged about a point lower on the day.

The rails made a brave effort to get up steam around midday on the strength of revived reports that the administration is getting ready to do something substantial toward their relief, but the signals were set against them. The close found Union Pacific showing a net loss of 2½ points, with Lackawanna, New Haven, New York and Harlem, Southern Pacific, and others off a point or more each. Louisville and Nashville, which obtained permission at Washington today to cut its passenger fares to 2 cents a mile, took a header for nearly 3 points.

Repeal Stocks Sag.

In spite of the talk and newspaper displays of the big preparations under way throughout the land for the resumption of beer manufacture, the so-called "repeal" stocks were unable to keep up the high spirits they were showing a day or two ago. Crown Cork and Seal, Owens Illinois Glass, National Distillers, and others of the group offered little resistance to such selling as came their way and the final gong found the group leaders anywhere from 1 to 3 points lower.

Utility, oil, motor, and food stocks drifted down together. Nothing especial developed to influence any one of the groups or the leaders of any of them. Traders had evidently decided that the whole list had shown entirely too much enthusiasm on its first day after the holiday, with the administration's revival plans yet in the paper stage and those who had permitted their optimism to get out of bounds seemed out to take their profits and move in anew at lower levels.

Commentators continued to express the opinion that the market was merely settling down to a normal pace, however, and nowhere was there a disposition to interpret the "technical correction" as the beginning of a "bear movement."

U. S. DOLLAR GAINS AGAINST POUND, FRANC AND MARK

New York, March 17.—It was another day of sharply declining quotations in the foreign exchange market. Sterling lost ½ cent, but apparently demand for spot was so good that the premium for future sterling widened considerably, three months' options being quoted at a premium of 7 cents on the pound. French francs lost a whole point; marks dropped 9 points and guilders about 5 points. Danish kroner went 4 points lower, but Swedish gained that amount. Swiss francs were off 6 points. Belgas were unchanged and Greek drachmae were decidedly firm.

Silver currencies were slightly lower. Yen held firmly and unchanged at 22 cents. Canadian dollars were a trifle firmer.

MARKET SUMMARY

NEW YORK STOCKS — Heavy. Leaders dip. Trading quiet.

CHICAGO STOCKS—Lower in slower trading.

NEW YORK BONDS — Irregular. Federal issues firm.

FOREIGN EXCHANGES — Easy. Gold currencies sag.

CORN—Lower. Close at bottom.

CATTLE—Steady; top on steers $6.75; bulk $4.25 to $5.50.

HOGS—Mostly 5 to 10c higher; top $4.20; bulk, $4.00 to $4.15; average, $4.10.

COFFEE—Lower. Brazil market easier.

PRODUCE—Spot butter and eggs lower.

Higher Income Taxes Fail to Raise Revenue

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—The extent to which the depression has dried up the source of income tax revenue was graphically disclosed today by the first figures on receipts of taxes on 1932 incomes under the enormously increased rates of the 1932 revenue act.

The receipts were only $1,000,000 greater than the receipts on the corresponding day of last year before the rates were boosted. Although this poor showing may be accounted for in part by the extension of the deadline on the filing of returns to March 31, there is abundant evidence that the revenue under the new act is falling far short of treasury estimates at the time of its passage.

Misjudged Business Revival.

Those estimates were based in part on the expectation of a substantial revival of business during 1932, which failed of realization. Business continued prostrate, with more and more corporations, partnerships and individuals reporting losses instead of profits. As a result the boosting of the rates until the exactions on all but the smallest incomes were doubled has produced little more revenue than before.

Warnings that "the soak the rich" tax rates were being boosted to the point of diminishing returns are being justified.

About $14,000,000 in income taxes came in on March 15, the original deadline for payment. The actual total was $13,659,901, compared with $12,648,765 last year. Total collections for the first two weeks of March amounted to $34,082,240, compared with $32,052,618 for the same period a year ago.

Collections Are Delayed.

The bulk of the collections is expected to be delayed this year because of the extension granted, but the interest which must be paid on postponed payments will be an incentive to early settlement, it was said.

The rush to pay income taxes when the banks reopened on March 13 has left officials in doubt as to future payments. Ordinarily, taxes collected on March 14 and 15 are not reflected in the treasury's statement until several days later. But the early rush this year leaves them in doubt whether the customary late "swell" will be repeated, especially as the date of payment has been extended to March 31.

Aggregate income taxes collected since July 1, 1932, have fallen far below those collected under the former and lower rates. Between July 1 and March 15, the total collected was only $417,414,269, compared with $690,173,961 taken in during the corresponding period in the preceding fiscal year.

PAY OF OFFICERS OF AM. TOBACCO SHOWN BY HILL

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Salaries drawn by American Tobacco company officials last year and details of the employes' stock subscription plan of 1930, which has been the subject of controversy among stockholders, are set forth in a pamphlet sent to stockholders by George W. Hill, the company's president.

Hill disclosed that his total compensation last year was $789,500, or $262,700 less than he received in 1931. He listed his salary at $120,000 and additional compensation at $669,500. In 1931 his salary was $160,000 and additional compensation $891,570. Charles F. Nelley and Vincent Riggio, vice presidents, whose fixed salaries last year were $50,000 each, received additional compensation totaling $401,700.

Hill declared that the compensation policies of the company, which have been attacked by a small group of stockholders, have been the "foundation stone of the company's success." The stockholders will be asked to approve these policies at the annual meeting on April 5.

CLOSED DETROIT BANKS CAN PAY OUT $32,000,000

Detroit, Mich., March 17.—(AP)—Thirty-two million dollars of deposits in Detroit's two largest banks will be made available to depositors starting Monday under authorization received tonight from Washington by the conservators who are in charge of the banks.

Of that sum, $30,000,000 represents the undistributed remainder of that portion of accounts made available to depositors since Michigan's banking holiday began. The other $2,000,000 represents trust deposits made in the banks since the holiday.

The two banks, the First National Bank-Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, gave depositors access to 5 per cent of their accounts on Feb. 17 and another 5 per cent near the end of the national moratorium.

The distributions will be made by the conservators, Paul C. Keyes for the First National and B. C. Schram for the Guardian National, who took over the banks this week.

SOUTH. PACIFIC SEEKS U. S. LOAN OF 22 MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—The Southern Pacific company today asked the interstate commerce commission to authorize it to borrow $22,000,000 from the Reconstruction corporation.

This is the first application for a loan made by the Southern Pacific company itself. The St. Louis Southwestern railway, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific, has secured approximately $18,000,000 from the corporation.

The Southern Pacific would use the money it asks to pay maturing bonds and equipment trust obligations, meet interest on bonds and equipment trust obligations, and pay other "corporate requirements." The security offered is the company's promissory note.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Farm relief legislation as proposed in the bill introduced in congress late Thursday proved a boomerang in the grain and cotton markets yesterday. Heavy selling appeared in speculative commodities likely to be affected by the numerous provisions of the act, and an early advance of 3 cents in wheat prices was more than wiped out before the markets closed.

A rush of buying caused a sharply higher opening in grains, due to an accumulation of orders in the hands of commission houses. At no time, however, did the price of grains other than barley touch the maximum limits permitted under the rules of the exchange. The opening prices proved to be the highest of the day, with the finish well toward the bottom. Cotton was off $1.50 to $2 per bale at the last.

Differ on Proposed Legislation.

While there was considerable difference of opinion as to the probable effect of the farm relief plan, a majority of operators construed it as bearish. Many local longs went out of their holdings of wheat during the day. The September option dropped 3¼ cents from the high point at the opening, with the close about at the bottom with net losses of ¼ to ⅝ cent, with May showing the most weakness. The latter was 53 to 53⅛ cents at the last, with July 53⅛ to 53⅝ cents and September 54⅝ to 54¾ cents.

Weakness in the Winnipeg wheat market and a recession in stocks were also factors in inducing selling. The Canadian market closed 2⅝ to 2⅞ cents lower, with May at 51¾ cents. American interests were said to have been sellers there. Houses which were regarded by pit observers as acting for the farm board were sellers of May, and this more than offset increased public buying in small lots.

Delegation to Capital.

A delegation from the New York Cotton exchange left for Washington yesterday to obtain first hand information as to the provisions of the bill. Chicago Board of Trade officials refused to comment as to their probable action.

Corn was up ¾ to 2 cents at the start, but quickly reacted with wheat and on selling by longs. The grain also felt the effect of the uncertainty created by the introduction of the farm relief bill. Prices dropped steadily after the bulge had been checked and the close was at net losses of ⅛ to ½ cent, with May at 27¼ to 27⅜ cents; July, 29⅛ to 29¼ cents, and September, 30⅞ cents.

While oats and rye were not mentioned in the farm relief act, both grains were affected to some extent by the action of wheat and corn. Oats were ¼ to ½ cent lower, while rye was unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

Beer Prospect Helps Barley.

Probable legalization of beer inside of three weeks caused an advance of 3 cents in barley at the opening, the maximum permitted under the rules. This checked the advance and a reaction came later with other grains, but the close was up 1⅞ to 2 cents.

COURT QUASHES TEXAS ORDER TO CUT OIL OUTPUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Austin, Tex., March 17.—A three-judge federal court today pronounced unreasonable and nullified the railroad commission's recent order limiting the production of the east Texas oil field to 290,000 barrels a day. A more recent order raised the field to 400,000, but representatives of 90 per cent of the independent operators gathered in Austin today to ask the commission to make another order not contrary to the decision.

Oil men predicted the present 50 cent per barrel prices would drop to 10 cents or lower if the giant field gets out of control. Presidents of major oil companies appeared before the legislature last night to urge restrictions of at least 25 per cent in east Texas oil production to prevent a breakdown of proration.

BANKS OF LONDON CONSIDER ENDING DEPOSIT INTEREST

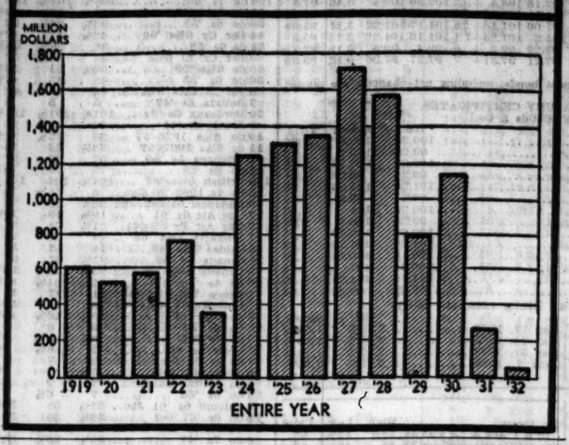
[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 17.—The first time in financial history British banks, which are glutted with money, are considering a temporary abolition of interest payments upon deposits, which in London alone amount to a billion pounds.

Even the present low deposit rate may be cut in half, but it is reported the "big five" London banks will decide to accept money for safekeeping only. Their difficulty is to find profitable investments, although they are still charging 5 per cent on loans.

The building societies are also surfeited with funds, indulging in extensive advertising campaigns for borrowers.

Foreign Security Issues Sold in the United States by Years



Foreign Trade Drops; Balance Favors U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The value of United States exports declined in February to $100,000,000, compared with $120,593,000 for the preceding month and represented the smallest month's shipments since August, 1904, when exports reached $92,254,000, according to preliminary foreign trade figures made public today by the commerce department.

In line with the same seasonal trend the value of imports declined by $13,000,000 from the preceding month's total to $83,000,000 for February but remained considerably above the $79,421,000 of imports for July last year, which established a low point for recent years. Taken together, the value of both imports and exports in February, amounting to about $183,000,000, was $33,602,000 under the total foreign trade for January and represented a reduction of $101,971,000, compared with the corresponding month last year.

Less Cotton Exported.

A large part of the decline in February exports was due to reduced shipments of cotton which were $9,000,000 less than for January and $16,715,000 below February, 1932.

Shipments of cotton to France amounted to 64,000 bales valued at $2,454,000 for February, compared with 46,583 bales valued at $1,845,000 for February, 1932; to Italy, 64,074 bales and $2,239,000, against 51,143 bales and $2,053,000 for February, 1932. Larger shipments were shown also for Belgium, Denmark, Greece and Portugal.

On the other hand shipments to Germany declined, the figures for February last being 110,507 bales valued at $4,011,000, compared with 140,980 bales and $5,372,000 for February, 1932. Shipments to the United Kingdom amounted to 107,180 bales valued at $3,915,000, compared with 142,354 bales and $5,450,000 for February, 1932. Exports to China amounted to 28,324 bales valued at $1,040,000, against 71,388 bales valued at $2,646,000 for February, 1932, and exports to Japan amounted to 90,625 bales and $3,250,000, compared with 395,056 bales and $15,150,000 in February, 1932. Smaller shipments were also shown for Spain, Canada and India.

Gold Exports Jump.

One of the most interesting developments in the month's trade occurred in the international movement of gold to and from the United States. After remaining at less than $1,000,000 for the preceding five months, exports of gold from the United States jumped in February to $21,521,000. This, in the opinion of the department's financial exports, was a direct outcome of the spread of banking difficulties throughout the country and represented in large part the withdrawal by foreign countries of gold previously earmarked for their account.

RAYBURN SEEKS TO REPEAL RAIL RECAPTURE LAW

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—Chairman Rayburn of the house interstate commerce committee today introduced legislation to repeal the railroad recapture clause, regulate railroad holding companies, consolidate the power and radio commissions, and regulate interstate motor truck transportation. He told newspapermen he would seek immediate approval by his committee of the holding company and recapture bills.

"Both have long been under consideration and extensive hearings have been held," Rayburn said. "As soon as they are out of committee I hope to start hearings on the regulation of interstate truck transportation and creation of a commission on communications and power."

Rayburn's bill would combine the radio and power commission into the new commission and transfer to it the interstate commerce commission's present authority over telephone and other kinds of communication. His holding company proposal would extend the interstate commerce commission's regulatory powers to include railroad holding companies.

Cudahy Packing Declares Common, Pfd. Dividends

Directors of the Cudahy Packing company yesterday declared semi-annual dividends of 3 per cent on the 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 3½ per cent on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, both payable May 1 to stock of record April 20. In addition, a quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share on the common stock [$50 par], payable April 15 to stock of record April 5, was declared.

BANK ACCEPTANCE INTEREST RATES CUT ONE-HALF PCT. MORE

Rates on bankers acceptances were reduced ½ of one per cent yesterday. This was the second reduction since the conclusion of the bank holiday. Just prior to the holiday the rates for acceptances advanced to the highest figure in weeks.

A leading dealer in acceptances stated yesterday that there is a strong demand from banks throughout the middle west along with the rest of the country for this type of paper. The supply, however, is limited.

Yesterday's reductions were taken to indicate the increasing confidence of the banks in the nation's financial situation. Although prime acceptances are rated next to government issues as first rate securities, when the banking crisis developed banks unloaded them. With the restoration of normal conditions banks again are seeking to include them in their portfolios.

Rates Ease in New York.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Rates on bankers' acceptances were reduced ½ of one per cent today on all maturities, bringing them closer in with open market money rates. The change, made in two cuts of ¼ of one per cent each, was unusually wide for this credit medium.

The easing trend in credit was also reflected in a 3½ per cent official rate for call money, after renewals at 4 per cent, compared with yesterday's renewal rate of 5 per cent.

BAN ON POLICY LOANS IN ILLINOIS BARS DIVIDENDS

In his order declaring a partial moratorium on policy loans for Illinois insurance companies, Ernest Palmer, state superintendent of insurance, stated that during the stay of policy loan payments no company having capital stock shall declare or pay any dividends to stockholders. He made no mention of the course with respect to dividends to policyholders.

Modify New York Ruling.

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Three modifications of the emergency ban on granting policy loans or cash surrender values by insurance companies operating in New York state were announced today by George S. Van Schaick, superintendent of insurance.

Loans and cash values may be allowed when the policyholder can satisfy the insurance company that the money is needed to meet pay rolls, when the application was made prior to March 10 and commitments of the policyholder may suffer if the cash is not forthcoming. They may also be allowed where regulations of the federal government or any other state conflict with the New York rules.

FIVE SOUTHERN ROADS ALLOWED TO LOWER FARES

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—Five railroads in the south today were authorized by the interstate commerce commission to lower passenger fares over their lines.

The Louisville and Nashville, the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, the Mobile and Ohio, the Atlanta and West Point, and the Western Railway of Alabama were authorized to charge 2 cents per mile for passengers riding in coaches and 3 cents for sleeping and parlor cars. The fares are an experiment and are to be in effect for six months after the change from 3.6 cents per mile is made.

The Pullman surcharge, which has been in effect for many years, was abolished during the period of the 3 cent sleeping and parlor car rate.

The move for the reduction was started by the Louisville and Nashville, which controls the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and runs some of its trains over the other roads.

NEWSPAPERS CALMED UNITED STATES, SAYS FAMOUS ECONOMIST

Berkeley, Cal., March 17.—(AP)—Expressing the belief that the country had reached "the bottom of the economic curve," Dr. Paul F. Cadman, noted economist of the University of California, said today the newspapers had "made possible the feeling of confidence which upheld the people during the bank holiday."

"The newspapers devoted themselves to setting forth the facts in calm, clear fashion, which helped very materially to prevent panic," said Dr. Cadman.

"Not only the general public but also the bankers in many instances had to rely on the newspapers to bring them exact information as to what was going on in Washington."

HOARDERS MAKE DEADLINE RUSH TO TURN IN GOLD

Chicago Banks Get $10,000,000 More.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Another 10 million dollars in gold and gold certificates was turned in to the Federal Reserve bank and other banks in Chicago yesterday by hoarders in a last minute rush to escape penalties which go into effect today.

The day's receipts boosted the total received since the anti-hoarding campaign began to more than 80 million dollars for the Chicago reserve district. Names of persons who are known to have drawn gold since Feb. 1 and had not returned it by yesterday are to be turned over to the secretary of treasury, who has power to invoke penalties. Regulations have yet to be drawn as to what is considered hoarding.

The last minute gold rush was the feature of the day's banking news. All classes appeared to surrender their holdings. One of the largest transfers was made by a United States army major, who appeared in uniform to turn over $140,000 in 1, 5, and 10 thousand dollar gold certificates.

17 More Banks to Open.

Steadily cutting down the list of banks, whose permits to reopen have been delayed, State Auditor Barrett last night issued permits to eighteen more state banks to reopen without restrictions this morning.

For the most part, the eighteen were in smaller downstate communities, but included the Central Trust and Savings bank of Sterling, the State Bank of St. Charles, and Belleville Bank and Trust company. Others on the list are:

STILLMAN VALLEY—Stillman Valley bank.
MILFORD—Citizens State Bank of Milford.
MOUNT ZION—Mount Zion State bank.
MORTON—The Morton State bank.
DONGOLA—The First State Bank of Dongola.
IPAVA—Ipava State bank.
ROODHOUSE—Roodhouse bank.
DUNLAP—Dunlap State bank.
LINCOLN—The Lincoln State bank.
NEW ATHENS—State Bank of New Athens.
STEELEVILLE—State Bank of Steeleville.
HOYLETON—Hoyleton State and Savings bank.
WATERLOO—State Bank of Waterloo.
VIRGIL—Virgil State bank.

Twenty more Illinois banks opened for unrestricted business yesterday. Three were in the Chicago suburban area, the Avenue State bank, Oak Park; the Cicero State bank, Cicero, and the Wheaton Trust and Savings bank, Wheaton. Favorable reports pere made by the banks on their first day's business.

Licenses to reopen were issued during the day to two reserve member banks in Wisconsin and one in Iowa. The banks were:

State Bank of Kewanee, Kewanee, Wis.
Badger State bank, Milwaukee.
Citizen National bank, Council Bluffs, Ia.

Waukegan Bank Restricted.

The First National bank of Waukegan opened on a restricted basis. The bank has applied for the appointment of a conservator, as provided by the emergency banking bill enacted by congress. The Waukegan bank is the only bank in the state operating on a restricted basis. A conservator is expected to be named soon.

The bank is permitted to accept new deposits in currency, silver and gold, to accept checks on other banks subject to collection, and to make change. New deposits will be kept in a separate fund and are guaranteed by the federal government. This type of deposits has been nicknamed "cash box deposits."

The City National Bank and Trust company of Evanston announced yesterday that it had applied for a conservator and expected to reopen shortly on a restricted basis.

Notice was sent by the Chicago reserve bank yesterday to exporters in this district asking for complete reports on their holdings of foreign exchange.

TREASURY GETS GOLD LISTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—As the deadline for private holding of gold was reached tonight federal reserve banks were turning in to the reserve board lists of all large gold withdrawals in their districts.

But what the penalty is to be for violation of the anti-hoarding edict contained in the emergency banking act treasury officials refrained from saying.

Showered with returning gold and deluged with pleas for leniency and extensions, the treasury, it appears, is going to be temporarily content to keep silent. Until Wednesday night approximately 327 millions in gold has been turned in, and it is expected that so long as the influx continues officials will be slow about laying down the law.

A great rush to get gold back into the banks went on today, according to reports received here, but appeals for more time were also coming in, particularly from wealthy persons away from home and unable to empty their safety deposit boxes.

Under the emergency banking act the secretary of the treasury can call in all gold in the country, and persons refusing to comply are subject to a fine of double the amount of gold held.

U.S. Gains $1,127,000 Gold from Foreign Nations

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Today's gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve bank showed that $1,000,000 in metal had been released from earmark. There was also an importation of $127,000 from Peru, so that the net gain to the country's gold stocks totaled $1,127,000 for the day.

Railways Put Beer Revenue at 100 Million

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The return of beer to consumption in the United States offers the railroads a potential increase in their annual revenue in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, according to a recent estimate made by Owen T. Cull, general freight agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad.

If the beer drinkers consume as much of the beverage as they did in 1917 the railroads should profit to the tune of $75,000,000 in the transportation of beer, the raw material, and other supplies, Mr. Cull estimates. Further, he states, passage of the beer bill is expected to be followed by immediate construction which would cost around $300,000,000. Of this, he says, the roads might reasonably expect to get 10 per cent, or $30,000,000, in the transportation of building materials and other supplies.

Based on Milwaukee Traffic.

Should the consumption of beer amount to an estimated production of 40,000,000 barrels a year instead of the higher 1917 figure, the profit to the roads would approximate $80,000,000 a year, Mr. Cull says.

Mr. Cull bases a part of his estimate on the experience of his road prior to prohibition in handling Milwaukee beer. He does not have the figures of the North Western and the Soo line, which also serve Milwaukee.

In 1917 Mr. Cull estimates that his road carried the following amounts of beer annually from these breweries: Pabst, Schlitz, and Blatz, a total of 24,302 cars; Miller, 5,000 cars, and the Jung and Gettelman companies close to 3,000. Altogether the road handled approximately 31,000 cars of beer annually from Milwaukee breweries, or about 100 cars a day for each working day.

Supplies Furnish Much Traffic.

Mr. Cull says that for every car of beer outbound there were about 2 cars inbound. The inbound cars carried empty bottles and kegs, and the ingredients going into the brewing of beer. Thus about 90,000 cars were used annually by the Milwaukee road to handle the beer business of the Milwaukee breweries, or about 300 cars a day.

The Milwaukee road has no estimate of the beer business handled from other centers such as Chicago, which had 45 breweries, and Minneapolis and St. Paul, with three large ones. Mr. Cull said that practically every good sized town in the country had its brewery, and while many of these plants did not ship much of their product, all had to import large quantities of supplies.

Max Epstein, president of the General American Tank Car corporation, recently estimated that his company would put 1,000 tank cars into service carrying beer if the Volstead act is modified. He said that use of tank cars to transport beer has been successful in Canada.

S. B. COLGATE IS MADE PRESIDENT OF SOAP FIRM

New York, March 17.—(AP)—S. Bayard Colgate today was elected president of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet corporation to succeed C. B. Pearce, who was named chairman of the board. Colgate formerly was a member of the executive committee. A. W. Peet, former chairman, was made honorary chairman.

Colgate's election was interpreted in Wall street quarters as an indication of a more active part in the company's management by the Colgate interests. It was also suggested that the Colgate interests would succeed the Chicago group as the dominant factor in the company.

Colgate's office is in New York, but it was understood that he will soon move to Chicago to join the company's headquarters. Other officers elected follow: F. N. Dalton, E. Little, C. S. Dewey, and R. B. Colgate, vice presidents; A. J. Lansing, secretary, and L. C. Proesch, treasurer.

CHRYSLER CALLS PRESENT TIME OF OPPORTUNITY

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Walter P. Chrysler, automobile manufacturer, said today in a letter sent to his employés, dealers, and distributors that the present was "a time of unusual opportunity."

"Every one," he asserted, "has been affected by what this country has just gone through. All of us have had to make sacrifices, to economize, to work harder for what we get, yet I believe there never was a time like the present when intelligent effort, hard work, economy in personal, business, and public affairs, and a courageous spirit would bring greater individual rewards to those who have the vision and determination to go ahead."

Helped 'Bail Out' N. Y. in Crisis.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

While Detroit, Cleveland and other cities, including New York, are working out plans for the reorganization of important banks that failed to open their doors, Chicago has quietly resumed business with banks representing approximately 99 per cent of its total banking resources released for normal business with no restrictions.

To those who were close to the picture this post moratorium record has occasioned no surprise. The real powers in Chicago banking who convened daily at the Chicago clearing house or the federal reserve bank knew that with the working out of the national situation Chicago would lead all the rest.

For two weeks before it reached the big money centers—New York and Chicago—these men watched the conflagration spread from state to state. One loop bank president kept on his desk a map of the United States on which the "moratorium" states were painted black and the others left white. On the night of Friday, March 3, the day before the declaration of the national moratorium, the states of New York and Illinois loomed like white islands on a sea of black.

In the mad fortnight that intervened between the closing of Michigan banks and the national moratorium, Chicago banks repeatedly demonstrated their superiority. Their condition was such that not once but frequently they were able to come to the rescue of the New York banks.

Chicago Helped New York.

New York in the last few days immediately preceding the national bank holiday were so sorely pressed that the New York federal reserve bank had to borrow money from inland reserve banks, mostly Chicago.

Statistics since published by the federal reserve board show that the New York reserve bank borrowed 210 millions, of which 150 millions was supplied by the Chicago reserve bank, 35 millions by Cleveland, 20 by Boston and 15 by St. Louis.

That was direct aid, but Chicago was helping New York in other ways, by buying government bonds, for example.

For more than a year the New York federal reserve bank had been going in for the purchase of government bonds in a big way. When the bank troubles came along in February both the New York federal reserve bank and the New York member banks were loaded up with such bonds. They discovered that although government bonds may be highly liquid securities if you don't have too many of them, they aren't so liquid when you're loaded down with them and nobody's buying.

N. Y. Loaded with Bonds.

The vast amount of government securities held by the New York reserve bank was the result of the reserve board's so-called "open market policy" which had been adhered to for more than a year.

The Chicago reserve bank held comparatively few "governments." Chicago banks long had been denouncing the policy of loading up the reserve banks with such securities.

Here is the reserve board's own record of the total amount of U. S. government bonds held by each of the reserve banks during the three critical weeks:

Week ending.	Chicago.	New York.
Feb. 28	351,073,000	620,411,000
Mar. 8	415,394,000	515,411,000

Helped by Buying Bills.

The Chicago reserve bank was also indirectly assisting the New York reserve bank by buying bills in the open market while the New York institution was selling them. In the week ending March 8 the Chicago bank increased its holding of such bills from 85 millions to 98 millions while the New York bank reduced its holdings from 89 millions to 79 millions.

Chicago was able to come to the front for New York because of the excellent condition of Chicago member banks. Chicago member banks maintained excess reserves with the "fed" long after the excess reserves of New York member banks had been used up. Also during the last two weeks of February Chicago member banks increased their borrowings from the reserve bank only from 5 millions to 24 millions, while in the same period New York banks increased their borrowings from 9 millions to 217 millions.

APPLETON AND CENTURY BOOK FIRMS MERGED

New York, March 17.—(AP)—D. Appleton & Co. and the Century company, two of the nation's oldest publishing houses, are being merged under the name of D. Appleton-Century company.

The announcement was made today by John W. Hiltman, president of D. Appleton, who will be chairman of the board of the new concern. W. Morgan Shuster of Century will be president. The merger is being effected by a stockholders' committee.

D. Appleton was founded in 1825 and the Century company in 1870. Roger Bleecker Jewett of Appleton will be head of the editorial department and Dana H. Ferrin of Century head of the educational book department.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—Federal government issues fared best in today's bond market. This portion of the gilt edged section forged ahead for further gains running up to ½ point, while the remainder of the list held steady. Buyers generally showed a hesitancy to increase their holdings in view of the extreme price markups in the last two sessions.

The new 4 per cent and 4½ per cent certificate issues climbed rapidly to premiums of 25-32 and 14-32, respectively.

Money Ease Brings Buying.

Buyers of treasury securities took their cue from further ease in the money market, as evidenced by cuts of one-half of 1 per cent in bill rates to 3⅛ per cent. With money more easily obtainable the street was quick to sense a golden opportunity to get in on a new treasury offering. Growing prospects of a balanced budget furnished another reason for the popularity of federal government obligations.

Marked subsidence of trading activity in corporation bonds was evidence that the first bloom of extreme speculative activity has worn off and that trading henceforth will be on a more selective basis.

Speculative Rails Up.

Speculative bonds, chiefly rails, in which dealers and traders yesterday reaccumulated positions which were cleaned out prior to the banking holiday, were lower in early trades, but by and large gave a good account of themselves.

In high grade bonds there was relatively active trading. Bonds of Consolidated Gas of New York, American Telephone, and New York Gas, Electric Light, Heat and Power changed hands in good volume, though price movements lacked uniformity.

A few bonds scored gains of up to 5 points, comparable with advances in yesterday's hectic market. Such gains today were in Interborough Rapid Transit 7s, due this year, and issues of Union Pacific.

Foreign bonds, most of all, showed inability to retain gains of earlier this week. German issues eased with unsettlement caused by poor trade figures and the strained European political situation.

Liggett & Myers.

Please give me information on Liggett & Myers Tobacco company stock. —Miss P. M.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco company, the third largest in the country, has since 1918 concentrated selling efforts on Chesterfield cigarets. Consistent and extensive nation-wide advertising has placed this grand among the leaders and has made it the company's chief revenue producer.

Other products are smoking tobaccos, plug tobacco, Fatima and Piedmont, Sunshine and Coupon cigarets [latter two 10 cent brands].

Despite decline in consumption of 15 cent brand cigarets, earnings in 1932 compared well with peak 1930 earnings. Net income was $23,075,000, or $6.85 per common and class B shares, against $23,121,000, or $6.87 per combined shares, for 1931, and $24,002,000, or $7.15 per combined shares, for 1930. Net for 1929 was $22,017,000, against $19,409,000 for 1928.

Early gains were due mainly to increased sales. Stability during 1931 and 1932 was primarily the result of maintenance of wholesale prices at $6.85 per thousand during 1932 and part of 1931, and low price of tobacco.

In the latter part of 1932 competition from 10 cent brand cigarets became serious. To combat this wholesale prices of Chesterfields were reduced to $6 a thousand on Jan. 1, 1933, and still further reduced to $5.50 on Feb. 11.

The price scale of other products was not disturbed. With the price of tobacco at present low levels and with the numerous economies put into effect they should be on a profitable basis. The sharp reduction of price for Chesterfields, however, indicates a severe drop, if not elimination, of profits from that source.

Continuing the trend of the last six years, 1932 witnessed a further improvement in current position. Current assets were $165,140,000 on Dec. 31, 1932, and current liabilities were $6,790,000. Cash and securities alone were more than $80,000,000. Working capital was $158,350,000, against $151,122,000 the year before.

Funded debt totals $27,927,000 and preferred stock $22,514,000. There are outstanding 859,856 shares of $25 par common and 2,277,083 shares of $25 par class B common. Except that the class B does not have voting power, the common and class B common shares are identical.

Aluminum Company of America.

I would appreciate your rating of Aluminum Company of America 5s, due 1952.—S. C. P.

They are regarded as sound.

CRANE CO. SEES FUTURE MAKING UP FOR THE PAST

Berryman Sure of Recovery; 1932 Loss Lower.

The Crane company yesterday reported that it operated at a loss of $7,536,868 during 1932, compared with a loss of $7,985,329—this being the second time since the incorporation of the company in 1865 that a loss was incurred. President John B. Berryman, in his annual report to stockholders, attributed the loss to the general depression, which was especially severe in the building industry.

While admitting the difficulties of the last few years, Mr. Berryman was able to find a basis for some hope in these words:

"Whether deflation has run its full course is yet to be determined, but the country has gone a long way on the road to recovery. It is inconceivable that an alert, energetic nation of 120,000,000 people, occupying the most productive country in the world, will continue to stagnate indefinitely.

Maintains Liquid Position.

"This country will, of course, emerge from this depression as from others preceding it. In the meantime we are maintaining a reduced but efficient organization, and our current position is sufficiently liquid to enable us to carry on."

The company reported current assets of $34,300,976, including $4,424,603 in cash and $4,264,609 in marketable securities. Current assets as of Dec. 31, 1931, were $44,157,724. Current liabilities were $3,397,370, compared with $4,299,832 at the close of the preceding year.

The report stated that the company discontinued a number of its activities, reduced personnel and salaries, reduced pensions and took other measures of economy which resulted in a total saving of operation costs of approximately $8,600,000 from 1931 and $15,000,000 from 1930.

Sales in 1932 were 43 per cent less than in 1931 and 66 per cent below the five year average.

Allis Chalmers Reports Loss.

The Allis Chalmers Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, yesterday reported that it operated at a loss of $2,955,042 during 1932, compared with a net profit of $1,256,431 in 1931. Sales in 1932 totaled $14,764,063, compared with $27,800,638 in 1931.

The consolidated balance sheet shows current and working assets of $28,586,548 at the end of 1932, compared with $31,739,549 at the close of 1931. Current liabilities totaled $3,355,121, compared with $4,308,965 at the end of 1931.

Expenditures on maintenance and repairs, and reserves set up for depreciation totaled $1,197,364, all of which was included in manufacturing costs.

BUSH TERMINAL DIRECTORS QUIT CONTROL FIGHT

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Developments today in the campaign of Irving T. Bush to regain control of the Bush Terminal company, of which he is chairman, were announcements of the retirement of five directors, some of whom had been associated with Bush for many years.

F. J. Lisman, a director for 31 years, in his letter of resignation to Bush, said: "Inasmuch as there is no organized group of stockholders available at this time, I would like to suggest to you that you submit to the president of the New York stock exchange a list of stockholders and ask him to select from this list an investigating committee." He urged adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, now slated for April 3, for one month.

John A. Stephens, president, whose management Bush is opposing, said he approved Lisman's suggestion for an independent stockholders' committee. Stephens has tendered his resignation, effective April 3, the scheduled date of the stockholders' meeting.

EGGS RALLY AFTER DECLINE

Butter and egg futures rallied after opening lower on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, butter closing unchanged to ½c lower, while eggs were ½c lower to ½c higher. October eggs opened off ½c and fell back another ½c on moderately active profit taking and new selling. The new buying which firmed the market late in the session was not checked by bearish storage news. For the first time in the last year, total egg holdings in the principal cities now are greater than the year ago supply. The four markets moved in 15,000 cases more than last year. Butter was under pressure early, but the distant contracts gained support later, helping the near by deliveries as well. The statistical news again was less favorable. With a surplus of holdings, the four markets took out 128,000 lbs less than last year. Sales: Butter, 51 cars; eggs, 77 cars. Deliveries: Eggs, 1 car. Prices follow:

LIVE STOCK RISE YIELDS FARMERS MORE FOR CORN

Hogs Sell Higher; Cattle and Lambs Steady.

Advances in cattle and lambs were halted yesterday, but hogs held to a higher trend, the top reaching $4.20 and the average $4.10. Recent advances in live stock have put a higher value on grain in sections of the country where large numbers of meat animals are fattened for the market.

According to farmers selling hogs here this week, the current level of prices is returning more than double the money that the grain sold for at the low time of the winter. Hog producers frequently report that they obtained 40 to 50 cents for the corn their hogs had consumed, after selling the hogs and deducting the expenses of feeding and marketing the swine.

Hogs are selling $300 per carload higher than late in December and early in January. Cattle have advanced 15 per cent in the last three weeks, adding from $150 to $175 to the value of carload lots, figuring on the basis of a full 23,000 pound carload.

Narrow Spread in Prices.

Choice 180 to 255 pound butcher hogs topped yesterday's market, while $4.15 bought 160 to 300 pound averages. The spread was about as narrow as it ever has been. The top and average prices for the day were only 10 cents.

The meager supply of 2,000 cattle sold on a generally steady basis, although hardly enough was offered to establish a full list of quotations. Good 915 pound yearlings topped at $6.75, but the trade is carrying a nominal quotation of $7.50. This price was paid in midweek, when quality was better. Most of the small supply of steers of beef merit cashed at $4.25 to $5.50.

All live stock is selling higher than a week ago. Advances in the various sections of the cattle yards range from 25 to 75 cents. Hogs are 20 to 30 cents higher, while lambs are selling mostly 50 cents above a week ago.

Lambs Hold Steady.

Salesmen balked at buyers' attempts to lower the lamb market yesterday, and finally worked prices into a fully steady position on late afternoon rounds. City butchers paid up to $5.35, while packers bought the bulk at $5.25 and below, getting heavy lambs at $5.25 to $5.50. Aged sheep and yearlings were unchanged.
